Never before since the pioneer days of our forefathers has it been so necessary for co-operation between the members of any community. This is particularly true in Allegany County where so many residents of the county are engaged in the manufacture of products of which they themselves are such large users.

We refer to the oil industry. In normal times the Allegany County oil industry employs approximately 4,200 people, with an annual payroll of $6,250,000. Directly or indirectly, the oil industry here pays 50 per cent of Allegany County taxes. Whether you are directly connected with it or not, the Allegany County oil industry benefits you.

Whenever you buy oil or gasoline from any of the oil companies operating in Allegany County, your money stays in Allegany County and circulates here in the form of wages and taxes. Whenever you buy from an outside company your money goes hundreds—even thousands of miles away to some other community of which you may never have heard.

It is for this reason that the Sinclair Refining Company asks you for a generous share of your patronage in gasoline and oil. Sinclair is now using about 90 per cent of all the crude produced in Allegany County. Sinclair operates at Wellsville the world's largest refinery using Pennsylvania grade crude exclusively. And Sinclair is the only oil company which has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in magazines, newspapers and radio to promôte and malntain a market for Allegany County products.

Within the next few days you'll be needing gasoline and oil for your car. Give Allegany County a boost—give yourself a boost—buy with Sinclair!
