How Scientists Produce Colds

Science has found the way to produce colds artificially—no germs. Just too much acid. And they have found the sure way to stop them. By neutralizing the acid.

This amazing new principle is the basis upon which the tasteless Aspiroids act. They stop a cold almost before it starts. In five minutes that feverish, achy feeling is gone. In an hour or so the cold has disappeared. Next morning you feel like a new person!

Aspiroids were originated by Rexall chemists and are sold exclusively by Rexall Drug Stores. Comfort worth a dollar for just a few cents.
