ANDOVER LOSES TO SHINGLEHOUSE

Shinglehouse Took Sunday's Ball Game, at Shinglehouse, Easily by a Score of 11 to 6.

Shinglehouse, and "Bill" Perkins in particular, got sweet revenge from Bloss for the trimming he gave them last year, Sunday, when they beat the local boys by a score of 11 to 6. Blossie, much to the surprise of everyone, was wilder than a hawk issuing more free tickets in this one game than he usually does in a season's playing. Perkins, pitching for Shinglehouse, "came back" for this game in his old time style, pitching good consistent base ball thru the entire game.

The game was a good snappy one, with the exception of two innings, when in both cases, after two were out, Blossie lost control of the ball and walked three or four men and then somebody cleaned up the bases with a long hit. This happened in the 2nd and 8th innings, netting Shinglehouse 5 runs each time.

Following is the official score:

Shinglehouse		Andover

MISS SCHENKEL'S ENTERTAINMENT

The evening of readings announced for Monday, Aug. 7th, was postponed on account of the storm till the following evening, when an appreciative, if not large audience, assembled to hear Miss Esther Lois Schenkel of Niagara Falls, in an evening of selected readings. Miss Schenkel delighted her audience with a very varied program, consisting of short stories, dramatic monologues, pianolines, and boy and girl impersonations. The program was entirely different from the one given last spring, and revealed the wonderful versatility of the artist.

Mrs. Edith B. Cheeseman and Miss Reba Burrows furnished music, which was greatly appreciated. Miss Schenkel is certain of a welcome whenever she returns to Andover.

ANOTHER WRITER IN THE GAME

Wants "Plain Bill" to Get After the "Hootch" Peddlers as Well as Speed Artists

Mr. Editor:
I have been reading, for some time, with much interest, the suggestions given out by "Plain Bill" as to how to run this village government. He has certainly proved himself to be possessed of many original ideas, some of which, however, are crude. The thing that sticks in my crop, however, is that he never has mentioned a subject that needs more attention than anything he has mentioned. How about these fellows who are violating the provisions of the eighteenth amendment? It cannot be possible that "Bill" is for "personal liberty" in this "hootch" matter, while he would put the screws on the automobile enthusiasts and social evil fellows. How about paying a little attention to the doings of certain fellows who have worn a hard path up a side alley instead of using the front entrance to get the "stuff" that inebriates? He should watch the antics of others who balance themselves on steep stairways in their goings to and from "the place of hootch."

Now, "Bill," if you want to start something, go after these "hootch vendors," or else tell us how to catch them. For your own good, don't shield any offender, whether he be a speed fiend or a booze vendor.

SIC M. TIGE.

RAUFENBARTH - FULLER

The marriage of Miss Julia B. Raufenbarth and Cashier Andrew D. Fuller, both of this village, was solemnized at 11:30 Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. C. Tracy, at the parochial residence, Mrs. Porter W. Richardson, sister of the bride, acting as bridesmaid, and Earl Fuller, brother of the groom, as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raufenbarth, covers being laid for thirty-five.

Mr. Fuller is the popular cashier of the Andover State Bank, and numbers the whole community among his friends.

Miss Raufenbarth is one of our most popular young ladies. For the past few years she has taught in Lynnbrook, N. J.

After a three week's wedding trip thru Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will be at home to their many Andover friends in their newly furnished home on Church Street.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. Longwell and son, Waldo, Jr., of Elmira; Leo Raufenbarth, of Hornell; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Fuller, Earl Fuller and Miss Amelia Riley, of Wellsville, and Mrs. Donald Fuller, of Washington, D. C.

The News extends congratulations and its very best wishes.

