

SIGN-BOARDS ON THE UP-ROAD

Hamilton B. Williams

Forty years ago Thomas Edison released the captivity of ages in his gift to the world of workers—the electric generator. That moment was indeed charged with destiny. The modern spirit of industry, like a genius, rose from the flying wheel to look out over a conquered world. The whirr of wheels, the roar of turbines, the wind in the wires, the crackling spark left its sweet song to the engineer who is God... as sweet as the song of free and energizing souls. There is no victory over anything except freedom... which is power in action. It is the design of the Engineer that men build houses and it is the will that these houses be made by the magic of love dwellings for the divine soul. A soul that temples God makes the earthly place a shrine of glory. Let God or a God-filled soul think—and virtue goes forth. Let God or a God-filled soul speak and terrible forces are loosed. Let God or a God-filled soul come into relation—and Friendship sings its kindness and sympathy. Love is the magic that peoples the universe with the True, the Good, the Beautiful—for these abide where Love is and no where else. The vision before the citizens of the beloved community of God—and vision is the reward of citizenship—shows a co-ordination of the forces of the universe. Natural and spiritual are childish devices. There is no misunderstanding in the minds of clean thinkers... no possible antagonism between the House and the Soul of the House. The right to the universe comes as a result of consciousness of the universe. A pygmy mind sees every thing forethoughted, without perspective, without reason. A free soul knows he has the right to be the friend of God when his vision shows a place to labor with the eternal. The truth, says Jesus, sets one free. It is the freedom of the highroads that gives the keys to God's counsel, the wide ranges of vast disciplines. One is conscious of his divinity in the consciousness of his obligation to do the will of God. Crawling worms? no—we are built of God-stuff... if it is our necessity, our privilege to perform a God-like function in our existence. The Love-consciousness is the power by which one shall be able to become forever citizens of the universe. A modern editor left an inspiration to the art of living. We have learned (he says) how to excel the birds in flying. We talk thru the air, make pictures reproduce the life-stories of men and women. Upon a wax disc we hear the singers singing... we have delved into the mysteries of elements and atoms. We know a very great deal about the earth... but as a race we have not learned how to live in such a fashion as to do unto others and we all know this famous crystal is philosophy... To learn to love is to be a citizen of the Home-Town of God. He loves with all the energy of His infinitude of understanding. That makes Him God. The same power only will bring us into the bright land of a kingdom of comrades. The editor quotes what some brave soul challenges God to do by affirming that this is certainly true... that the Christianizing of industry is God's next great adventure. The God of the Universe has a greater adventure in art—the development of a race big enough to be worth living forever. If we have the stuff in us, God will bring it out. We keep God by learning how to live. This is accomplished when we know the Good, the True, the Beautiful.
