Wellsville

Allegany County Press Service

Invited to Syracuse Meet

Mrs. Ella MacPherson of Wellsville has received from Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, an invitation to attend a meeting of the women vice-chairman of county committees throughout the state and women members of the Republican State committee in Syracuse September 29 and 30.

Attend Walther League

Miss Esther Bierman and Donald Gent attended sessions of the 38th annual convention of the Western New York district, Walther League, in St. Matthew's Lutheran church, North Tonawanda, Saturday and Sunday as delegates of the Senior and Junior Walther League societies of Trinity Lutheran church here, respectively. They were accompanied by Miss Agatha Gallman and Aaron H. Gallman.

Elks Lose to Kane

A blocked kick and a long pass were the deciding features resulting in a victory for Kane over the Wellsville Elks in the opening game of the football season on Tullar field yesterday. Each play resulted in a touchdown and the two were sufficient to ward off a belated Elk rally which netted one score. The final count was 12-6.

Many Attend Rally

A total of 4,000 members of the Catholic Holy Name Societies from three counties attended a rally and services held at St. Bonaventure's College Monday afternoon and heard Rev. Conrad O'Leary, O.F.M., urge them to make their religion a live and active part of their lives. A large representation of Wellsville men were included in the rally which comprised parishes in Allegany, Cattaraugus and Chautauque counties. Rev. P. C. Tracy, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, acted as sub-deacon in the solemn benediction services closing the rally.

Taken to Pen.

Allegany county authorities transferred Claude Randall, 62, colored, of Rosburg, to Monroe county penitentiary where he will serve 300 days in lieu of a $300 fine imposed on him last Friday by County Judge Walter N. Renwick.

Randall was sentenced when he pleaded guilty to operating a public nuisance contrary to section 1530 of the penal code on the Fillmore-Portageville highway, in this county. He was secretly indicted on that charge by the September Grand Jury and was arrested on a bench warrant.

Sale of Season Tickets

The sale of season tickets by the athletic association of the high school is progressing satisfactorily according to Faculty Manager Kenneth Nichols. High school students are working to make the sale a success. A season ticket admits the purchaser to all home athletic contests.

The high school athletic association is self supporting and depends largely upon the receipts of the ticket sale for the maintenance of sports. The ticket sale received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce.

The season ticket sale will be concluded this week. The opening football game is scheduled for Saturday when the high school eleven meets Canisteo at Tullar field.

Admitted to Hospital

Mrs. Bertha Robbins of West Bingham was admitted to Jones Memorial hospital for treatment, Sunday.

Express Gratitude for Gift

The gift of six easy chairs to Jones Memorial hospital by the Wellsville Upholstering Company was announced Saturday.

The gift included an assortment of various finishes and styles which were created in the Wellsville factory of the local concern. The board of managers in acknowledging the gift states that the furniture is the source of much comfort to convalescing patients and their visitors.

The gratitude of the board of managers of the hospital is expressed in the following statement:

"The board of managers is grateful to the Wellsville Upholstering Company not only for the gift but also for the thoughtfulness of the officers of that company in recognizing our needs."

"The members of the board feel that the people of Wellsville owe a debt of gratitude to this company and they are glad of having this opportunity for expressing their thanks."

Among continental European nations, Germany is the largest consumer of oil.

Wellsville Personal

Dr. Clyde McDougal and Miss Beulah Rixford of Buffalo were the guests of Miss Rixford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rixford of Osborne street, Sunday.

Miss Jeanette Bowers has returned to Pittsburgh after visiting a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cochrane of Osborne street.

Miss Margaret McCarthy of Dyke street left yesterday for Buffalo where she is attending Bryant Stratton business college this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Plain of Rochester, formerly of Wellsville, returned home yesterday after visiting relatives and friends in town for a few days.

Miss Jennie Clark of Jamestown was visiting relatives and friends in town over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Potter and Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Burdick of Alfred were calling in town Saturday afternoon.

