

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

South Hill

Nov. 22. — Winter has turned that corner, and is giving us a real sample of what is in store. Miss May Dean is home from Lorain, Ohio, for a visit at her home here. Herman Dean has purchased the Harrington Farm on Voorhees Hill, and is now in possession of the same. Dan Appier and family motored to Hornell Saturday. On their return Mrs. Appier and son remained at the McAndrew home in Andover until Sunday evening. Leonard Dean, of Pingrey Hill, is working for Ed. Lynch. Louis Dean was the guest of Hornell friends over Sunday. Frank Graves, of Andover, has our telephone line now in hand, so we hope soon to have better communication with central office. Garvin Bro's. of Andover have been buying cattle on the hill this week.

Voorhees Hill

Why Not Beautify Your Dining Room With a New Suite of Furniture

Whether you plan to entertain relatives and friends or not, you will want your Dining Room to look its best for Thanksgiving and after. For following Thanksgiving there will be many other entertaining occasions in which the Dining Room will play a major role—Christmas, New Years, and all the in-between events.

The Babcock Store by virtue of a very unusual selection in Dining Room Suites, is in a position to render a really helpful service to those who wish to furnish or refurnish and beautify their dining room.

We Mention Two Especially Distinctive Dining Room Suites

At $265.00

A 9-piece suite in the graceful Louis style that is so well adapted to the new oblong-shape table—of a very fine, selected walnut, with inlays of lighter wood; 60-inch buffet, handsome china closet, chairs upholstered in blue leather.

At $325.00

A dining room suite of Italian design so unusual and interesting that it must be seen to be appreciated. Of antique walnut with birch walnut inlay. Suite consists of table, buffet, china and chairs, upholstered in brown hair cloth.
