When is Man Old? Washing Machine Progress. $1,000 For Each of Us. Rolling Them Down.

WHEN is a man old? A Civil-War veteran of Illinois, aged 88, is told by the judge that a man 88, "has no business to get married."

A Pennsylvania man of 91 settles property on his children, then marries a woman of 46, who says her new husband is "old in years only."

For every 100 homes in the United States there are 29 washing machines. That shows progress, and room for more progress.

The family without a washing machine, unless the washing be "sent out," proves that some woman is condemned to needless slavery.

American ladies, it appears, entertain Parisians, by wearing their stockings rolled down, showing all of the knee and part of the leg bare, below a short skirt.

Such woman would represent the United States more usefully at home in front of American wash-tubs with their sleeves rolled up instead of having their stockings rolled down in Paris.

When fish will find it hard to survive in the automobile endurance contest. One big company announced another cut in prices yesterday, making the fourth cut in a year.

A scientist says that the young people of today have become "motor car wise." By instinct they avoid automobiles and adapt themselves to traffic. Older people seem unable to learn.

Even chickens and dogs have learned something. They stay out of the road and are killed less frequently than they once were.

A plague of butterflies, causing motor engines to become overheated, by clogging the radiators, suggests a gruesome possibility.

Nature fortunately attends to these things. Even the insect plagues of Egypt sent to punish sin did not kill all Egyptians.

All former students, teachers, friends and neighbors of the Voorhees Hill school will hold an old time basket picnic at the Pine Grove, Voorhees Hill, on Labor Day.

At The Auditorium

"THE DANGEROUS COWARD" Coming to the Auditorium, Friday and Saturday Evenings, September 4-5.

"Wildcat" Rea retains his position as leader in Chaparral, a small Western town, by putting on prize fights and rodeos.

Red O'Hara, a fight trainer, drifts into Chaparral and recognizes Bob Trent as "Lightning Kid" a famous fighter. Bob tells Red he has given up fighting because two years ago—albeit fighting clean—he injured "The Weazel" another fighter, so badly that he was maimed for life.

The big fight of the season arranged by "Wildcat" is to be held between Steve Benson and the "Tulare Kid" a protegee of Wildcat's.

Red knows that his fighter must win. He knocks the Tulare Kid cold, and begs Bob to fight in his place. Bob refuses.

Into the cafe comes Conchita followed by the Weazel, who attempts to embrace her. She spurns him as a cripple, but he straightens up and tells her he has been playing Bob to wheedle money out of him. Bob sees this and happily hastens to the arena.

After a thrilling fight, Bob knocks Battling Benson out. Pandemonium reigns. His ovation nearly raises the roof.

During the fight, Wildcat and the Weazel steal the stakes which Wildcat has been holding, by substituting the bag with one filled with papers, and leaving it in the care of David McGinn, who is intent on the fight.

Old David is accused of the theft and the raging crowd is for lynching him. May rushes to her uncle. The angry men almost kill her.

Bob leaps on Silver King in pursuit of the two thieves. After a hot chase, he jumps into their car, and takes the wheel from Wildcat's hands. They fight, and Bob is thrown out of the car just before it goes over a steep embankment. Wildcat and the Weazel are killed.

Bob returns to Chaparral with the money, and he and May find happiness in their love.

Squire Burrows covets the farm of Thomas Gains and plots to obtain possession of it. Having failed to interest Gains in his offer for the farm he plans to have Silas marry Zella, his daughter. Silas is flattered at the possibility of possessing the prettiest and richest girl in the county and soon becomes engaged to her.

In order to obtain money for some new clothes he steals from his father. Johnny is suspected and cruelly punished for his brother's wrongdoing, receiving a blow that later on destroys the sight of one eye.

To the Gains' farm come two wanderers, Grandpa Schultz and his lovely little granddaughter, Anna. Gains is against taking a German on his farm but Mary succeeds in gaining his consent. Johnny and Anna fall in love.

America enters the war and Johnny goes to enlist. His mother is heartbroken, but bravely sends him forth to fight for his country.

Squire Burrows hastens the marriage of Silas and Zella so that Silas will escape conscription. The better nature of the boy triumphs, however and he enlists and sails for France.

Johnny has been rejected because of his defective vision and joins the Salvation Army. Now the old folks are all alone and Zella becomes cruel to them.

a happy family reunion, with the gentle Anna and Grandpa Schultz sharing in the great happiness.

An Editor's Blessing From a copy of the Burgen (Neb.) News. Blessed are the merchants who advertise, because they believe in it and in their business; for their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed are the country correspondents who send in their well-written items every week; for fame of their friendly neighborhood shall go far abroad in the land. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or wedding; for she shall see the details of the function and the names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who get their copy in early; for they shall occupy a warm spot in the editor's heart. Blessed are those who co-operate with the editor in his efforts in behalf of the community; for their town shall be known far and wide as a good place in which to live. Cuba Patriot.