SWAT 'EM NOW

Helena Hicks is witty and wise with adequate muscles and accurate eyes, adapted for spotting and swatting the flies. When any youth a partner picks he'd better marry Helena Hicks than almost any other six. This bird is old and bald and wary, of all strange drinking water scary, since first he heard of Typhoid Mary; but what avails his constant care when flies are swarming everywhere? When, in the good old summer time, which singers sing and rhymers rhyme, he sits at peace with all mankind with nothing much upon his mind and very little on his skin, those blamed invertebrates begin. They come from stables and from worse to boost the business of the hearse. They come from garbage heaps and such, defiling everything they touch, with germs to slay our wives and widders, our granddads and our pretty kiddies. Yea, many men have chills and itch, have glanders, pip and limbs that twitch, and many little children die, because we fail to swat the fly. Let's smite the critter for his sins, his wives, his triplets and his twins, his relatives by score and dozens, his sons-in-law and second cousins.

THE FARMERS OWN MANY MILK PLANTS

Certificates of Indebtedness Being Issued to Dairymen League Members for Funds Loaned.

Members of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc. are now receiving their certificates of indebtedness for the money they have loaned their association during the past year as a working fund, for the purchase of plants and equipment, and carrying on the work of the association. There are about 50,000 of these certificates to be mailed, amounting to a total of $4,307,918.38. The job of mailing them out will require some little time so that while many farmers in the territory already have received theirs, there are still a large number who have not. The Utica office is now hurrying the work of mailing them as fast as possible so that all the certificates will probably be in the hands of their owners by the end of the month. The Utica office requests that if any dairymen have questions they want to ask about their certificates, that they please wait until the office has had time to get all the certificates mailed.

Some idea of the extent and permanency of the operations carried on by the 72,000 dairy farmers of New York and its adjoining states through this new, world famous organization of producers, may be gained by giving a little thought to what these figures mean.

By means of this fund this army of milk producers, through the League, has been able to acquire ownership of approximately 50 milk plants in addition to about 75 which are being operated under lease. Some of these plants have been built new and are among the most modern and complete in the world. The plant at Milton, Pa., which was only recently completed, is said to be probably the most complete and efficient milk plant to be found anywhere in the United States or Europe. This plant is equipped to manufacture ice cream and all kinds of milk products, as well as to ship fluid milk. The same may be said of the fine Auburn (N. Y.) and Carthage (N. Y.) plants. Some of the other plants of this league which do not make ice cream, but which are busy making evaporated and condensed milk, are Big Flats, (N. Y.) Cooperstown (N. Y.) Fort Plain, (N. Y.), Mansfield (Pa.) Mount Upton, (N. Y.) Unedilla, (N. Y.) "All Kill, (N. Y.) Vernon, (N. Y.) Whitesville, (N. Y.). Thus a total of 125 plants under the operation of the League during the past few months, have successfully taken care of the vast supply of milk produced by its members, in spite of the opposition of some of the larger dealers and a considerable number of non-cooperative farmers.

EVERYBODY WILL BE AT THE HARVEST

Home game next Thursday afternoon.

GILES CAPLE

Mr. Giles Caple, of Andover, who for the past five years, and especially for the past two years has been in declining health and much suffering, departed this life on Monday, August 7th, 1922, aged 49 years.

He was born in Alfred, N. Y., July 31st, 1873, and has lived in the town of Andover all his life. On Jan. 30, 1897, he was united in marriage to Miss Clara Howland, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Howland, who survives him.

He was a member of the local Lodge of Maccobees, and of Andover Lodge No. 786, I. O. O. F.

Shortly before their marriage he and his bride-to-be united with the Andover Methodist Episcopal Church, where he was a faithful attendant at the services, when health permitted.

He was present at morning service only a few weeks before his death. The crisis came quickly. He was confined to his room less than three days before his death. He is survived by his wife, his son, Charles, his daughter Edna, one brother Paul Caple of Elm Valley, and one sister, Mrs. H. E. Robinson, of this village. Also by other more distant relatives.

The funeral service was held at his home, August 9th, at 2 P. M., in charge of his pastor, the Rev. W. H. Smith, who read Psalm 39 and 1 Cor. 15: 41-58, and spoke informally from 1 Cor. 15: 49. "And as we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly." Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Robinson sang "Home of the Soul" and "In the Garden."

