

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

South Hill

Dec. 13. — With farms for sale and for rent on our hill, some changes are scheduled for the coming spring. Mr. Works and family, of Andover, have moved onto the Tom McAndrew farm.

Mrs. Appier and son, Richard, spent Sunday and Sunday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. McAndrew, of Andover.

Mrs. Eliza Doran and daughter, Mary, of Andover, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean.

Michael Dougherty, of Andover, was doing business on his farm, Monday.

E. J. Atwood's barn on his lease property here, burned down in the very early hours of Sunday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, as it was always locked, being used as a storage for tools and oil well accessories, and had not been visited since early Saturday morning. By the burning of the hen house also, Mr. Redcliff lost a nice pen of 37 hens.

Our winter is gradually "getting there," Wednesday being a stiff one especially where fuel is a scarcity.

Cobb District

Mrs. Mac Dean and son, Charles, spent the week-end with relatives at Hornell.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dodge and son Raymond, visited at Henry Sweet's, Tuesday.

Everett Clarke is working for his cousin, La Frons Clarke, at Fulmer Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Baldwin, also Mrs. Emma Baldwin, were Wellsville visitors, Saturday.

Mrs. John Ordway called on Mrs. Dalton Shelley, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCormick and son, Robert, also Raymond McCormick and Thos. O'Hagan spent Friday at Jos. McDonough's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins accompanied Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hann to Hornell, Sunday. They were callers at the Bethesda Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Dean and Mrs. Henry Eggert motored to Wellsville, Monday to shop.

Francis Barnett, of Andover, was a business caller here Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Sweet and family were guests of relatives at Wellsville, Saturday and Sunday.

This radio craze is something of a nuisance, but it has its advantages, just as well. A fellow can lay in bed Sunday morning and listen to a sermon a thousand miles away — or he can not without fear of detection.

Every man has a place where brains should be. Sometimes they are there.

Shovel Hollow News

Miss Louise Will and Dr. O'Donnell's two children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Will and family for Thanksgiving dinner.

Miss Marion Doane was calling on Miss Ada Mitchell from Wednesday until Sunday.

Misses Minnie and Lottie Slocum were calling on their sister, Mrs. Leonard Reisman, also relatives in Hornell, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ada and John Mitchell took Marion Doane to the train on her way to her home in Hornell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Will, son Johnnie, and daughter, Lena, were in Andover Sunday.

Miss Ada Mitchell was on the sick list and couldn't attend school Monday.

Mrs. Elmer Greene and sister, Mrs. Mary Crittenden, were calling on Mrs. Frank Slocum, Monday.

Miss Lottie Slocum was calling on Mrs. John Will, Monday.

William Slocum was the guest of Mrs. Johnnie Mitchell, Monday noon.

Elwin Wheaton is working for Earley, in the woods.

J. D. Hawkins, the Watkins agent, was thru this locality Tuesday.

Francis Guinn was in this vicinity, Thursday.

Frank Slocum and John Manroe were in Andover Thursday.

Miss Louise Will returned to her home Friday, after working some time for Mrs. C. W. O'Donnell.

The auction for Frank Slocum, Friday, was not very successful.

Mrs. Hattie Sheron, of Hornell, was calling on her sister, Mrs. Frank Slocum, Friday.

Mrs. Leonard Reisman and daughter, Olive, were calling on her mother, Mrs. Frank Slocum, Friday.

The perfect spellers for the week ending Dec. 4th were: Francis Guinn, Mildred Campbell, James Mitchell, Lottie Slocum, Vincent Mitchell and Adrian Trowbridge.

Mrs. James Mitchell went to the St. James Hospital for a serious operation one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Greene were in Andover Saturday.

The school is getting ready for Christmas.

The scandal market this week remains firm, with the public demand strong.

Our idea of a very foolish man is one who doesn't accept our own theories.

The return of the long skirts has been a sad blow to the men, but not entirely fatal. They still have imagination left.

Sunny Side

Dec. 4. Five or six hunters, joined by some of the neighbors, had much sport and excitement last week when their hounds ran down four fox. Two fox were killed Sunday and two Monday.

Joseph Greenan was a pleasant caller in Wellsville Saturday.

Miss Mary Brown, who is attending college at Buffalo, was home for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. J. F. Rockwell and son, Wilson, were visiting relatives in Olean, Monday and Tuesday.

Thomas Deery, of Allegany, was home over Sunday.

Independence

Dec. 11. — Mrs. Wallace Briggs and Wilma returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mearle Matteson passed Sunday at P. A. Clarke's.

Jack O'Dell fell from the scaffold in his barn and has been confined to the house a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Preston are spending a few days in Salamanca.

David Niles, of Olean, is a guest at W. J. McGraw's.

Mr. and Mrs. Linford Potter welcomed a son into their home, Saturday, Dec. 10th. Miss Mary Casey is caring for them.

Mrs. C. M. Crandall and Maxson are visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Green, in Alfred.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Spicer, of Whitesville, and Rene Spicer, of Hornell, spent Sunday with R. E. Spicer.

It isn't always wise to speak adversely of your neighbor. He may be just vindictive enough to tell the truth about you.

Bring the Children With You to Babcock's

TOYLAND

WHO HASN'T felt the thrill of childhood days on Christmas morning? To the child mind the ages of waiting and planning—then the day of days—and Santa—'He's here!'

St. Nicholas and Kris Kringle are the names the children of Europe know him by. But our own American kiddies recognize him only as Santa Claus. The embodiment of the true Christmas spirit is found in this mythical bringer of joys.

Grown-ups find endless joy in helping Santa play his part. The fun of decorating the tree—of placing the toys for Jean and Bobby—that's Christmas!
