PLAN INCREASE IN POTATO VOLUME

Report of Meeting of Empire State Potato Growers Co-Operative Association, at Syracuse

With increased volume, more committees organized and the experience of its first year to work on, the Empire State Potato Growers Co-Operative Association expects to show more volume than ever to producers of potatoes and cabbage during the next selling season.

The meeting was largely given over to business. The membership fee was increased from $50 to $75. Officers and committees reported on the work of the first year and explained plans for the coming season.

Officers elected are: K. C. Livermore, Honeoye Falls, Chairman of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation Marketing Committee; E. P. Smith, Sheburne, secretary and treasurer; J. H. Bates, Weedsport, vice-president; Mr. Livormore and Mr. Smith were re-elected. Directors elected are for three years, Mr. Livormore, Mr. Smith and Datus Clark, Peru. For two years, J. A. Childs, Malone; C. M. Hennis, Gainesville; and F. E. Williams, Earlville. For one year, Mr. Bates, Fred Hencle, Baldwinville; and H. L. Freeman, Marcellus.

Agrigraphs

Sun time and ran time, All the weeds are sappy; July in the garden, Every bug is happy. Smite the weeds, swat the bugs, Treat 'em rough and scrappy; Work time in the garden, Come now, make it snappy.

Uncle Ab says: "It's a sight better to say less than you know than to know less than you say."

"A fair for farmers and not for fakers" is made possible by good exhibits from the farm and home. Are yours planned?

Is the binder all ready to run for hay? If not, the next rainy day is a good time to look it over and order what is needed.

Farm boys are glad to know that the State College advises leaving the suckers on the corn. They make more leaf area to manufacture sugar for the plant.

Mowing the weeds along the roads before they go to seed not only complies with the law, but keeps them from seeding in adjoining fields. It destroys a favorite hiding place for insects and diseases, too.

Lots of shade, proper food, and good housing are three essentials for healthy and productive pullets. Summer is not too early to plan for next year by sending to the State Agricultural College at Ithaca for the bulletin on brooder house construction it has just reprinted.

THE A. B. C. OF EATING

G is especially for Greens Which give us iron and vitamins, And for thrifty growing Garden With spinach, lettuce, kale and chard in. G, too, for Grapes with many uses, The source of Bryan's famous juices.

A Versatile Fruit.

In Forecast we read of a New York sportsman who was spending his annual "vacation" in the "Moosehead" country and who had engaged the services of an old French Canadian as his guide. The sportsman liked to ask the old man questions about the different objects that attracted his attention. Happening to notice a clump of cranberry vines on the shore of the lake, he asked the old man what they were and whether they were good to eat. "Good to eat? Well, I should say so. You take that little cranberry and stew him, she makes just as good apple sauce as prunes."

General Grant's Boyhood.

Ulysses Grant was what was called in the neighborhood of Georgetown, O., where he lived from his second year until he was sent to West Point academy, "a horsey boy." He liked horses—liked to ride and drive them and to work with them. A horsey boy was not expected to take kindly to books, and Ulysses was behind most of the boys of his age in the school at Georgetown, except only in arithmetic. Teachers at that time gave their pupils mental arithmetic before they took up the written work, and in doing the problems given the classes in mental arithmetic young Grant proved a star.

Excellent Varnish Stain.

For the oak-colored floor ingenuity will save the pocket. A tin of Japan black—such as one uses for stoves and ironwork—diluted to the requisite color and consistency with methylated spirits, gives the most beautiful oak varnish stain possible at very little cost. A floor already stained but grown shabby will revive to perfection if well washed and treated to a coat of this last-named mixture.

Electrical Hair Cutting.

There is in use in France an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. It consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be aborn the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing with a taper.

Turpentine the Pine.

Successive seasons of turpentine cause no lowering in strength or resin content of pine trees, states the forest products laboratory of Wisconsin. The crude turpentine is the result of wound stimulus, and comes only from living cells in the sap wood region of the tap bore. The heart wood, which consists of dead cells, contains no sap—Scientific American.

Light and Dark of Moon.

The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. It may be considered as covering a period of approximately four days, two days before and two days after the time of the new moon. The next of the lunar month may be called the light of the moon. These are popular names, and are not necessarily of scientific definition.

Women legs are not of the same strength. In 54 cases in a hospital the left is stronger than the right.
