Mr. and Mrs. Reader
When you pick up a copy of your home paper, do you ever give any thought to how it was produced or the money that is spent to print it and deliver it at your home?
The newspaper of today, no matter if 25 cents a copy was charged, would be the cheapest thing you bought.
In the first place it represents an investment in plant and equipment of many thousands of dollars.
Its editor and staff work diligently day in and day out to gather all the news and present it to you in readable fashion. It aims to keep you informed on all the news that's "fit for ink."
With the average paper, the price you pay for subscription does not cover the cost of WHITE PAPER.
Yes, the newspaper that is the cheapest thing you buy.
Think it over. Look it over. Then support your home paper. It's the best investment you can make for it brings the largest returns.

Silver Shoes Pass as Currency.
The Chinese use an ingot in the form of a woman's shoe as a basis of currency, which is determined by the weight and fineness of silver. It is expressed in many terms of the shoes are certified by a Chinese official called "Klung Ku."
Sir Boyle Outdone.
The advertising manager of an oil concern, speaking on the value of window displays, said: "A window display is an arm which reaches out to the eye of the passer-by and says 'See me! Here I am!'" — Boston Transcript.
An Ancient City.
Peking is one of the oldest cities in the world, being known to exist in the Twelfth century before Christ, but although it is of immense size, but 25 miles in circumference, much of the space within the walls is uncoupled.
Now Sand Desert.
The only sand desert to be seen in the British Isles is Culbin sands, which cover a large area in Nairn and Elgin, on the south side of the Moray Firth. Yet this country, only a few centuries ago, was rich, well-cultivated land.
Tea Drinking.
Perhaps the quietest form of tea drinking is that practiced by the savage tribe in Tartary, in Central Asia. The leaves are first boiled in salt, then seasoned with butter and salt, and then eaten.
Believed in Father.
"But, papa, why take my debt so tragically? I assure you, by hard work, strict economy, and the utmost self-denial you will succeed in clearing them off." — Muntch Simplicissimus.
Red Haired Girls More Alert.
The manager of one large exchange claims to have discovered that girls with red hair are more alert than their blond or brunette sisters, and consequently make the best telephone operators.
With the Passing of Time.
Nothing is more disappointing than a reunion of the "old gang you used to know." A good many of them are no longer the fellows they used to be, and the ones that still are don't come.
Holding Breath Health Test.
Holding your breath is to a certain extent a test of your health. Normally, adults should be able to hold this for from 40 to 50 seconds.
Life as I See It.
The man who darts ahead of an untouchable should never marry a girl who darts back.
A Thought for the Day.
Truth is the real food, but most of us starve in the midst of abundance, for want of appetite.
