Reportorial

A happy and prosperous New Year, our wish to one and all.

After next Sunday your automobile must don its 1923 license.

Mrs. Ellen Casey is recovering from a recent severe attack of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cable and family spent Christmas with Mrs. D. W. Driscoll, of Wellsville.

Word comes from Utica that Miss Maria B. Walsh is rapidly improving from her recent illness.

Many new members are joining the Christmas Club at the Andover State Bank this year. Have you enrolled?

A. P. Elder has sold his farm of 146 acres, located between Reville and Whitesville, to Grant Dibble for $4,300.

Mrs. Marion Grantier is critically ill at her home in Wellsville, having suffered a severe hemorrhage of the stomach.

Sheridan Witter is carrying his arm in a sling, the result of injuries sustained in a basket ball game at Almond a week ago.

Clifford M. Potter is the newly elected Noble Grand and De Forest W. Truman the Vice Grand of Alfred I. O. O. F. Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Clarke entertained for dinner Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Trowbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr.

Hiram V. Loder, an Erie detective, of Hornell, died very suddenly about noon Monday. Death was due to an attack of acute indigestion.

More money was paid to members of the Christmas Club at the Andover State Bank this year than in any previous year. Enroll now and share in the fund next year.

J. J. Yewdall, of Belmont, known in Andover in former years as "the stocking man," died in that village, Saturday, Dec. 16th, and was buried in Forest Hill Cemetery, Tuesday.

Andover had some very attractive holiday display windows this season, that of Burrell Williams' Grocery being one of the most artistic. It would have brought credit to a city store.

The easiest way to save money for Christmas, for vacation, for taxes, for insurance and for a Regular Bank Account is thru the Christmas Club at the Andover State Bank. Join now.

A slight scratch, inflicted by a pet cat, caused the death at Verona of George H. Cagwin, farmer, banker and well known figure in the canning industry of this state. He was 76 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, of Alfred, entertained at dinner Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson and son, Rodney, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Teasdale, of Andover, and Geo. S. Robinson and family, of Alfred.

The Christmas of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Argenti, of Hornell, was most complete. Their seventeen-year-old son, John, who had been missing from home for more than two years, returned home Christmas morning and has decided to make that city his future home.

Mrs. Jennie Flint, entertained a company of relatives and friends Wednesday evening, in honor of the 77th birthday of her father, C. C. Witter. Dainty refreshments and music furnished the evening's entertainment. The party was a surprise to Mr. Witter and an enjoyable evening to all.

Grant Clark, of Wellsville, had a most unfortunate accident on Christmas day. He was cutting wood with a buzz saw at the home of Leon Dickinson, on Brimmer Brook. He made a misstep and fell toward the saw, in doing so he threw his left hand forward directly on the saw which lacerated it so terribly that amputation above the wrist was necessary.

SILK MILL CHRISTMAS TREE

A most enjoyable time was had by the Andover Silk Mill people Saturday. Work stopped at 11 o'clock, when all gathered at the recreation rooms and found Old Santa and a Christmas tree awaiting them. A program of music had been arranged and speaking by Superintendent Faisant and Hervey Thorne, both responding with words of cheer and good will. Beautiful presents were given in recognition of ten years' service with the Andover Silk Company.

All had a most royal good time.

MRS. EMMA ADELINE SCRIBNER

Mrs. Emma Brown Scribner was born at Westfield, Pa. seventy-six years ago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brown. In 1867 she was united in marriage with Spencer S. Scribner, of Andover, whose death occurred about two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Scribner lived the greater part of their active life at their farm home on Davis Hill. A few years ago they purchased a residence on Center Street and moved to the village.

Mrs. Scribner was a woman of pleasing personality, quiet and unassuming by nature. One who has known her intimately paid her memory a fine compliment when she said "She lived a Christian life and did a lot of charity work, but was very quiet about it." For many years she had been suffering from heart disease which the last few months had become acute.

A short time prior to her death she was taken to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Randall Pease, on Elm Street, where she was tenderly cared for during the last days when pneumonia developed which caused her death.

She is survived by one brother, Milo Brown, of Canisteo, a nephew, Bert Brown, of Painted Post, who was in reality a foster son, having been taken into the Scribner home when a child of five years, where he lived until grown to manhood, and to whom she gave a mother's affection and care.

Funeral services were conducted from the Pease home, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. C. H. Whelan, pastor of the Methodist Church of which Mrs. Scribner was a member, and interment made in Valley Brook Cemetery.

ALFRED IS AFTER FIRE-BUG

University Town Begins to Fear Presence of incendiary. Frat House of College Burns.

That our neighboring town of Alfred harbors within her portals a fire-bug maniac is getting to be pretty well believed by many, especially those living at or near that village.

Another mysterious fire and one that is likely to result in an investigation that will solve the series of strange happenings there, took place Saturday night just before midnight when the Eta Phi Gamma fraternity house was badly damaged by flames. The insurance company which carried the loss has sent investigators to Alfred to solve the riddle.

For weeks these strange happenings have been going on but until now they have been of minor importance and caused many to believe they were the work of practical jokes. The affair Saturday night, however, was a serious matter and the insurance companies are going to find out what is going on in the village.

The fire was first discovered about 11:50 Saturday night and altho the firemen saved the building itself it was badly damaged and the contents suffered considerably. The building was a three-story stucco structure and was bought last summer by the fraternity which had expended considerable money in fitting up the interior.

The roof was of tile. The fire appeared to have started on the third floor near the chimney, but all effort to find the cause have failed. It was a particularly difficult fire to control owing to the fact that the flames burned underneath the tile roofing, but the firemen managed to save the structure.

The third floor was used as sleeping quarters and there was also a cistern tank and store room. The university closed on Friday night and the last man in the building left early Saturday morning. He made a careful inspection before locking up and was certain that the fire was all out and everything safe.

Consequently there was a period of many hours that the building was empty. The fire burned thru the roof in several places and in quenching them the firemen had to use a great deal of water. As a result the interior of the house was badly soaked. There is in addition loss of several hundred dollars to the individual members of the fraternity who had personal effects in their rooms on the third floor.

The mysterious affair has caused a great deal of alarm and hysteria among the residents of the village and the consensus of opinion is that the fire is the work of unknown person or persons who have been responsible for the mysterious affairs of the last few weeks.

A meeting of the Andover Dairy-mans League will be held at Macabee Hall, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, important business.
