JIMMIE SWEET HAS MADE HIS ESCAPE

Quit Reformatory When Sentence Would Have Expired in Three Weeks.

Jimmie Sweet, who lacked but three weeks of completing his sentence at the Huntington Reformatory, escaped from that institution last week, and is at large.

Andover officials have been warned to look out for him, and a reward of $25 is offered for his apprehension. It is confidently believed that Sweet is hiding near Andover and officers have made several visits to the home of his father, Eber Sweet, in search of the missing man. Monday night they found a bicycle which it is believed, and in fact, which his father admits is the one used by Jimmie to get to Andover on. The bicycle carries two side-patch license plates, one of which bears the No. 42, Bath, N. Y.

Diligent search and watchful waiting has so far failed to find the man. Monday's Buffalo Evening News has the following account of the escape from the reformatory:
Huntington, Pa., Sept. 27.—After being liberated from the Huntington reformatory three months ago, Charles Carter of Spring Mills, Center county, returned Saturday to call on his friend, James Sweet, of Andover, N. Y., an inmate who was working outside the institution and whose sentence would have expired in three weeks. Notwithstanding their vast disparity in size, Carter weighing 200 and Sweet 110 pounds, Sweet forced Carter to disrobe and after donning the discarded clothing himself, Carter said, made his escape to a nearby woods.
Prison officials doubted the story and arrested Carter as an accomplice.

ENJOY BANQUET

Girls of World Wide Guild, of Allegany County Meet Here.

The annual banquet of the Allegany County World Wide Guild girls was held in the Baptist church parlors, last Friday evening. A fine representation from the various Guild chapters thruout the county were present.

At seven o'clock, this merry bunch of young ladies entered the banquet room of the church parlors, where covers were laid for seventy-seven, and enjoyed a fine banquet, which was interspersed with singing and yells from the various chapters.

Following the banquet a short toast list had been prepared, which was very ably responded to. Miss Onalee Hammel of this village, acting as toastmistress.

The party then went up to the church auditorium, where Mrs. Hattie Eggleston gave a very interesting and helpful talk to the girls, which was followed by a short play under the title of "Helen's Enlistment," which was very well staged by a cast from the local chapter of the guild.

The evening was interspersed by music furnished by an orchestra which was assembled for the occasion consisting of Miss Minnie Clair, Miss Flossie Williams, Forrest Gee and Claire Backus.

MANIAC LABORER ATTEMPTS MURDER

Strikes Fellow Workman With Axe. Man at Large. Victim Alive.

While cutting chemical wood on the L. H. Brown lot of Cuba, a crazed man by the name of "Charley," suddenly went insane, Saturday and grabbing an axe, cleaved a companion's skull, sinking the axe blade down thru the skull and into his shoulder. It seems almost a miracle that the man should live, but he was alive at an Olean hospital. Physicians say that he cannot live, however.

There was no quarrel or fight, the man just grabbed an axe and aimed it at random at one of the men.

Police Chief H. K. Marks of Cuba, desires any information that he can get of any light complexioned man about thirty years old of small stature. This is the man that he wants for the probable murder of the man hit with the axe.

All working on the job Chief Marks says, are foreigners. He was unable to furnish the name of the man injured. He says that the crazed Charley has been an inmate of a criminal institution for the insane.

Shower for Mr. and Mrs. Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Snyder returned, Saturday afternoon, from their trip to Niagara Falls, Syracuse and other points. A shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jacob, the home of the bride, Saturday night. About 175 friends and relatives gathered at this time and left, as a token of their love and esteem, a bountiful supply of beautiful gifts, including linen, cut glass, silver, a large purse of money and a generous supply of pyrex, aluminum and other kinds of useful kitchen utensils.

A bountiful supper was served at 10:30 after which a social time was enjoyed by all. About midnight the happy party broke up wishing the "newly weds" much happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Snyder was Miss Ferne L. Jacob, one of Alfred's most highly esteemed and promising young women. Mr. Snyder is one of Alfred's most respected young men. After October 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Snyder will be at home to their friends at his farm home near this village.

Justice

The first element which goes to the making of an upright citizen, viewed from the standpoint of civilization, is justice. Justice in general, has been defined as "the will to give to everyone his due," and therefore applies equally to our neighbor's rights of every kind, whether mental, corporeal or proprietary.

Justice commands us to give liberty to whom liberty is due, honor to whom honor is due, respect to whom respect is due, praise to whom praise is due, encouragement to whom encouragement is due. Justice not only covers all those things which it is nice to do to our neighbors, but even all those things which are not nice to do, but which ought to be done for his well-being or in the interests of the community.

