Scolders

DEOPLE don't differ much in the matter of scolding. Few deserve punishment under the penal code for universal of human traits. Whether we know it or admit it we are all chronic critics of our fellows. haps there is some truth in the expression, "we love, each other for our faults."

Cartoons and comic strips are given to gross exag-, geration especially as regards the marital state, but, where is there a happily wedded pair which is not scolo ed into married bliss? Of course they are intended, remarks about bills, cigar ashes, late dinners and delayed dinners, and other conjugal annoyances are but i examples of everyday and unnoticed family scoldings. Our neighbors alone are aware of their presence. The statistician affords us rare opportunities for
