D. A. R. Holds Meeting

The last meeting of the year of the Catherine Schuyler Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the Congregational church in Wellsville, Thursday, October 15th.

After a 1 o'clock luncheon served to over 80, the regular session opened with Mrs. L. Stephen Rogers, regent, presiding. A memorial tribute to Mrs. F. P. Greene of Hammondsport, a charter member, was given by Mrs. J. H. Fisher of Wellsville. Mrs. L. M. Thornton of Wellsville who was recently elected state librarian, gave a very fine report of the state convention in Schenectady.

But One Civil War Veteran Is Left

Only one veteran of the Civil War remains in Wellsville today. With simple but solemn rites, George S. Sison, 88-year-old veteran whose death occurred in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Potter last Friday afternoon, was laid to rest in true military style at Woodlawn cemetery Sunday afternoon.

The one remaining veteran of the Civil War, Everett Van Nostrand, 82 Jefferson street, was honorary bearer.

Couple Surprised on Wedding Anniversary

The party, planned as a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Schrader by their children, Erwin and Florence, provided a source of much enjoyment as it marked the 25th milestone of their wedded life.

Lost First Game

Robbins Gets Contracts

W. E. Robbins Hardware Company has the contracts for installation of new heating systems in both Wellsville theaters, the Babcock and the Temple.

Registration Days

There are 601 less eligible voters in Wellsville this year than last, according to final figures reported following the last day of registration.

A total of 3,304 persons signed in the four districts, as against 3,905 last year and 4,032 in 1929.

Enrollment was made by 173 voters at the time of registration, insuring them the right to vote in the spring primaries, enrollment may also be made on election day. The biggest loss in registration was noted in the third district when 852 had their names put in the book, as compared with 1,166 last year.

Following is the registration by districts: No. 1, 1,030; No. 2, 691; No. 3, 852; No. 4, 731. Lack of outstanding contests here is given as the reason for the lower number registered this year.

Farmer Is Hurt

Claire Brandes, 46, Stanards farmer, is in the Jones Memorial hospital in a serious condition as the result of a mishap while drawing potatoes. It is the second time he has been hurt while caring for his potato crop. Crates of potatoes tipping over pushed him off the front of his wagon, and the vehicle passed over him, causing a punctured lung, several broken ribs and bruises. When Brandes was planting spuds this spring he was gored by an angry bull and received several broken ribs. Thus the potato crop has proven a costly one for Mr. Brandes and they are paying 20 cents per bushel here for the tubers.

Scoreless Game

Two of the most evenly balanced teams to clash on Tullar field in many moons battled it out thru four gruelling scoreless quarters here Sunday afternoon in the Elmira Cadets-Wellsville Elk football tilt.

Choked with thrilling and spectacular plays, the contest made great entertainment for the largest crowd to see the purple-jerseyed Elks in action this year, but it provided small satisfaction to two score hungry gridiron machines—so evenly matched that neither could muster up touchdown points.