Dr. H. E. Cooley of Madison street left yesterday on a week's motor trip.

Alfred

(From the Alfred Sun)

Mrs. F. A. Crumb is spending a few days in Pittsford with her daughter, Mrs. D. E. Wilson.

Dr. G. W. Campbell was in Belmont, Tuesday, in attendance at a meeting of the Allegany County Public Welfare Association.

Mrs. George Probasco of Whitesville and Mrs. W. L. Sadler of Wellsville spent one day last week at W. H. Jacob's.

President B. C. Davis returned this morning from New York City where he went to perform the marriage of Dr. Walcott Williams and Miss Ruth Randolph.

The first football game of the season will occur on the local field, Saturday night, Sept. 26th, when the Varsity will meet the strong Hamilton team.

Mrs. Augusta Cornelius was quite badly bruised, when she had the misfortune to fall, one day last week, while visiting her sister, Mrs. Merline Kiple of Almond. She is under the care of Miss Rose Greene of Railroad Valley, at her home on Elm street.

W. A. Titworth has been appointed assistant grand lecturer for Allegany District F. & A. M. He was in Seneca Falls, Tuesday, where he attended a meeting of Assistant Grand Lecturers, which was conducted by Henry G. Mecham, Grand Lecturer.

L. R. Polan, from the University of West Virginia, who is to be instructor in mathematics at Alfred this year, has arrived in town with his family. They are located in a suite of rooms in the E. P. Saunders residence.

Thirty-seven votes, five Democratic and 32 Republican were cast at the primaries Tuesday in the town of Alfred. B. S. Bassett and Mrs. Eva Champlin were elected members of the Republican County Committee and Archie S. Gould and Myra C. Gould, members of the Democratic County Committee.

A representative of the Conservation Commission at Albany was in Alfred recently, checking up on the puppies in town that had not yet been licensed. It was found that there were several unaccounted for and he placed the names of the owners in the hands of Game Warden Young of Angelica, who has been looking them up during the past week. In the future all puppies will be listed by the enumerators as dogs and must have their tags without waiting until they are six months old as formerly.

ALFRED STATION

Garland Crandall of Andover was calling at L. J. Crandall's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stevens of Andover were Sunday guests at Everett Davis'.

Mrs. L. L. Spencer was in Hornell, Saturday afternoon, to see her sister, Mrs. Galpin, who is in the St. James hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Allen of Belmont were visitors Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Davis accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lewis of Wellsville to Keuka Lake, where they spent Sunday at George Lewis' cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Langworthy and grandson, Raymond Turck, have returned from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Beitman at Harrisburg, Pa.

Friendship

(From the Friendship Register)

Due to the absence of any contest, little interest was shown in the primary election at Friendship. In fact, but few persons appeared to know that an election was in progress.

A steel flag pole was erected on the lawn of the State Police headquarters on Main street last Friday, and now Old Glory flies at its top during the daylight hours whenever the weather permits.

The historic Wellman homestead on Main street is undergoing extensive remodeling and improvements. The mansard roof has received new composition on the deck and new shingles on the sides, with new copper flashings, eaves troughs and down spouts.

The new "Wellman" bridge over North Branch Creek on West Main street is completed except for the approaches. A gang of men is filling and rolling the approaches and the new structure will be thrown open to traffic as soon as their work is finished.

The new routing of the rural mail carriers is now in effect. Since the retirement of Frank King, after many years of service, the work will be done by two carriers, except during the winter months when the road conditions make traveling slower and a third carrier will be employed.

With the formal opening of the new police teletype system on Tuesday afternoon, the Friendship station of the New York State Police is in direct and constant communication with 86 other stations and headquarters in Albany and also with 182 stations in New Jersey and 118 in Pennsylvania.

Bolivar

(From the Bolivar Breeze)

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perkins took their daughter, Anita, to Gowanda, Sunday, after she had spent the week-end with them.

