Whitesville

(Mrs. Ella Millsaugh, Reporter)

Dec. 15.—Christmas soon now.

The warm weather of the past week took a severe cold today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gath of Andover were in town, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kear and sons of Ulysses visited her mother, Mrs. Frances Lamb last Sunday and attended services in the M. E. church in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cornell and family visited relatives in Bolivar

Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wildman, Mrs.

C. L. Travis and Mrs. Bert Snow shopped in Hornell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen of Whites Corners visited relatives here

Sunday.

Dempster Partello went to Corning Sunday to spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Joel Couch and family.

Our old and respected friend Jacob Parker, the only colored person in the town of Independence, went to Angelica, Saturday, to live in the county home. He is 81 years old and has no relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McCutcheon have moved into their new home, the former N. S. Bartlett place.

Lee Millsaugh of Andover was in town on business Monday.

Hamilton C. Norris, Editor

J. S. Young of Norwich is visiting friends in town.

Jesse Phillips is home from Ann Arbor law school for the holidays.

B. B. Hann is home from Hornellsville Business College. He was kicked in the head by a horse and was compelled to take a vacation.

He is some better and will return next week.

Dr. Stillman and J. W. Richardson went to Richburg last Saturday and brought George Guinn, who has been sick with grip, to his home.

He is improving as is also his sister,

Mrs. Floyd Richardson.

J. C. Cartwright, C. H. Richardson, G. B. Proper and D. D. Remington went rabbit hunting last Friday. The four men had but three guns, but they bagged nine rabbits in two hours. The News man had rabbit for dinner the next day.

Giles Davis' house was discovered to be on fire last Saturday about midnight. It caught on the roof, probably from the engine of the Erie and had burned several square feet of shingles and roof boards before it was put out. The damage is about $50.

The vote taken at the special school meeting last night upon the question of placing the Andover school under the visitation of the Regents of the State of New York, resulted in a majority of 76 in favor of the project, and the Board of Education was authorized to raise a sufficient sum of money to purchase the necessary apparatus not exceeding $1,000. It is doubtful if a larger crowd ever assembled in a school meeting in this town.

The Uncle Tom's Co., billed to appear at Prest Opera House last Wednesday evening did not put in an appearance. No harm was done except that they owed us $1.25 for printing.

INSECTS NOW FILMED

Potato growers may now see a moving picture and learn how insects damage their potato crop. The New York State college of agriculture, in co-operation with the Eastman teaching films, has completed a picture taken in Western New York potato fields. The leafhopper, white grub, wireworm, Colorado potato beetle, tarnished plant bugs, slugs, and other insects are shown adding their bit, or bite, to ruin tubers. The film also shows how diseases such as scab and rhizoctonia follow insect injury, and take advantage of the previous damage. The film is now available for showing at farm meetings and will be exhibited at the annual meeting of the Empire State

Potato Club in Rochester on January 6 and 7.

Agrigraphs

Uncle Ab says not hunt for cares and worries; you can find them anywhere.

A cow weighing half a ton uses about three and one-half tons of air a month and drinks about one and one-half tons of water.

Because of two successive hot dry summers, the San Jose scale has returned to New York State and was serious enough to cause spotting of the fruit in many orchards this year.

It costs about $120 to grow an acre of potatoes by modern methods; to make costs, the grower must have 400 bushels to the acre for a 30-cent market, or 240 bushels on a 50-cent market.

Lime Ridge Septime, a pure-bred

Holstein owned and bred by Lime

Ridge Farm at Poughquag, Dutchess county, New York, gave 21,912 pounds of milk and 752 pounds of fat in her thirteenth year. This record gives her first place in the United States for this year and sixth for all time.

Uncle Ab says that most of us think that a man who is different must be wrong.
