The flag of the country he had adopted and that had adopted him, sheltered him, fed him--the flag that he loved better than his life, was now unfurled in defense of world freedom--and he joined the ranks to fight for it. This is just one of the moments of tremendous pathos in a picture jammed with everything movie fans love! It flames with heart-searing drama--it booms with great romance--it thrills with mighty action! A tremendous spectacle of human emotions! Conceived and created by the master craftsman of the screen.

This picture is equal, if not better than the other two patriotic pictures recently shown--"Abraham Lincoln" and "America."
