

THIS WEEK'S CROSS WORD PUZZLE

By MRS. JOHN E. SLAVEN

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

The first letter of each word is indicated by a number placed in the blank white spaces, and by referring to the list of words given below, you will find the definition. For instance, number one, horizontal gives the definition of a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space to the right. Number one vertical gives the definition for a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space below. The black spaces indicate the end of a word, and no letter is placed in them. When completed, the puzzle must read both horizontally and vertically or across and down.

If you are superstitious you had better let this cross-word puzzle by Mrs. John E. Slaven alone, because there are TWO big thirteen letter words to be worked out. They are 18 and 42 horizontal. If you think you are good, hop to them right off the bat. Otherwise, by working out the vertical words, you will automatically fill in the big boys—the 13teens.

Up to that time, at the thought of having thrown away his love, I had let my sentiment get the upper hand. But when I realized that he had seen the tear I hadn't meant to shed, the knowledge jerked me up to my pride, inherited from a long line of hot-headed ancestors, remained. I made myself laugh. "I'm still running after you," I explained, "but it's because I'm afraid you were seriously considering not taking me home. I've heard of girls walking home before but not—ohhh, this is funny." He turned and regarded me with puzzled brow. It was a good thing for me that the gathering twilight hid the deep hurt in my eyes. "Come on, be a sport and take me home. I know it's risking your reputation, but maybe you'll be spared as the kindly dark will cover us when we get to town." He shook his head slowly, almost smilingly as if the whole thing were beyond his power of interpretation. The drive home began. After I saw that he was determined not to speak a word and the unbroken silence had lasted for a few miles, I could stand it no longer. My nerves were on edge. "If you don't carry on a merry conversation with me, I'll be forced to sing," I said. "Go ahead," still staring fixedly at the road. My voice had been trained. I've always loved to sing. I can't remember a single day having passed when I had not, at some time during its 24 hours, burst into song. My voice, while not big, has a quality that most people pretend to like. My professor called it a nun's voice. "That's what you need," he had told me when I had missed lessons or was indifferent about my scales. "You need experience. A real lover, marriage, babies. One must live before they can express anything of beauty with a voice." "When I thought of his words now, I laughed. "I thought you were going to sing," said a voice at my side, please do," he urged. "What'll it be—Kaplin, Jazz or Musical Comedy?" "Not Jazz," he implored, "I'm sorry of my inability to be in the same innocent mood."

HIGHLIGHTS ON STATE CROPS

From New York State Dept. Farms and Markets March 24, 1925.

There was a moderate inquiry on Tuesday for fancy apples of most varieties, says the State Department of Farms & Markets. Fair to ordinary fruit, however, formed the bulk of the supply and that kind met a limited outlet. A 2 1-2 inch Greenings sold at $7.50 and A 2 3-4 inch at $8 per barrel. A 2 1-2 inch Baldwins brought $6 for best and occasionally $6.25 for fair $5.50-$6.75. Dock sales of Western New York pears in bushel basket were made at mostly $2.75.

Tone of Old-Crop Vegetables Improves. Higher prices on Tuesday were paid for good quality old-crop cabbage. Inferior stock, however, continued to be neglected. Jobbing business was transacted at $15-20 per ton. The demand for old-crop potatoes was slow but a steadier tone was evident. Supplies at the railway terminals continue liberal. Western New York No. 1 round whites sold at $1.75-2.15 per 180 pounds, depending upon quality. Onions were in lighter receipt and met with a slightly improved demand and an upward turn in prices for fancy. Ordinary yellows from Western New York sold mainly at $2.50 per 110 pound sack. Fancy Indiana onions from local cold storage warehouses realized $3.25-3.30.

Easter Market for Live Rabbits. Shippers of live rabbits are being advised by dealers that a generally good market may be expected for rabbits just prior to Easter, shipments to reach New York City, say from April 6-8. Prices, except in case of excessive supply, are generally good at Easter time. The weights mostly looked for are from four to five pounds but white baby rabbits are also wanted for gifts.

Country Veals Draggly, Excess of Small. Receipts of country-dressed veal calves are light but the market is draggly especially on the small calves which recently were in excessive supply. Choice calves closed at 17-18c a pound, fair to good 12-16c and small at 8-8c.

Live Poultry Holds Steady. Under light receipts and a fair demand the live poultry market is holding unchanged. Live fowls are selling at 30c a pound and smooth-legged chickens are at 38-40c. Stagg chickens remained at 23-24c. Young broilers are at 60c a pound. Butter and Eggs Steady, Cheese Higher. Butter is steady at 47c a pound for creamery salted 92 score. Eggs are also steady with nearby hennery white average extras at 37c a dozen. Cheese recently advanced again slightly on held stock. Whole-milk flats closed per pound as follows: Average run, fresh 23 1/2-24c; average run, held 25-26c.

Hay Market Steady, Barge Navigation Expected. The hay market has been steady under moderate receipts. There is a good demand for top grades. The first barge shipments are expected here this week. U. S. Timothy closed per ton as follows: No. 1, $25-26; No. 2, $23-24; No. 3, $20-22; Sample $15-18.

Washington, D. C., for the week ending March 23, 1925. Fruits and Vegetables. New potatoes, Florida Spaulding Rose sold higher in New York at $12.50-13 per barrel, with a slightly lower price range of $9-12 in other leading markets. Old stock generally 5-15c lower. New York $1.25 per 100 pounds in eastern markets; 80-85c f.o.b., Rochester. Northern sacked round whites 95c-1.05 carlot sales in Chicago; mostly 75-80c f.o.b. New York Baldwin
