BRUCE BARTON

...writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE" Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

A LEADER OF MEN

In any crowd and under any circumstances the leader stands out.
By the power of his faith in himself he commands, and men instinctively obey.

This blazing conviction was the first and greatest element in the success of Jesus. The second was His wonderful power to pick men, and to recognize hidden capacities in them. It must have amazed Nicodemus when he learned the names of the 12 whom the young teacher had chosen to be His associates. What a list! Not a single well-known person on it. Nobody who had ever made a success of anything.

had ever made a success of anything.
A haphazard collection of fishermen and small-town business men and one tax-collector—a member of the most hated element in the community.
What a crowd!

Nowhere is there such a startling example of executive success as the way in which that organization was brought together. Take the tax collector, Matthew, as the most striking instance. His occupation carried a heavy weight of social ostracism, but it was profitable. He was probably well-to-do according to the simple standards of the neighborhood; certainly he was a busy man and not subject to impulsive action. His addition to the group of disciples is told in a single sentence:
"and as Jesus passed by, he called Matthew."
Amazing. No argument; no pleading. A smaller leader would have been compelled to set up the advantages of the opportunity. "Of course you are doing well where you are and making money," he might have said. "I can offer you as much as you are getting; in fact you may have some difficulty in making ends meet. But I think we are going to have an interesting time and shall probably accomplish a big work." Such a conversation would have been met with Matthew's reply that he would "have to think it over," and the world would never have heard his name.

Jesus had the born leader's gift for seeing powers in men of which they themselves were often almost unconscious. One day as he was coming into a certain town a tremendous crowd pressed around him.
There was a rich man named Zacchaeus in town; small in stature, but with such keen business ability that he had got himself generally disliked.
Being curious to see the distinguished visitor he had climbed up into a tree. Imagine his surprise when Jesus stopped under the tree and commanded him to come down, saying, "Today, I intend to eat at your house."

The crowd was stunned. Some of the bolder spirits took it upon themselves to tell Jesus of his social blunder. He couldn't afford to make the mistake of visiting Zacchaeus, they said. Their protests were without avail. They saw in Zacchaeus merely a dishonest Jew; Jesus saw in him a man of unusual generosity and a fine sense of justice, who needed only to have those qualities revealed by some one who understood.

So with Matthew—the crowd saw only a despised tax-gatherer. Jesus saw the potential writer of a book which will live forever.

worthwhile project. If you have no furniture to refinish come and watch

Don't You Believe It!

The good old Republican "ring" has thought of a lot of whispers which it regards as reasons why you shouldn't vote for F. Vanama Jones of Friendship for County Treasurer.

This is the same ring that has led the taxpayers to the brink of chaos. Unless you want to go right on over the brink, don't believe these smart politicians. Look into these things yourself.

Put the financial affairs of your County in the hands of a business man who will take orders only from you.