Hence it covers not only the duty of subjects to obey but of superior to command, and where necessary, to rebuke and punish. It covers among equals not only the just giving of praise and encouragement for what is good, but also, where circumstances require, the just giving of dispraise and discouragement for what is misguided or evil. Justice sometimes requires us to be angry and severe, and to make ourselves disagreeable in the interests of right, though we must be careful in such cases that JUSTICE and not PASSION is our motive.

CITIZEN NO. VI.

ALMOND FARMER KILLED BY BULL

Fred H. Wilcox Found Dead After Going to Drive in Cows.

Fred Henry Wilcox of Karr Hill, near Almond, was attacked and killed by an enraged bull on his farm shortly after seven o'clock, Sunday evening. He was dead when found by his son, Glenn.

Just before dusk, the son came to the home and inquired for his father. The mother told him that he was at the barn milking so the son went about his other chores as usual. After a lapse of some time the son came back to the house but his father had not returned.

The family then became alarmed over the absence of Mr. Wilcox. The son peered thru the window and failed to see any light in the barn. This aroused his curiosity and he set out with a lantern, to find his father. He searched the barn but in vain. He then noticed that the cattle had not been driven into the barn and he went into the field.

Here he found the lifeless body of his father. The cattle had been driven some distance and the spot nearby which showed signs of a tussle. The bull which attacked Mr. Wilcox was several feet from the scene but from the few marks on Mr. Wilcox's face it was very evident that he had fought gamely with the enraged animal.

For some time Mr. Wilcox has been afflicted with heart trouble and the excitement and exertion is thought to have been somewhat the actual cause of death. Dr. C. R. Brown was called and will issue a certificate of accidental death.

Mr. Wilcox was 59 years old and a lifelong resident of Karr Hill. He was born there and was widely known thru his activities in the Almond Grange, No. 1102. He was one of the most highly respected citizens in this vicinity and his death will be mourned by his friends and acquaintances.

Besides his wife he leaves one son, Glenn, at home, his mother, Mrs. Melissa Wilcox, who has lived with him, one brother, Charles L. of Almond.

REV. F. A. HASSOLD COMES TO ANDOVER

Local Presbyterian Church Call Has Been Accepted. New Pastor This Week.

The Andover Presbyterian Church has given a call to the Rev. F. A. Hassold, of Poble, N. Y., to become its pastor. The call was accepted last Sunday by Mr. Hassold and his work began with the local church at once.

Mr. Hassold visited the Andover church a few weeks ago, and a mutual interest developed between minister and people that lead to the call and acceptance. He preached last Sunday again and made known his acceptance of the call.

Mr. Hassold is a member of the Binghamton Presbytery and the Cortland County Ministerial Association. He has traveled extensively, having engaged in home missionary work under the National Board of Missions of the Presbyterian church in the West, and later served the Bahama Islands and spent last summer in England and France.

The call was unanimous on the part of the Presbyterian congregation and Mr. Hassold expects to enter upon his new field of labor at once, and hopes to move into the manse on East Avenue this week.

SUNDAY A BAD DAY FOR MOONS

Two Auto Accidents Help Keep Things Lively in Andover, Sunday.

Sunday seemed to be a bad day for Moon automobiles in Andover. Two cars by that classification were badly damaged here last Sunday afternoon by collision. The rain and wet leaves contributed much to the danger of driving.

A man from Olean stopped at the brow of the hill near W. N. Rice's on Chestnut street, Sunday morning to let a flock of cows get by. Before he could get started again Prentice Coats slid into him and damaged his car by tearing out the back end. Coats' Chevrolet touring car was practically ruined.

Sunday evening at C. A. Robinson's where the Indian Creek road intersects the state highway two cars, and a truck got terribly mixed up with the result that another "Moon" came near being a total eclipse.

Leland Livermore and sister, Anna, driving a Ford coupe were coming on to the state highway from the Indian creek road. An Almond man, driving a Moon car, was coming up from Wellsville, stopped to allow the Ford to cross in front of him. The lights from the Ford blinded a Sweeney truck driver, following the Moon car, so he did not see the car had stopped and smashed into it.

Resolutions of Respect

WHEREAS, Abraham C. Frisbey, a resident of Andover for fifty-two years; one of the original stockholders of the Andover State Bank, who had served continuously as a Director since 1898, a period of twenty-seven years; who had served as its Vice-President from 1907 to 1908; as its President from 1908 to 1920 and since that time as Chairman of its Board of Directors until his death which occurred at his home in this Village on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 22nd, 1925, and

WHEREAS, The Influence of his life in intimate social and business relations has left indelible impressions on the tablets of our memory which cannot be adequately expressed in words, and

WHEREAS, He did not care for praise or honor during his lifetime, we believe that his wishes will be best served now by not attempting a fitting eulogy, therefore be it,

RESOLVED, That in the death of Abraham C. Frisbey, the Andover State Bank has lost the services of an esteemed and valued counselor whose conservative judgment we had all learned to respect and admire; one who practiced himself and admired in others those commendable virtues of industry, thrift and economy; one who was always ready and willing to sacrifice his own best interests for that of the bank and to carry his full share of responsibility for the common good of all; one who had a clear conception of what constituted just and upright dealing with his fellowmen and by his adherence to these principles, as an officer for many years, has left a record and influence which will be of great benefit to the institution during the years which are to come.

