Driving a team of 500.000 Horsepower

This would sound like a pretty ambitious job even to a Roman chariot racer in a circus. But it is precisely what is done by a man who sits at a desk in a room in Niagara Falls.

All around him stand great panels jeweled with lights of red and gold and green, shining amid a maze of knobs and dials.

Five hundred thousand horse-power here obeys one man sitting at a desk. His job isn't as exciting as a chariot racer's—but a good deal more important and useful to the people of central and western New York.
