"Unseen Hands Has Big Actor in Star Role"

What is considered one of the most thrilling and entertaining pictures of the new season is "Unseen Hands," with Wallace Beery as the star, which is coming to the Auditorium, Wednesday evening, April 29. This picture has many startling scenes in which Beery is the central figure. Beery is regarded as one of the screen's best known character actors and in "Unseen Hands" he has the best role of his career. Beery plays Jean Scholast, adventurer, master mind of cunning and stealth in his fight for power, affluence and the wife of another man. He stops at nothing and includes murder as an accessory that enables him to wed the woman of his heart desires.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day. C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble. Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue to use Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) until the irritation is gone. It cleanses the bladder as soon as the bowels driving out foreign matter neutralize excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes 'Getting Up Nights.' The tablets cost 20 each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio."

BIG SCENES IN "PETER PAN"

Big Famous Forty-Paramount Picturization of Barrie Play.

There is hardly a man, woman or child in the land who doesn't know and love "Peter Pan," the boy who wouldn't grow up. For the past twenty years this J. M. Barrie play has been nothing short of a sensation on the legitimate stage. It has become an institution, in fact—an institution that shows no sign of decay. Barrie, the man with the most colorful imagination of all England's writers, has put into this classic scenes which could only be hinted at in the stage production of the piece. But on the screen, it is an entirely different matter. In the Herbert Brenon production for Paramount of the Barrie masterpiece, with Betty Bronson, Ernest Torrence, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Faire, Anna May Wong and others in the all star cast, the under ground home of the Little Lost Boys, Never Never Land itself, the Indians, fairies and pirates, the Darling home dog-nurse and all have been reproduced with amazing fidelity on the screen.

"Peter Pan," which opens Saturday evening at the Auditorium Theatre is a scene for scene picturization of the story as the author wrote it. Herbert Brenon was selected to direct the picture because he was the producer of the first two fantasies the screen ever knew. Roy Pomeroy, who handled the technical end of the Cecil B. DeMille super-production, "The Ten Commandments," which stood the entire industry on end, is responsible for the many weird effects in "Peter Pan." Esther Ralston, George Ali, Mary Brian, Philippe De Lacey and Jack Murphy compete the cast of players. "Peter Pan" was adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck.

Civil War Stories Inspire Uncivil War

During the taking of some of the scenes for "Penrod and Sam," on location in Sawtelle, California, Director William Beaudine discovered that several of his young proteges, among them Ben Alexander and Joe Butterworth, were missing.

A hurried search was made and finally the kids were located, sitting among a group of Civil War veterans in the Old Soldiers' Home, listening to the thrilling tales being told by the ex-soldiers.

They had deserted, for the moment, their fascinating work, to be even more fascinated by the stories of the battles of long ago.

The martial tales of the ex-soldiers had a great effect on the kiddies, for when they resumed their work it was to take part in a boyhood war, in which Ben Alexander as Penrod leads his army against the army of Buddy Ditts, a part played by Buddy Messinger. To say that the child actors went to their mimic warfare with added zest, is putting it mildly. "Penrod and Sam" is to be played Monday evening at the Auditorium. It is a First National Attraction.

To have a son worth while, give him the best chance you can. First, good health, then education, then a good start.

Ordinary Shoes are Standardized but Feet are Not

Some women can be fitted properly in "standard measurement" footwear.

All women can secure a shoe of the correct dimensions at the ball.

Many feet are under standard measure through the arch, instep and heel. If fitted (?) in standardized footwear the results are discomfort and eventually Foot Troubles.

Slender Feet with their varying instep and heel measurements fit every part of the foot. You wear your usual size in the forepart, with the size actually required through the arch, instep and heel.

Not genuine unless they bear this label.

ANNIVERSARY SALE

1884-1925

For the 41 years of this store's activities, the "truth in advertising" has been strictly carried out. So well is this established that the response to our 41st Anniversary Sale is very flattering.

We have many times talked to you through the newspapers upon this subject, and believe that right now is a fitting time, when you are interested in the purchase of new apparel, to again bring it to your attention.

Of course you read advertising—do you always believe it as it reads, or do you dig beneath the surface and analyze the statements made—do you not often find claims that would not stand up when the surface was scratched, and many called "values" exaggerated?

The National Association of Advertising Men and Women tell us that 90 per cent. of advertising is truthful—10 per cent. outrageous—so we come to you today with a notice that our 41st Anniversary Sale continues for the balance of the week, and promise you a real saving on everything you buy, and we ask you to dig under the surface for the verification of our advertising.

Why do Railroads Interchange Freight Cars? Because every railroad sometimes has more cars than it needs—and at other times needs more cars than it has. Super-power exchanges the surplus power of neighborhood communities in almost the same way that railroads interchange surplus cars. The only cars the railroads interchange are surplus cars that otherwise would stand idle. The only power that Super-power exchanges is surplus power that otherwise would serve no useful purpose.
