Honoring Washington

THE observance February 22nd of the anniversary of George Washington's birth carries more than passing comment this year. It is in honor of his 200th THE other day word leaked out of a local neighbor birth anniversary. Vast preparations are going forward to pay him tribute, not only on his natal day, but continuing for nine months during the year.

True Americans should welcome the opportunity to do honor to Washington's memory because o leadership of a cause that triumphed in the face of overwhelming odds, we owe everything.