Members of the Allegany County Bar Association were dinner guests of Bliss & Bliss, local attorneys, at the Hotel Bolivar Tuesday evening, Sept. 8th.

Messrs. Frank A. Herrick of Bolivar and John P. Herrick of Olean were in Elmira on Friday, guests of their aunt, Mrs. Myra Webb, who is nearly 90 years of age.

A consolidation of local milling industries was effected Friday thru the transfer of the Acme Milling company of the interests of Felt Brothers & Gage company. The Empire Mills located on the Erie railroad in North Olean becomes a unit in the group of mills owned and operated by the Acme Milling company. Other mills are located in Allegany and Bolivar.

J. A. Wilber of Bolivar returned home last week after a three weeks' sojourn in Pennsylvania. While at Hindsdale Saturday he was placed under arrest by a state trooper on a statutory charge. The complainant was Tarry Lovitz of Bolivar. Mr. Wilber was released on $200 bond for further examination.

Tony Clark, for more than 35 years employed as a section hand on the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern railroad here, died at his home at 100 Liberty street, this village, Tuesday morning at 8:45 o'clock. While pitching quoits at his home Friday evening he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which was the cause of his death.

John Cartwright, 56, and living on a farm on the Bolivar-Little Genesee highway, one and one-half miles south of this village, met with severe injuries Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when he fell from a scaffold. As he landed on the ground a pole which had slipped off a beam struck him on the chest. Besides a broken collar bone he had several ribs broken and a dislocated shoulder.

George H. Bradley of Bolivar, a prominent oil and gas operator here, underwent an operation for the removal of his appendix at the General hospital in Buffalo last Wednesday. Only recently he was operated upon at the Cuba hospital. Word comes from the hospital that he is slowly recovering from the effects of the operation. Many Bolivar friends hope that he will speedily regain his health.

Cuba

(From the Cuba Patriot)

The cheese market at Cuba today was 15c; Plymouth, Wis., Sept. 11, 14c.

Monday, September 14, marked the 59th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steuben, 52 years of which have been passed by this estimable couple in Cuba.

Dr. Harry L. Whipple has enrolled for a post graduate course in full denture construction, which will be given at Bradford, Pa., each afternoon from Sept. 21 to 25.

While milking at his barn about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, M. C. Cero Keller, a well-known farmer of the Keller Hill section, was knocked down as a bolt of lightning struck the building, which immediately burst into flames.

Arrangements were completed here Wednesday for a three-game series of baseball games between Cuba, champions of the Allegany County League, and the Fillmore team of the Wyoming County League.

Misses Lena and Grace Todd arrived in New York Sunday night after a month's trip to Europe. The former came to her home in Cuba, and her sister went the next day to Bridgeton, N. J., where she is librarian of the city library.

An addition practically doubling the size of the Kirkpatrick home is to be constructed at once, at a cost of about $8,000, and contracts have already been let for the work, the successful bidders being E. L. Clark Construction company, Olean, general construction, and L. Fred Lacy, Cuba, plumbing and heating.

A recent issue of the Sunday New York Times in its rotogravure section printed two pictures of Second Lieutenant Robert E. Conrath showing him as an officer of the Citizens' Military Training Camp giving instruction in the use of a field telephone. Mr. Conrath, now of Brooklyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Conrath of Cuba, spent several seasons in the citizens military training camps in this state while he lived in Cuba, and has been at Camp Dix this summer, where his training as an electrical engineer has been useful.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Senator William E. Borah's name will come before the Republican National Convention next summer as a candidate to succeed President Hoover, judging by recent indications. The latest of these is the announcement that a "Borah-for-President" club has been formed by a group of Virginians, the first of its kind in the impending campaign.

