Any brainless nut can tell a lie, but only a wise man can slide out of it without getting caught.

Many a gem of wisdom comes from the lips of a fool. But we are not referring to any one in this community.

Some people go to church to make friends, some to be seen, and a few to hear the preacher. But every little helps.

Yes, little William, when you reach the point where you "know it all" you will still have much to learn from the fool.

Editors as a rule have very little to say of themselves. But that is probably because their critics have left nothing unsaid.

Not all of the wisdom of this country abides under the hat of any one man, but it is difficult to convince some people of this fact.

Every man is born free in this country, but some do not long remain so after marriage.

You Hold the Proof in Your Hand

Quality of work, its intelligent execution, its up-to-dateness in type styles, its all around workmanship and proper printing, may be judged from the appearance of the newspaper turned out by a shop. No Comment is needed to call your attention to the obvious conclusion that work from The News office will possess the desirable features that go to make "good printing." The paper in your hands is an outspoken and convincing solicitor for the printing department maintained by this establishment. Your better judgment tells you to come to this office when you need printing. The work you get is "just a little better than it needs to be."
