HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

The first letter of each word is indicated by a number placed in the blank white spaces, and by referring to the list of words given below, you will find the definition. For instance, number one, horizontal gives the definition of a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space to the right. Number one vertical gives the definition for a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space below. The which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space below. The which space so that the word of a word, and no letter is placed in them. When completed, the puzzle must read both horizontally and vertically or teross and down.

The puzzle this week by Martha Wagner is conventional in design but well worth the effort in working. It might be called the "Four X" puzzle. There are one or two sticklers hidden in the seemingly easy three and four letter words but by the well-known system of filling in from all angles they most likely will work themselves out. Why don't you time yourself on this puzzle? Speed in accurate "thinking" is a valuable personal asset.

ANIMALS ARE GOOD LINGUISTS Horses and Dogs Learn and Remei ber Meaning of Words in Mora Than One Tongue.

Than One Tongue.

Can horses and dogs pick up a foreign language and still remember that of the land of their birth?

This subject was bronched by one of the speakers at the World Service exposition in Liverpool and it was declared that a British horse can recognize its own language abroad.

The experts who have been consulted agree that this is so. They emphasize the fact, however, that it is primarily the infection of the voice that the animal learns to understand when sent to a foreign country. It pays much closer and quicker attention to the tone than to the sound of the words.

Dogs, like horses, remember the sound of the language of their masters, and even after many years in a foreign land can remember the meaning of sentences.

A clear proof of some dogs' cleverness is to be found in the way they pick up several native tongues and dialects when they leave their British masters in India and Africa, in places where several languages are spoken.

Cats, on the contrary, seem incapable of picking up mere than their names in the language of the country in which they live; they do not delay in the depth of the surpression of the surpression of a comprehend-the human tongue, and a cat that does is exceptional.—Philadelphia linguirer.

Helen Baird, widow of Brooklyn, N. Y., struggled for years in feeding her family of three. Now she comes into a fortune of $2,000,000 — gold for land purchased by her grand-dad, John Baird, now dead, but 35 years ago-a poor Brooklyn policeman. Old John Baird was ashamed to tell the family he had purchased the Florida land. $A recent search for title revealed the fact, then the heirs were located. Below, the Baird children. reezezezeze

Faith after the Event

It is easy to say now that the faith of Niagara power pioneers was well justifiedthat the many millions of dollars that went into the development of Niagara power service were wisely invested.

Yet, even after the successful development of water power at the Falls, the pioneers of long distance transmission struggled for years against doubt and discouragement before their faith was also justified.

Other great problems will arise in the future, evelopment of water power is still in its infancy. There is still need for the vision of the pioneers. There is still need for faith that comes before-and not after the event.