Senator Borah was officially notified of the formation of the club at his home in Boise, Idaho, and greeted the news with a smiling countenance and the remark that "he was glad he had so many good friends in Virginia." His reception of the news was evidence that he is not unwilling to be regarded as an opponent to Mr. Hoover for the nomination. It is expected that many more similar clubs will be formed as a consequence of his attitude. His main reply to the notification was a plea to his friends to support his movement for a five-year naval holiday, which he indicated would form the basis of his appeal for votes if he gets out and campaigns.

Borah feels that a naval holiday program, with all its ramifications covering the World Court, opposition to war and its more immediate financial savings, is a large enough platform on which to corral votes. It is known that Borah has been sounded out by some of the leading Progressives regarding his candidacy and they assert he invariably has expressed pleasure whenever the suggestion has been made that he accept the nomination for President.

These same Progressives are known to be opposed to reviving the third party and want their standard bearer to oppose Mr. Hoover for the regular Republican nomination. Borah is too astute a politician to believe he can wrest the nomination away from the President and his office-holding cohorts, a feat that is almost impossible, politically, in the United States. Instead, they feel that if Borah can center enough activity behind him he can make a deal before the convention meets by which his ideas can be incorporated in the Republican platform and his ends achieved.

Many politicians here view Borah's possible election as President in a humorous vein. They say Borah is only himself when he is opposing the government. If he became the government himself he would be a ship without a rudder, they say. In this connection, President Coolidge's reputed remark is recalled anent Borah's penchant for horseback exercise.

Borah maintains a stable in Washington and knows every bridge path in Rock Creek Park. Anyhow, when Mr. Coolidge is said to have learned about Borah's exercise he is quoted as saying: "I don't see how Borah can reconcile himself to going in the same direction as the horse!" Whether Borah's candidacy will be taken seriously by the Republican National Committee is a question. After all, a candidate must have the treasurer of the party with him and it is doubtful if the money men of the country will support a man who has shown such radical tendencies in the past.

There seems to be little question but that additional taxation will be levied by the next Congress. Even with the President firmly committed against the national government's aiding its unemployed citizens with any plan that parallels the British system of doles, the government is going to find itself short by at least another billion of dollars next year. Even by paring down all expenses the gap cannot be bridged, largely because the incomes of the big taxpayers have been cut into so deeply that payments into the national treasury have been heavily reduced.

To tax the farmer any more would be a political crime and result in alienating his vote. As a consequence, Congress is faced with a hard problem in raising more money. It appears certain that a system of luxury taxes will be devised. In addition there is a growing feeling that the larger aggregations of capital will be asked to pay more, even the Wall Street crowd being convinced, it is said, that they should pay heavier taxes.

No party likes to impose taxes on the eve of a national election. It begins to look as tho the Democrats will be in a majority in both Houses of the next Congress and, if taxes are raised, that party will have to bear the onus of the action. Those in close touch with the trends of the time, politically, claim that new taxes must be levied and that no blame will attach to either party that has to pose as the sponsor of such an action.

Many industries, like the automobile line, have formed a lobby to work against a proposed sales tax, and threats from them can be expected. Political observers do not feel that these threats will ever be carried out and believe that Congress will go right to work next December to balance the budget, as the British Parliament and other European legislatures have been forced to do in recent months to overcome the depression in general business and lack of employment.

A British mining company intends transporting mining machinery by airplane over New Guinea's impassable jungles.

A fog is a cloud close to the earth.

An elephant is the biggest attention compeller we can think of. Nobody overlooks an elephant. That is why we use it to attract you to our story. We print the kind of advertising that is elephantine in its results. The elephant is one of the few animals which has survived in an unchanged form, for many, many thousands of years. That is the kind of prestige that well-printed advertising builds up.

Make the decision that now is the time to go out after new business, tooth and nail, tusk and hide. Call on us. We sell results. Catalogs—bill heads—letterheads—blot- ters—hand bills—posters—direct mail material. Booklets—leaflets—folders—every form of printed advertising. Effective advertising is cheapest.
