Can You Give the Answer?

What section of the United States uses the most electricity per capita of population? Western New York!

Many people living here do not realize that this is the result of cheap and abundant Niagara power, supplemented by efficient steam plants and other economical hydroelectric developments.

All these power resources are interconnected in the great super-service of the companies comprising the Buffalo, Niagara & Eastern System.

> The Niagara Falls Power Company sells electricity at the lowest average price received by any generating system on the North American Continent.