RESOLVED, That this preamble and resolutions be spread upon the records of the bank; published in the Andover News and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

Adopted by the Board of Directors of the Andover State Bank at a meeting held Sept. 29th, 1925.

BUSINESS BOOMS IN POLICE COURT

Sunday Seems the Day for Law Violators to Get Busy.

A call from the home of Mrs. Mabel Williams at about two o'clock, Sunday morning, to the effect that an undesirable man was prowling around her place, caused the undoing of one Patrick Connors again.

Patrick was under a suspended sentence of six months in the Belmont jail, if he remained out of this village.

Officer Kilbane went to the Williams home and conducted Connors to the lock-up for a night's lodging. The prisoner claimed that he was driving thru town when his car ran out of gasoline. But an investigation proved the car was in possession of plenty of fuel.

The suspended sentence was called in and Connors taken to Belmont to serve the six months by officers Kilbane and Kemp.

Leo Harrington of Vorhees Hill, drove up to the Langworthy garage Sunday and told the boys to put him on a new tire. Edson Langworthy, the proprietor, allowed he would be glad to do so, upon the feel of the required number of greenbacks in the palm of his hand, or words to that effect. Harrington got peeved at this and began to call Mr. Langworthy very ungentlemanly names, and even worse until the back of Mr. Langworthy's hand got away from him in some manner and slapped Harrington in the face. This gentle pat unbalanced the receiver and he fell on to Jerry Updyke, who tried to straighten him-up with a poke in the ribs. This set him going in the direction of another man who joined the play and gave him a crack.

Officer Hurd was soon there and placed Harrington in the lock-up. Monday morning Harrington pled guilty to public intoxication and disorderly conduct before Police Justice Mullen, who assessed him a fine of $50 dollars. Not having the ready wherewith, the prisoner was given thirty days credit to work out the fine.

Wilcox — Baker

Miss Margaret Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ardean Wilcox, and Ora R. Baker, son of Mrs. Ida Baker were united in marriage at ten o'clock, Wednesday morning, at the Parochial residence this village, Rev. Father Tracy, officiating.

The bride was tastefully attired in brown crepe with accessories to match and carried a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Gertrude Campbell of Wellsville, who wore brown lace and carried red roses. Mr. Leo Horan acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the bridal party and immediate relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox on Rochambeau avenue, where the bride and groom will be at home to their many friends for the present.

AUTOMOBILE STRUCK BY FAST FREIGHT

Mother and Sister of Mrs. C. C. Conrad Killed Monday at Protection, N. Y.

A terrible automobile accident, causing the death of two women and injuring two others, occurred at Protection, N. Y., on the state road from Olean to Buffalo, Monday afternoon, at about four o'clock, when a fast freight on the Pennsylvania railroad ran into an automobile owned and driven by Charles Hameister of Holland, N. Y., killing his wife almost instantly and injuring his daughter, Mrs. Carl Storz, so seriously that she died the next morning in a Buffalo hospital, and also seriously injuring the 18-month-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Conrad of this village.

Mrs. Hameister was the mother of Mrs. C. C. Conrad, and Mrs. Storz was a sister. Her father, who was driving the automobile was also badly bruised and stunned by the accident.

This grade crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad is one of the very worst in the state of New York. It is absolutely blind when traveling in one direction and nearly so when going the other way. Mr. Hameister, wife, daughter and little granddaughter were on their way home from Yorkshire and were passing thru Protection, enroute. They were taking their little granddaughter home with them for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. Conrad were visiting at Waterloo, N. Y., when the sad word came to them of the accident. They hastened immediately to the stricken ones. Mr. Conrad was home briefly, Wednesday.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Rev. and Mrs. Conrad in this their hour of sorrow.

SHERIFF RAIDS REXVILLE DUMP

Seize Quantity of Alleged Contraband at Home of Al Perry.

The home of Al Perry in the town of West Union, about two miles from the village of Rexville, was raided Saturday afternoon by Sheriff W. B. Page and his raiders who seized a quantity of alleged beer and wine. Perry was ordered to appear before a federal commissioner for a hearing.

According to the sheriff, it was one of the filthiest places that he has raided yet. When the raiders entered the place they found three men on the floor in a drunken stupor and indications of drunken revelry. Some time ago a man died in that neighborhood from the effects of poisonous liquor and at the time it was suspected that it came from Perry's place. Since then the authorities have been keeping an eye on the place.
