Disgusting Radio Programs

There is a growing disgust with present day radio programs. Lee DeForest, who developed the tube that made radio possible, asked "why should anyone want to buy a radio when nine-tenths of what one can hear is the continual drivel of second-rate jazz, sickening crooning, blatant sales talks, impudent commands to buy or try, imposed over a background of what might alone have been good music?"

Canada has just passed a law permitting no advertising over the radio "other than the mention of the sponsor's name, address and nature of business." This was a compromise after the government threatened to take over all radio facilities.
 The United States should follow this lead.

Unravels Complicated Breeding Theory

S. J. Brownell condemned the choosing of dairy sires from cows that are good milkers or are outstanding in type without a detailed study of the cow's ancestors, at the Farm Bureau dairy-breeding school held Dec. 8 and 9 at Belmont. Thirty-five dairymen used poker chips and heridiscopes to learn the gamble of breeding and how to study the inheritance and transmitting ability of their herd sire or prospective herd sire for giving greater production to their herds.

He illustrated the need of a consistent breeding program by citing an instance of one dairyman, who, in ten years, increased the average production of his herd from 7,000 pounds of milk to 16,000 pounds of milk. The cows were bred to a son of one of the 7,000 pound foundation cows and his daughters gave a little more than 9,000 pounds of milk.

The first session of the two-day meeting was held at the barn of J.
 J. Dillon, and the other sessions at the town hall. Live germ cells were studied under the microscope, and the part they play in carrying characters as production, sex, color, type, test and the like, were shown by different devices.

The Leghorn breed of chickens was first introduced into the United States in 1835.

A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR TO ALL

Wildcat's Mistake

Rastus: "Quick, Sam, a wildcat s' ran into yo' house where you' life am." Sam: "Well, he'll jes' hab to get it de best way he kin—dat's all."

Canvas Goods

Maybe you have it in your mind at some day you will buy some good big canvas covers large enough to cover a hay stack, a load of grain or produce. They are fine for protecting seed grains, potatoes, lime, fertilizer and for many other purposes.

We have taken on the sale of canvas goods for the Fulton Mills of Atlanta, Georgia, located in the heart of the cotton country, with improved machinery and a low labor cost they are offering tents, auto and wagon covers, camping equipment and tarpaulins at unheard of low prices.

Now is a most favorable time to place your orders, delivery when you please. Let us name you prices.

Spring Pins

Best for winter. They hold fast to the line, but remove easily without damage to the wash.
 Box of one dozen—5c; six for 25c.

Totem Grease

Enough said. Good as the best and the cheapest quality grease available.

A kind for every need. Gear case, pressure cups, axles or bearings.

Candies

As usual we are giving you more sweets for your money. Many kinds and flavors including Cream Center Chocolates and Peanut Brittle—two pounds for a quarter.

Our light assorted Chocolates are a quality that cost you 40 to 60 cents elsewhere.

Been, Gone and Went

"Well, Miranda," the parson asked a colored woman, "where are you going?"
 "Ise goin' nowhere, massa," she replied. "Ise been where Ise goin'."

Cheap Milk

With milk at present prices only the best producing cows are able to pay a profit, so they must have extra care and nothing allowed to interfere with their health and production.

Kow Kare is one of the most successful preparations for keeping milking cows in condition for highest flow of milk and also for carrying thru the period of calving so as to avoid the various troubles incident to that period.

Many valuable dairy cows have lost their usefulness thru the failure to supply the animal at the proper time the help to be found in a package of Kow Kare.

Keep it in your stable, watch your herd, use it liberally but intelliggently and it will pay you well.
 Large packages, regular price $1-25. Our price, $1.00.

Quick and Smooth

That is the kind of a shave every man is looking for.

Our best help to this end is Probak Blades, the best of all the double-edged shaving blades. We have made this statement repeatedly and we have yet to find a Probak user who did not agree to that fact.
 They sell five for 50 cents. Try a package, use every one and if you do not find that this statement is absolutely true, return the used blades and we will refund the entire purchase price.

Don't forget P-R-O-B-A-K the next time you need blades, or better yet, take home a package the next time you are in town and have them on hand.

Down They Go

Ten per cent. discount on all Murray Tires; as usual we lead in tire price reduction.

No sacrifice of quality and you still write your own guarantee, winter is just around the corner. Smooth worn tires are full of danger on icy roads.

She: "Does hard liquor make you see double?"
 He: "No, but it makes me feel single."
