Barrie of Ceres indicted for murder in the first degree. He pleaded not guilty and trial was set for May 11th, at an adjourned session of this term of court. Barrie had no attorney and the court appointed Attorney E. C. Hornburg of Wellsville to defend him. Barrie is now in the county jail at Belmont. Oren Galusha of Almond was indicted for selling mortgaged property. He pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for county court in May and Galusha is out on a $1,500 bail bond.

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

Major Wm. Laidlaw of Belmont Appointed County Chairman.

Following a careful study of the American boy mind by specialists, three prominent army officers who meet the requirements of the survey have been selected for each of the six citizens' camps in the second corps area to direct and supervise the training of the thousands of youths who are now being enrolled for this summer's encampment, according to an order of Major-General Charles P. Sumner, which was made public today by Major Wm. Laidlaw, Allegany county chairman of the Citizens' Military Training Camp enrollment campaign. These officers have been designated as the commanding officer, the senior instructor, and the executive officer. Between them they are to control all activities of the camp. At Plattsburg, Col. James M. Graham will be commanding officer; Maj. H. H. Fletcher, senior instructor, and Maj. R. T. Phinney executive. According to Mr. Laidlaw, popularity of the camps has now reached the highest point ever recorded in Allegany county, three applications having been received up to last night from young men of this county. He further said that these summer camps, which provide 30 days of wholesome outdoor life for young men between 17 and 24 years, have met with the enthusiastic approval of every member of the family of the boys who have attended in other years and predicted that a record would be set this year when the quota allotted to this county is filled. Necessary expenses of, railroad fare to and from camp, food, bedding and medical attention, will be paid by the government. There is no obligation for future service for students beginning the training.

AMERICAN DYES MADE FADELESS

Cotton Users Freed From Dependence on Europe by Federal Chemists.

Baltimore, April 6.—America's millions of cotton users have been definitely freed from foreign domination of fadeless dyes thru the discoveries of chemists employed in the color trade laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, it is asserted in a report by R. Norris Shreve of New York City, chairman of the division of dye chemistry of the American Chemical Society, made public at the society's meeting here. Fadeless vat dyes, the report declares are now being produced in the United States at prices below their cost in Germany. Savings aggregating millions of dollars to American cotton manufacturers have resulted from the development of cheap intermediates for dye manufacture. These intermediates, particularly necessary for vat dyes are, it is said, actually being exported to Germany. "The American manufacturers and vat dyers," says the report, "now have at their disposal cheap and pure products with which to build up the complex molecules characteristic of these colors, which give the brightest shades and the most permanent colors yet made. "The rapidly fading colors of 1916 and 1917, and the waste entailed in replacement cost for clothes and draperies have given way to sunfast, no-fade clothes and materials. These are possible because of the vat dyes, and the American vat dyes are with us because of the development of cheap aluminum chloride and phthalic anhydride."

PASTORS HOLD JOINT MEETING

Steuben and Allegany Associations Hold Session in Almond, Monday.

A rather novel event was staged in the Almond Union church Monday when the meeting of the Hornell Ministerial Association was combined with that of the Allegany county association in a union gathering with the Rev. Cecil Plumb, pastor of the Almond church as host. The Allegany county minister's association was recently formed and has its meetings every month, while the Hornell organization meets every two weeks. The dates were deftly arranged so that the two came together and thus a large scope of activities was surveyed by the conference. The conference followed the regular program of the usual conferences by opening at 10:30 with the devotions by Dean J. N. Norwood of Alfred University. The moderator or chairman of the meeting was S. P. Lester, secretary of the Allegany county Y. M. C. A. A paper was read by Rev. C. W. Flewelling, pastor of the Christian Temple of Wellsville on "The Program of Missions." Discussions on the topic followed until one o'clock when a splendid dinner was served by the ladies of the Union church. At the meeting there were ministers from almost all the pastorates in Allegany county, besides those from Hornell, numbering in all, about 40. The next of these union meetings will be May 2th, in Alfred with Dr. B. C. Davis president of Alfred University and Rev. Ehret as hosts. These conferences are proving a most successful institution as they serve as an intellectual stimulus and gives the different denominations a chance to gain knowledge from the activities of each other.

TO HOLD FIVE HEALTH CLINICS

State Department of Health Will Have Specialists Here Monday.