The interment was at Valley Brook Cemetery, in charge of the local Lodge of Odd Fellows.

The total amount of these certificates mentioned above not only tells how much the farmers have loaned to their organization during the twelve months from April 1, 1921 to April 1, 1922, but also is good evidence of the faith and interest which they have in its operations and in its future possibilities. There are no stronger securities than the certificates of indebtedness of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association. They bear 6% interest, payable annually, and the principal is payable at the end of five years.

While these certificates are negotiable, dairymen are urged not to dispose of them, but to hold them in their possession and at par value. Any attempt to turn these certificates into money might result in their selling below par. The better way for farmers to do who want to realize some cash on them, is to take them to their local banks where they can be put up as collateral for loans.

Many banks have indicated their willingness to recognize these certificates as first class collateral for loans to farmers. This will undoubtedly afford considerable relief to many dairymen throughout this territory who are finding themselves hard pressed for ready cash at this particular time.

These certificates range in amounts from $1.01 to nearly $1500. For any deductions less than $1.01 a certificate is not made out but the amount is sent to the dairymen in the form of a check. The fund which these certificates represent has been accumulated during the twelve months prior to April 1, 1922 by regular monthly deductions from the milk checks. These deductions have averaged $168 per 100 pounds of milk sold per month.

A HOT GAME IS COMING

East Side vs West Side Base Ball Stars Will Contest Supremacy Harvest Home Day. Old Scores Settled.

Much interest is being manifested all over town as to the outcome of the base ball game next Thursday afternoon, between the East Side and West Side players. There has been a bone of contention sticking in the crop of a number of old fans ever since a game played several years ago. This is to be settled now for sure.

W. F. O'Connell, who learned the game way back when he "farmed it" on South Hill years ago, (so many years that Bill don't like to count them for fear some one will call him an old man) has undertaken the job of captain for the West Side players, and depend upon it, the West-siders will have some ball team ready Thursday afternoon.

Ray E. Boyd, Andover's star first baseman, will choose the East-siders. Ray knows the game from A to Z, and every man who ever held a base ball bat in his hand is besieging the able captain for a job on the East-Side team. It is said the East-siders get up at 4 o'clock every morning for a practice game, so that none of the West-siders may see how well they play.

But "Billy" Lauterborn is the fellow who is in trouble. Billy is the "Great I Am" in base ball in Andover. Every one from the ten-year-old kid on the street to Delos Remington, goes to Lauterborn for base ball counsel and advice. They know that he has traveled as a professional base ball player from coast to coast and from Canada to the Mexican border, and what "Billy" don't know about the game would make a mighty small book. Now the fans from both sides are beseeching him with fabulous sums for his support next Thursday.

REV. V. L. EGGLESTON DEAD

Word comes to the News of the death of Rev. V. L. Eggleston, at the home of his brother-in-law W. D. Ball of Ontario, California.

Death came to relieve him of his suffering at 10 o'clock, Thursday August 3rd.

The body will be cremated at his request. Mrs. Eggleston will come home to Andover for the farewell service and burial.

Mr. Eggleston has been a great sufferer. He received injuries while carrying the wounded from the battle fields of France, from which he never recovered.

The News will publish a full account of Mr. Eggleston's eventful life, as soon as possible after the burial.

LEROY L. DEMING

Mr. Leroy L. Deming was born May 15, 1844 and died at the home of Mr. David Bullard on August 2, 1922. On May 19, 1875, he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah L. Coburn, who departed this life Jan. 2 1909. He with three brothers was admitted into membership in the Andover Methodist Episcopal Church sixty-six years ago. During all these years he has lived an earnest, conscientious christian life thinking of others and living for others. He leaves to mourn his loss one son, Rutherford Deming, of Denver, Colo., one brother, John Deming of this village, two cousins, and a few distant relatives. Such, in brief, are the facts of a life singularly beautiful in its influence—a life lived wholly in Andover and vicinity.

