

Mobilized Resources

The Federal Reserve has provided a national system so knit together that country-wide resources may work together in a national need or be mobilized to meet a local emergency too severe for local forces to cope with.

As a National Bank we are members of the Federal Reserve System and pass on to our patrons the advantages so derived.

Reportorial

"Money grows or money goes."
 —Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hotchkiss, of Rushford, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sept. 8th.
 —Word has been received by Andover relatives of the arrival of a son, Robert Boyd, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker, of Fultonville, N. Y.
 —Born to Mr. and Mrs. Caude Schoonover, of Sall Creek, Sept. 16th, a ten-pound son. Mr. and Mrs. Schoonover were former residents of Andover.
 —The 1922 automobile license plates are ready for distribution, but will not be released until December 1st. They are white lettering on a maroon background.
 —Among the recent deaths noted in local papers is that of Mrs. William Dusenbury, of Portville, N. Y. Deceased was formerly Miss Helen M. Truesdell, of Belfast.
 —Two Wellsville girls, Misses Margaret Kinney and Hilda Harris, went to Buffalo and returned on their bicycles last week, the trip of 210 miles being made in twenty-eight hours running time.
 —Mrs. M. A. Coats, of Richburg, is attending a state library meeting at Alexandria Bay, in the Thousand Islands. Mrs. Coats is one of three librarians to win this trip, the Richburg Library, of which she is librarian, being in Class A.
 —Miss Nora Riley, of Bridgeport, Conn., and six car loads of her relatives and Henry Carroll, of Los Angeles, and six car loads of his relatives motored across continent till they met at St. Paul. They were married in a tent city they pitched at Cherokee Heights.

—Farmers are busy digging their potatoes which brings a bumper crop.

—More people are looking for positions than jobs and more are after jobs than work.

—Married, at the Baptist parsonage, Tuesday evening, by the Rev. A. D. Shepard, Austin N. Woodard and Pearl Lockwood, of Hornell.

—P. H. Dougherty has returned from Boston, Mass., where he played left field in an old-timers baseball game between the old Red Sox and the old Braves. Mr. Dougherty was at bat twice making a hit and scoring a run. The game, attended by more than 20,000 people, was won by the Red Sox, score 28 to 7. — Bolivar Breeze.

—Case No. 12, in the session of Supreme Court at Belmont last week was that of the Kirkpatrick Home of Cuba, against A. B. Kenyon, of Alfred, executor for the heirs of the late Mary J. Willard, of Belmont. It appears that Mrs. Willard entered the Home at Cuba a few weeks before her death. It was during this time that she signed a contract agreeing to pay the Home $5,000 if they would keep and care for her during the remainder of her life. The deceased is claimed to have entered the Home on a two month's probation and the issue involved appears to be whether or no the probation was waived at the time the contract was signed. Judge Brown finally discharged the jury, directed the attorneys to submit briefs at a later date, and will decide the case himself.

—The death of Lillian Roeska, 18 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Roeska of Voorhies Hill is the result of the mistaken idea of life-and-its-possibilities of many young persons of the present.

—The girl had given her parents so much anxiety that she was placed in a home in Buffalo, from which she was paroled last summer, and found employment in Wellsville. Her conduct was such that her parents requested she be placed in some institution. Last week Thursday she left Wellsville, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, for Buffalo to enter the Home of the Good Shepherd, near Belmont.

—Mrs. Jones noticed that her charge was ill and a stop was made at the office of Dr. VanOrsdale in that village. The doctor discovered that the girl had taken Paris green before leaving home. She was taken to the Memorial Hospital, Wellsville, where all efforts failed to relieve her until death came last Friday evening. The price paid by this one young girl should be a warning to the many others in every town following the same deceptive path.

—A special display of Fall Millinery will be shown at the McLoughlen Millinery Parlors, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22nd and 23rd. Call and inspect them.

Nearly everybody understands that a store's advertising, if big and persistent, enables it to sell the same things more cheaply, at a smaller per-sale profit, than is possible to the store, compelled to base necessary profits on smaller volume of sales.

THE RELIGIOUS DAY SCHOOL BEGINS ITS WORK

The Interdenominational Religious Day School opened auspiciously Thursday, Sept. 14th, with an attendance of 113. These were grouped in five classes as follows: Group I, Grades 1 and 2, Mrs. John Lever, teacher, 24; Group II, Grades 3 and 4, Pastor W. L. Greene, teacher, 22; Group III, Grades 5 and 6, Mrs. C. H. Watson, teacher, 16; Group IV, Grades 7 and 8, Pastor W. H. Smith, teacher, 17; Group V, High School, Pastor R. E. MacGowan, teacher, 34. Others were enrolled, but were absent for the day. Others desiring to attend may do so after securing permit for dismissal from the public school.

Groups I and II met in the Presbyterian Church in adjoining rooms where Bible stories, songs, hand work, games and class conversation kept these groups alert and actively interested. Groups III, IV, and V met in the Methodist Church and had their opening devotional services together, led by Pastors Smith and MacGowan, after which the groups adjourned to separate nearby rooms where the introductory lessons of the several courses were considered.

The reverent attitude and the earnest enthusiasm of pupils and teachers give promise of a successful year's work, and Andover is to be congratulated on having such a school and on falling in line with a movement which is becoming nationwide and which expressed the oneness of our essential Christian faith and the growing conviction that no education is complete which neglects the moral and spiritual, and which recognizes the value of the Bible and Christian ideals in shaping life and character for the largest usefulness and service. It is to be hoped that all the children and young people of our community may improve these opportunities and find a place in some one of our church schools, and that all parents may give every encouragement to their children to attend and co-operate with these church schools for the accomplishment of their worthy purpose.
