GETTING LICKED

Got a licking from my dad, Worst one I ever had; Claims I said words that were bad-But I didn't.

The I request
My dad shed his coat and vest,
Said, "Young man it's all for the But it wasn't,

Cut a limb from a tree, Toughest one he could see, Said it would hurt him more than But it didn't.

Took me thru the woodshed Where we had gone before, Laid it on till I was sore— Think I wasn't?

I guess it was something like that, Eyes all tears, face all red, I remarked that I was dead—
But I wasn't.

MUSICALE A SUCCESS

MUSICALE A SUCCESS

The Andover High School musicale held in the High School Auditorium last Thursday evening, May 26, was a success. Altho a small crowd attended there was much applause. The orchestra, under the leadership of John Croyle, solosists, and novelty numbers surely deserved this applause, as their numbers were excellently done. People not attending surely missed a great deal in the way of musical treats.

Much thanks is to be offered to John Croyle by the Senior Class and Athletic Association. The musicale was originated and developed by John and at his suggestion the proceeds given to the above two organizations.
