AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

HAS the United States Government been duped and tricked into committing an act of folly?

Our government was prompt in the disbanding of its great army and the scrapping of its navy.

The army has vanished, and but a shell remains.

The navy is sadly depleted and most of its teeth have been drawn.

Munitions have disappeared, and the spirit of patriotism has waned.

Our means of adequate defense against sudden attack no longer exist.

Now comes the startling information that Washington has abruptly called a halt in the wrecking of our fighting ships.

Other nations have ignored their agreements and have done no real scrapping of ships at all.

At the time of the Washington conference many writers and others warned the government against placing implicit faith in the pacific intentions of governments across the water.

Present facts would indicate that their warning was well timed, but quite in vain.

What next?

IT IS to be hoped that peace of the lasting kind will eventually be restored in the far East.

It is mandatory that American citizens in the troubled area be protected, and removed if advisable, and the entire navy should be employed for this purpose if necessary.

American for native-born or naturalized Americans, and no foreign entanglements.

That is good enough for us.

If a merchant, or a banker, or a farmer, or an editor becomes involved in a row with his employees and has to close down his business for weeks or months, he accepts his loss as a man should.

The coal operators, however, are not of this class. They are saddling their loss onto the public in the shape of enormously increased prices of coal, and are profiteering in a conscienceless and shameless manner.

And since Washington appears unwilling to perform its duty, the public becomes the goat and pays its pound of flesh.

Don't insist upon keeping your light under a bushel. It may be putting a perfectly good bushel to profligate waste.

At any rate, Germany will either come back or stay back.

Richard Lloyd Jones tells How To Play The Game

IN the closing game of a minor league two teams were contending for the pennant. The bleachers were crowded with rival fans. The score was 5 to 4. The team at bats was four. The last half of the 9th inning was in play. There were two out, three men on bases, their best batter up.

summer they had battled. Temptation spurred him but in the nobler sober second thought, conscience triumphed and HE PLAYED THE GAME ON THE SQUARE. Victory was turned into defeat. But only for the moment. The hush that came over the grandstand as they comprehended the act first broke into cheers for the real winners, and then, the finer conscience and the true sportsmanship that the player had expressed possessed his disappointed rooters. They found that VICTORY was not wrapped up in the pennant. The pennant at best was but a rag of a thing. The real victory was in playing the game on the square. And both the contending fans broke out in a cheer such as few diamond heroes have ever heard.
