October P. T. A.

There was an unusually large attendance at the Greenwood P. T. A. held last Thursday evening at the school building. The meeting opened with a Halloween entertainment furnished by the pupils of the third and fourth grades which was most pleasing.

Rev. Richard Lentz, pastor of the Christian Temple in Wellsville, was the speaker of the evening. His topic was "Co-operation with the Community." He said in part: "P. T. A. is really the community, a cross section of the community. Because of this it has many advantages. It catches the vision which is transmitted to other groups and individuals, therefore there is joint operation. There is a possibility of co-operating in too many places at one time. We should take on only co-operative enterprises that are in our own field; educational enterprise, fellowship project and enterprises of moral aspect. The organization must not depend entirely on vision or contacts—I must move. Everyone must work."

Greenwood people are always glad to listen to Rev. Lentz, who has spoken here on other occasions.
