$2,000,000 For Fish. Wool for Silk. The Dog Believes. Discouraging Pilots.

In Chicago, where this is written, John G. Shedd, yesterday, signed his name to an agreement under which he will supply $2,000,000 to build the world's largest aquarium, in Grant Park.

Thus, all over the United States, men that have worked hard all their lives, and built up fortunes, with the help of the people, give back the money to the people among whom they earned it.

Mr. Shedd's gift of a great aquarium is money well spent. It will increase the supply of public information.

If to the exhibition of strange creatures of the oceans and lakes the John G. Shedd gift could include some plan for economical distribution among the people of the food that comes from the ocean, that would add to the value of the gift.

A plan to get rid of sharks that destroy billions of valuable fish every year, and the small, savage whales that prey upon the great schools of salmon in the Northwest would be worth millions in increased food value.

Farmers are encouraged by news that makers of artificial silk will require great quantities of medium grade wool, to mix with wool fibre.

The trade in artificial silk is destined to be enormous. If the farmer raising and shearing sheep can compete with Asiatics, raising silk worms, he may enjoy a new kind of prosperity.

This nation needs an air force controlled by men that understand flying, men that are interested in the difference between an all metal monoplane and a weak cloth made biplane, more than in neat uniforms or servile saluting.

Providence, taking care of the birds, put in charge of them their brains of birds, not the brains of rabbits or turtles.

Why should this nation, depending for its safety in war, upon flying machines and flying men, put the nation's flying department under the control of human rabbits from the navy or turtles from the army?

Not far from the train on which this was written in Arkansas city, Kansas, there lives a dog, name unknown, and all the rest of his life that dog will believe in miracles.

His owner, probably dead by this time, was Warren Hardy, man of quick temper. Seizing his shotgun by the end of the barrel, Hardy hit the dog with the butt. Neither he nor the dog knew the gun was loaded. Hardy is in the hospital and probably won't recover.

All in one second the dog felt the blow, heard the explosion, saw his cruel master stretched on the ground. Knowing nothing about gunpowder, that dog will always believe in miracles, and also in a special providence that avenges dogs, when they are hit with the butt end of a gun.

It is foolish, however to say the less you understand the more readily you believe in miracles.

The radio is a genuine miracle of science, and it takes intelligence to understand it. A savage wouldn't understand it or believe in it. He would simply say "witchcraft" and go his way.

In old days, when the City of Paris, compared to modern Paris, was a small town, thousands died of small pox in a year.

Paris enforces vaccination most strictly. Children in the primary schools, infants, 50,000 hospital patients, are some of those vaccinated. And in Paris smallpox doesn't exist. To what do gentlemen that oppose vaccination attribute that fact? Is it just accident?

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is of Interest to Andover Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of an Andover resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Ezra Zelfiff, carpenter, Water St., says: "Every muscle in my back was lame and sore and it was torture for me to bend over because pains caught me in my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had to get up several times some nights to pass the secretions. Doan's Pills cured me." (Statement given August 14, 1919.)

On July 18, 1923, Mr. Zelfiff said: "The cure Doan's gave me has lasted

At the Auditorium

"HER LOVE STORY" Gloria Swanson in a Paramount Picture, Saturday Evening, Oct. 17.

Gloria, as Princess Marie of the tiny Balkan kingdom of Vlatavia, falls deeply in love with Captain Rudi, handsome young officer of the King's guards. It is hopeless from the first, especially when her father, the Archduke, decides the Princess would make a satisfying Queen for the reprobate King of Mergovina, a neighboring country. The Archduke hopes that such a marriage will greatly enrich him.

Hoping to avert fate, Rudi and the Princess are secretly married, by a gypsy, so when the Duke informs his daughter, she tells him she is already married to Rudi. Rudi is sent to join a regiment in Australia. The Duke ignores the existence of the gypsy marriage, and the royal wedding takes place.

A child is born to the Queen—Rudi's child. The King celebrates the birth of his "heir." The Queen, too honest to live a lie, tells him the boy is Rudi's. The King keeps the boy, but orders the Queen confined in an old castle. Rudi returns and helps the Queen to escape.

Later they hear of the child's illness and go to the castle. Rudi holds off the King's guards while the Queen escapes with her son. In a storm she makes for the castle of her father. She finds that the old man's mind is gone. A physician tells them that the boy is in no danger.

The King dies, and the boy is about to occupy the throne when the Queen makes the startling announcement that the child is Captain Rudi's, and all she asks is to be able to leave the country with her husband and child. Captain Rudi falls on his knees and begs the Queen's forgiveness for any doubts he may have had concerning the boy. Later the couple, with their child, leave for a neighboring country and happiness.

TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR ROOM

At the Auditorium, Tuesday Evening, October 20th.

The old temperance play, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," the story that did as much as any other one thing to bring home to the American people the awfulness of the saloon and American bar, is to appear at the Auditorium in Andover, Tuesday, October 20th.

The story from which this play is made has reformed many drunkards, and was to the Temperance cause what "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was to slavery.

and I always recommend them to others." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Zelfiff had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"BREED OF THE BORDER" Coming to the Auditorium, Wednesday Evening, October 21st.

Esmeralda, a little mining town along the Mexican border, has long been the scene of depredations at the hands of Red Lucas and his gang. The Inspiration Gold Mine is robbed, and a watchman mortally shot by the bandits; but Sheriff Wells, a former gun-fighter, is in league with the Lucas crowd and does nothing to protect the town. Dave Hargrave, president of the mine and of the Esmeralda Bank, finally imports a stranger who appears in movie cowboy regalia, answers to the name of "Circus Lacey" and announces that he is looking for trouble.

Lacey soon finds it, in plenty. After a run-in with Wells and his deputy sheriff in the Peg Leg Saloon, Lacey is instrumental in rescuing Ethel Slocum, daughter of a poor settler, from Lucas. The bandit escapes before "Circus" finds out who he is, however, and returns to his camp.

Wells, forced into doing something about the Inspiration Mine robbery, has a lieutenant "plant" some of the innocent man of being in league with Lucas. He is in love with Ethel and tells her he'll "fix it" if she will marry him. Ethel indignantly refuses. Despite the protests of Ma Malone, a very manly and husky woman with a little wizen-up souse for a husband, Slocum is dragged off to jail and Ma, with Ethel, sets off in her flivver in search of Lacey. "Circus" determines to free Slocum by fastening the guilt on Lucas and Wells. He captures one of Lucas' band and forces him to reveal the place where Lucas has his camp. He goes there to scout out the ground and is captured; but manages to outwit the bandit by leading him into "Purgatory Sink," a terrible, waterless district where Lucas is soon lost and is compelled to admit that his gang is going to rob the Esmeralda Bank while Wells is leading a posse of all the honest citizens to a fake hold-up. Lacey hard, "Circus" manages to foil the robbers just as they are getting away, cooks Wells' goose, and is fittingly rewarded by Ethel.