The funeral service was held August 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Bullard, where the deceased had lived for some years past. The Rev. W. H. Smith had charge of the service, and after reading Psalm 90 and selections from the Book of Revelation, he spoke of Mr. Deming's life very briefly, giving the main facts and taking for his text 2 Cor. 4: 17-18. He went on to speak of the afflictions of this life as working out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, if we look by faith beyond the temporal to the eternal, beyond the seen to the unseen. The speaker referred to the twenty-eight years during which Mr. Deming had walked in blindness, and to the great patience with which he bore his affliction. He closed with Tennyson's poem, "Crossed the Bar."

Preceding Mr. Smith's remarks the following poem, which was composed by Mr. Leroy Deming, was read by request by Mrs. W. H. Smith.

"Though soon this house of mine may fall,
Though clay to clay soon be the call,
Though soon the grave my flesh enfold,
It has no power to hold my soul.
For He who came our souls to save
Has conquered well for us the grave,
And made the way of life so plain
That all eternal joys should gain.
If, then, far on beyond the grave
Our Christ with endless life can save,
If we have loved on earth His call
To seek in life the good of all;
And if we love His path to tread,
Who now is risen from the dead,
And know His power on earth to save,
Why should we dread the waiting grave?"

The interment took place at the Andover Cemetery. Many friends and neighbors, some of whom came from a distance, testified by their presence the high esteem and love in which Mr. Deming was held.

COTTAGE RANSACKED

Eldridge Place at the Pond Robbed Sunday Night

Last Sunday night, Claude Eldridge's cottage at the pond, was broken into and about fifty dollars worth of goods taken, consisting of candy, tobacco, soft drinks, shot gun and quite a number of tools.

That the job was done by local talent is very evident as the parties knew just where everything was and how to get at it. The entrance was made by filling the lock with a file that had been used to shut off the gas

OUR CITY WATER NEEDS ATTENTION

"Plain Bill" is Sick, Because of It. — Tells of the Many Possible Uses It May Be Put To.

Say, folks, did you know I've been sick, well I have, awful sick. I know the City Dads will sympathize with me. You see I got careless and took a drink of city water. Ain't it a wonder I am alive to tell the story. That's one thing we can put it all over any other town in New York State is our city water. It's so useful. It's gritty enough to make scouring soap or to sharpen the kitchen knife on and it has such a lovely golden color. You can use it for cream in your coffee. It may not taste like cream, but it does like cow, all right. Then it makes such good fertilizer you sprinkle your garden and watch things grow and that is probably what makes such beautiful lawns in this town. Oh we couldn't get along without our city water and if we only had something to bathe in we could drink home-brew and then we would all be perfectly happy. When this water system was built the engineers planned the water to come into the mains direct from the springs and the surplus to pass on into the reservoir and that water was not supposed to back up into the mains again except in case of a fire. If it was necessary to drill wells to supply more water. I wonder why they were not drilled near the springs or on the line southwest of the village or did the city dads know more about this business than the engineers that planned it, maybe they did, but I have my doubts.

They spent several hundred fixing up the reservoir then later another batch of city dads paid $300 for a place to drill a hole. Lord only knows how much for drilling the hole and etc. (did you ever notice how much more etc. costs now than it used to) and now it looks as though the original owner owned the place again hole and all. Where we get our water from at present I don't know but from the quality I should surmise it was drawn out of a mud hole under one corner of some cow stable.

No doubt you will be called on in the near future to vote on an appropriation for the purpose of fixing up our water system and of course we will all vote in favor of it for its something that must be done. But before we do let's have it understood that some man or company is engaged to do the job that understands their business. Don't let's hire a blacksmith to make us a set of teeth because he will do it cheaper than the dentist. We don't mind paying taxes if we get anything like value received for them. But we object to being played for a sucker. A few hundred dollars on the tax roll don't amount to much, but repeated often enough to pay for cats and dogs, and it counts up.

We don't expect any man to please everyone neither an angle nor the devil could do that. The City Fathers are all successful business men and all we ask of them is to manage the city affairs in the same spirit they do their own.

Still Hoping.
