New Atlantic Gas Station

The Atlantic Refining Co., distributors of Atlantic gasoline, have the foundation and frame up for their new filling station on the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. The building is being constructed on the property purchased by them of Oyd Mattison several months ago. A. Hotchkiss of Bath has the contract for the erection of the building. The building as now outlined is to be one of beauty and an ornament to the south end of Main street.

celebrate Diamond

Anniversary

The Brockport Republic-Democrat is 75 years old this month. In celebration of its diamond anniversary, P. A. Blossom and son, E. M. Blossom, owners and publishers, have issued a sixteen page illustrated supplement to the paper. In writing up the event the editor admits that "in writing the history of the paper they were faced with having to write a history of Brockport," and they performed the task in a very creditable manner. P. A. Blossom was for a number of years president of the New York Press Association.

Sparkling

A popular entertainment for the young folks of former days. Now they have a different word for its expression, but thru the advent of automobile, radio, gas engines and flash lights sparkling has become a prime essential to many things that have to do with every day comfortable living.

You have devices that are useless if the spark fails, so we offer you Hip-Co Batteries as the best and most durable spark producers in their class. Hip-Co Dry Cells, Hot Shots and Flash Light Batteries have proven superior and no more expensive than many that have failed to give adequate dependable service.

Hip-Co Batteries do not fail; they give service and last far beyond usual expectation. Use them for your sparkling needs.

Cello Glass

Are your poultry houses ready for winter? Stop openings with Cello-Glass; light and sunshine in—cold out.

As cheap as window glass, besides being flexible and non-breakable. Ask the poultry man who is using it, he may give you valuable information.

THE FACTORIES

By Margaret Widdemer

I have shut my little sister in from life and light
(For a rose, for a ribbon, for a wreath across my hair),
I have made her restless feet still until the night,
Locked from sweets of summer and from wild spring air;
I who ranged the meadowlands, free from sun to sun,
Free to sing and pull the buds and watch the far wings fly,
I have bound my sister till her playing time was done—
Oh, my little sister, was it I? Was it I?

I have robbed my sister of her day of maidenhood
(For a robe, for a feather, for a trinket's restless spark),
Shut from Love till dusk shall fall, how shall she know good,
How shall she go scatheless thru the sin-lit dark?
I who could be innocent, I who could be gay,
I who could have love and mirth before the light went by,
I have put my sister in her mating-time away—
Sister, my young sister, was it I? Was it I?

I have robbed my sister of the lips against her breast,
(For a coin, for the weaving of my children's lace and lawn),
Feet that pace beside the loom, hands that cannot rest—
How can she know motherhood, whose strength is gone?
I who took no heed of her, starved and labor-worn,
I, against whose placid heart my sleepy gold-heads lie,
Round my path they cry to me, little souls unborn—
God of Life! Creator! It was I! It was I!
