Auto Accident Fatal

Funeral services for Joseph A. Marrone, 21, who died in the hospital as the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Alfred early Sunday morning were conducted in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Murray, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. T. Garland Smith, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Interment was made in the Murray plot in Woodlawn. Coroner H. E. Cooley conducted an inquest Monday afternoon before issuing a certificate of accidental death.

Marrone, together with four other Wellsville youths were returning from a dance at Almond, early Sunday morning when a rear fire of the car, driven by Raymond Christman, blew out. The machine turned over in the highway about in front of the Delta Sigma Chi fraternity house at Alfred University, and landed upright. Others in the car were unhurt. They were Charles Boyd, Forrest Wormley and Thomas McEnroe.

The youth came to Wellsville from Houston, Texas, and had made his home here with Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Murray for about a year and a half. He was an orphan and was of such outstanding character and of such kindly nature that the Murray's became very fond of him and had planned on assisting him to enter law school in the fall. He has no near survivors.

He was born in New York City, Nov. 1, 1910, a son of Joseph and Lena Marrone. His father died when he was an infant and his mother when he was nine years old. At Houston, where he had made his home for the greater part of his life, he was an outstanding athlete and student. He was graduated from Texas City High School, was a Boy Scout, and a graduate of Houston Business College. He came here in the employ of the Sinclair Refining Company. During the past year he had been preparing for college, spending his time with his books at the Murray home. Mrs. Murray was prostrated by the news of the accident.

Walking Race Amusing Sequence of "Guardman"

Frank Wyckoff, the famous sprint champion, recently lent his services gratis to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, for a series of educational pictures boasting the coming Olympic games in Los Angeles. While at the movie studio, Wyckoff visited the set of "The Guardman," the Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontanne comedy at the Auditorium theatre Friday and Saturday, and learned several lessons in how not to run.

The scene in question is a comical one, involving the long-legged Alfred Lunt, attired in a heavy Russian guardsman's uniform, and the Short and stocky Roland Young.

Young suspects that the guardsman is his friend, an actor, in disguise. He starts walking after him. Lunt walks faster and faster until finally the scene is finished at a dead run. The cameras, of course, followed the runners closely aboard a motor truck.

"It may not be scientific running," commented Wyckoff, after he finished laughing at the scene, "but it certainly is funny!"

"The Guardman" marks the picture debut of the two most noted stars of the New York stage, Lunt and Fontanne. The vehicle is Molnar's sophisticated Continental comedy, with which they scored a tremendous stage success. It is a side-splitting tale of a too-jealous husband, who resolves to test his wife's fidelity by making love to her in disguise.

ALWAYS SOMETHING HAPPENS

A man whose son graduated from college in June was asking what I thought about a post graduate course in the Harvard Business School.

"I don't assume any school can teach a boy how to succeed," he said. "What I want is to have my son learn something about the history of business."

He proceeded to illustrate from his own experience. Until 1904 he was a newspaper reporter, but that year he took a job with the manufacturing concern of which he is now the head.

In 1907, when he was just beginning to get under way, along came a panic.

"We cleared away the wreckage and started again," he said, "but in 1910 there was a strike which tied up our plants, destroyed part of our property and disrupted our trade.

"Suddenly the war, and the slump was transformed into a boom! But don't imagine the boom was any panic. To be sure, the orders rolled in from every side, but prices of raw material sky-rocketed, our capital was limited, and I wore out my shoes and got grey headed borrowing money from one bank to pay back another.

"Then the war ended, and we took another awful beating in our inventory. Then the 1920-22 depression. Then another boom.

"And now this.

"It would be advantageous to my boy, I believe, if he were familiar with this sequence of events, if he knew the ups and downs not only of modern business, but of business thru the ages. Maybe he would come into life without the illusion which has handicapped so many of us—that there is any such thing as 'normal' in the sense of permanently settled conditions and uninterrupted progress."

I thought these were very wise remarks.

As far back as I can remember I have been hoping and planning for a time when I should be "comfortably fixed." At first I thought if I could accumulate $20,000 in good safe bonds I'd have an income of $1,000 a year and then I could look out with philosophic calm upon the foibles of the world.

The only progress I have made during the past three years has been in health. I try to ride horse-back more, swim more, play more golf, and keep generally tough and supple. I'm quite sure that as long as I live I shall have to keep hustling—that just about the time I get everything nicely fixed something will happen.