At the request of Teresa C. Bumpster, Allegheny County Public Health Nurse, Dr. J. J. Mahoney, District State Health Officer, has arranged with the New York State Health Department to hold five consultation clinics for diseases of the lungs at the following places: April 20th, Andover Library. April 21st, Wellsville Health Center Rooms. April 22nd, Cuba, Firemen's Hall. April 23rd, Belmont, Court House. April 24th, Bolivar, Library. Dr. Robert E. Plunkett and Dr. Lyman I. Thayer of the State Department of Health will examine patients and x-ray pictures will be taken of all suspicious cases. Anyone desiring an examination will be admitted upon presentation of a card signed by the family physician, or, if there is no family physician, by the health officer. In an effort to assist the family physician, these clinics have been held at intervals thruout the state for the past four years and large numbers of people have been referred by their doctors for consultation and x-ray. Aside from known cases of tuberculosis, patients who have been referred for examinations have been of two types: Persons presenting such symptoms as bronchitis, asthma, coughs, persistent colds, loss of weight, undue fatigue and symptoms of like character and persons, especially children, who have been in contact with cases of tuberculosis. There is no doubt that the decrease in tuberculosis is due largely to the early diagnosis and prompt treatment of beginning cases and to the close supervision and periodic re-examination of exposed children.

FIVE INDICTMENTS FOR SWINDLING

Said to Have $20,000 Best of Belmont.

Belmont, April 13.—An indictment, charging grand larceny has been returned by the grand jury in connection with the alleged swindling scheme whereby Stephen Baker of Belmont lost $20,000. Five men are named in the indictment, but only one is being made known. He is Samuel Taishoff, who is said to be in custody in Poughkeepsie on another charge. According to District-Attorney Walter N. Renwick, who presented the case to the grand jury, the men are alleged to have sold to Mr. Baker what he thought were shares of stock in the Ford Motor Company of Canada, but which turned out to be "bankers' shares" of the Ford Motor Company stock. These so-called "bankers' shares" are created by dividing each share of the regular stock into 100 units. As a result, the value of the securities Mr. Baker received for his $20,000 was about $400. He was called to New York recently to identify men who were being held in custody there, but without much success. The names of the other four defendants are not being divulged at present by District Attorney Renwick.

ANDOVER BOYS WILL RAISE POTATOES

START WORK ON BOLIVAR ROAD

Survey Party Sent From Hornell to Run Out Lines For New Road.

Wellsville, April 13.—That residents of this locality will some time realize a state road to Bolivar looks more hopeful again this year and actual preliminary work is now under way on this end of the route. A surveying party of four—from the Hornell office has been making their headquarters at Wellsville and running preliminary lines on what is known as Part 3 of the Wellsville-Bolivar road. They have been surveying from a point in Allentown near the cheese factory, coming over Norton Hill and into Wellsville by the Brimmer Brook road. As to where the road will eventually come into Wellsville is yet undecided and on the preliminary survey several routes will be run out. One line comes in on Howard street to Stevens, meeting the pavement on West Pearl street at Victory Park. Another line comes down Seneca and Chamberlain street and to Victory Park. While a third line comes straight down by the Crownner farm and follows approximately the old grade of the narrow gauge railroad, crossing the Genesee river on a new bridge to be constructed and intersecting the main highway just a little below the brick pavement on North Main street. This route is possible if the State Department takes over the reconstruction of bridges and would build a new river bridge at this point. The building of a new bridge at a point on North Main street near Coats street would prove a great advantage to persons driving from down the river to reach the Brimmer Brook road, making it much better for the voters of the town of Scio who live in and around Petrolia. Another plan proposed is the running of a line up Brimmer Brook to Petrolia and thence up thru the woods and down into the Allentown road, so as to avoid the heavy snowdrifts that are so troublesome on Norton Summit. This new line would be of great advantage in connecting up with the county highway now being built by the town of Alma, and would be practically as short a route to Bolivar. Of course all of this is preliminary work, but the resurvey was necessary, as it has been some ten years since the first lines were run. The contractor on Part 1 of the Wellsville-Bolivar road expects to complete his work this year from Bolivar to a point within a mile of Allentown. The contract for Part 2, running from this point to possibly the intersection of the Knights Creek and Norton Summit road will be let next year, 1926, and the following year will come the finish into Wellsville, providing no changes are made in the Hewitt state map. It has been a long number of years that Wellsville has been trying to get an outlet to Bolivar and it now looks as if two more years would see the work finally completed.
