WHITTAL RUGS

Are Not Subject to Wide Fluctuations in Price Common to Most American-Made Rugs

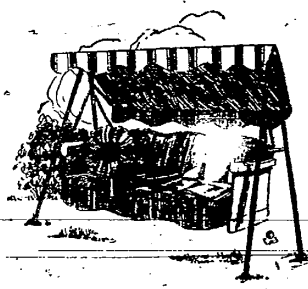

The question so often asked us by those desiring to buy rugs, "Can I save money by waiting", leads us to review prices of Whittal Rugs for the past seven seasons. Prices on 9x12 Whittal Rugs in two grades were found to be as follows:

Spring 1922	$150.00	$70.00
Fall 1922	$135.00	$68.00
Spring 1923	$155.00	$72.00
Fall 1923	$150.00	$70.00
Spring 1924	$138.75	$64.75
Fall 1924	$150.00	$70.00
Spring 1925	$150.00	$70.00

This reveals how small a difference in price really exists from season to season and explains why one may buy a Whittal Rug with perfect confidence.
NO SALE PRICES ON WHITTAL RUGS

The Whittal policy of one price to all every day in the year and in every city in the United States also assures the purchaser that a "watchful-waiting" policy is of no advantage. Special sales, cash discounts and even our twice-a-year store-wide sales never change the price of a Whittal Rug. The only exception whatsoever is our privilege at stated times to offer the public any discontinued patterns we may have in stock at a discount. The permanency of our reproductions, however, makes the discounting of a pattern in the Whittal line a rarity, and besides the average customer prefers to pay the regular price and get the choicest designs.

We therefore unqualifiedly state that A Whittal Rug Is The Gold Standard of Value In The Rug World
