Uncle Ab says wrinkles on the brow do not necessarily mean wrinkles on the heart. It is difficult to keep a brooder house dry when it is crowded. Moist litter helps spread disease. The amount of milk trucked to New York City has increased ten times during the past four years...

The Family DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES M.D. A REVIEW

Within the last week I have had quite a patronage in "blood pressure cases." In this particular interval, all the subjects were ladies. I could not help noticing similarity that was almost uniform. All were women past middle age—60 and beyond. All were of stout build—170 pounds or over, in weight. All except one—a Jewess—were farm dwellers. All except the Jewish lady were of fair complexion. Most all were of German extraction, liberal feeders. All except the city woman had reared large families of children. And all of them, without exception, carried their high tension without kidney disease...

Rude Rural Rhymes

The Cocoanut Cow I sing the feather-duster palms that flourish in the tropic calms, that dip their fronds to every breeze along the shores of southern seas, while now and then a nut they shed to dent some careless native's head. The cocoanut for human uses is full of meat and full of juices. For shaving soap, cold cream and such, to help the barber make his touch, it's greasy kernel beats the Dutch. For hair oil, too, as hair oils run, it's extra slick, A-number-one. In pies and other kinds of food I chew the same and find it good. I eat until my tummy aches when it appears on frosted cakes. But as a butter substitute, it does not please, it cannot suit, I will not use that hard-shell fruit. O there are cows both plain and pied, on every hill and mountain side. Their milk is smooth and mild and mellow, their butter fat is rich and yellow. It is the best of aliment for every dame and every gent, chuck full of vitamins and fat, of proteins and things like that. If I foresake it I'm a Mutt; my door is closed, my mouth is shut to butter from that bone-head nut. I've said before, I say it now, I do not like the coco cow.—BOB ADAMS.

Turning Back the Pages Of Andover History

TAKEN FROM THE FILES OF THE ANDOVER NEWS

Forty Years Ago FEBRUARY 17, 1892 Hamilton C. Norris, Editor

In this issue, the News gave a report of the first Regents examinations held in connection with Andover school. As a result of the first examination 130 papers were sent to Albany only a few of which were on the 75% margin. In the list of those passing some subjects in this first Regents, we find the names of Carrie M. Clark, Bertha Harmon, Lizzie Owen, Edith Brainard, Wilma Wright, Mabel Bassett, Mary Snyder, Florence Bassett, Tessa Par-don, Frank Burrows, Samuel Crandall, Benjamin Barney, Lewis L. Pingrey, Drexia Scott, Lida Cook, Zada Smith, James Raplee, Raphael Cook.

Thirty Years Ago FEBRUARY 12, 1902 Mosher & Backus, Owners

A very pretty and quiet wedding took place in Andover on Tuesday, Feb. 11, 1902, when Miss Celia Patten of Andover and Ellsworth Henry of Hartsville were united in marriage at the parochial residence of Rev. Edward J. Rengal. Show us the man who prophesied an open winter. W. H. Miller of Wellsville has been canvassing among the wives, mothers and daughters of Masons, with an idea of starting an order of the Eastern Star in Andover. He was successful in securing 43 names and the order will undoubtedly be started in the near future. Today is Lincoln's birthday. Henry Harding, fireman on the Andover pusher, returned Friday from Oswayo, bringing with him a bride. The Hawthorne Club was very pleasantly entertained at the residence of their president, Mrs. J. M. Brundage, Tuesday evening. John Baker, an aged resident of Pixley Hill, was found dead Tuesday morning. It is said that he was in his usual health Monday and ate three square meals. George R. Monger of Portville, having recently visited the Hillview Stock Farm owned by Jeremiah Clark of Andover, purchased the richly bred bull, Sir Elnora Mech-thilde De Kal. Dr. John Common was entertained by Dr. W. W. Coon of Alfred Thursday. Dr. Coon is the president of the Allegany County Dental Society. Mrs. Nettie Neuber of North Dakota is visiting her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker and other friends in Andover. Miss Wilma Wright is visiting relatives and friends in Allegany. As a result of the recent Regents examinations, the following students were promoted from the Grammar to the Academic Department of our school: Nina Baker, Lotta Mead, George Robinson, Leo Johnson, William Mulcahy. The sacred concert and lecture given at the Blessed Sacrament church Monday night was a pronounced success. All the music-loving people of the village were present besides a good representation from the surrounding country, despite the severity of the weather and the almost impassable condition of the roads. The concert was one of the best ever given in Andover.

USE CREAM SOUPS IN WINTER MENUS Cream soups deserve a place in every family's winter menu. They provide a warm, nourishing dish which includes two foods particularly valuable in the diet, milk and vegetables. They also offer a variety of color and flavor for winter luncheons or suppers; tomato gives an attractive red, spinach a light green, and celery or potato a white soup. Milk is such a valuable food, especially for children, that dishes in which it is the foundation should be included in the daily menu. Thin white sauce is the basis of any cream soup. To make it, measure one level tablespoonful of flour and the same amount of butter to each cup of milk and season with salt and pepper. Melt the butter, add the flour and stir until smooth. Then pour in the milk slowly until the sauce boils and thickens. Cream soups can be made from almost any of the common vegetables by combining, in general, two-thirds of a cup of the vegetable pulp with a cup of thin white sauce.
