Food Market Advice

Fresh and Salt Water Fish Plentiful
 The mackerel run is on, the lobster season has opened, fresh salmon and halibut are in market and year round varieties are plentiful and cheap. The oyster season has closed until September. From now on until the middle of June fresh lakefish should be plentiful as long as good fishing weather prevails. Perch, herring, yellow pickerel and trout are the outstanding varieties available this week.

Poultry and Lamb Good Values
 Poultry, and especially frying and broiling chickens are attractive in price this week. Lamb is still the best meat value. Veal is moderate in price and deserves greater popularity than it has. Prices on fresh pork are slightly lower but smoked pork is higher. Beef is very high.

Favorable Weather Increases Vegetable Supplies
 Fair mild weather is maturing spring vegetables so that they are pouring into market in quantities sufficient to make them very reasonable. Peas, green beans, tomatoes and asparagus are the outstanding values. Spinach is cheaper, various greens are plentiful and cheap and lower prices are looked for on both cabbage and onions. Carrots have been the most dependable and least fluctuating vegetable of the late winter and they are so young and sweet that too much cannot be said in their praise.

Peak Week for Strawberries
 Strawberries that last week were about 15 cents a pint now cost about the same a quart and they are ripe, red, sweet and fragrant. The short-cake can now be generously heaped with strawberries. Fresh pineapple and strawberry cup is another dish of the season.

The various citrus fruits are still plentiful though somewhat higher in price. Apples are higher.
 Here is a menu made up from seasonal foods which are moderate in price:
 Fresh Pineapple Cup
 Oven-boiled Chicken Gibley Gravy
 Mashed Potatoes Green Peas
 Tomato Salad Rolls and Butter
 Strawberry Shortcake
 Coffee.

Industry Good Customer of the Farmer
 The important part played by farm products in the manufacture of Ford cars and trucks was described recently by W. L. Yule, manager of the Buffalo Branch of the Ford Motor company, who estimated that the products to be consumed this year will include 500,000 bushels of corn, parts of 20,000 hogs and 30,000 cattle, 3,200,000 pounds of wool, 1,800,000 pounds of soy beans, 69,000,000 pounds of cotton and many others.
 "Some time ago Henry Ford said he was convinced that the basic materials used in motor car manufacture which then came from forest and mine could be secured out of yearly crops," said Mr. Yule. "That this prophecy was well founded is clearly indicated by a study of the various farm products that will be used in the schedule production of a million Ford cars and trucks this year."
 Mr. Yule pointed out that from corn comes butyl alcohol used for finishes and other purposes, and starch for stiffening cotton linings. Leather from cattle goes into upholstery, and in addition, glues are made from cow hide, and from cow's milk and other parts of cattle yield stearic acid, greases, glycerine and other by-products used in the manufacture of cars.
 Soy beans are an important part of the baked enamel finish of a Ford V18 and are used also in making cores for metal castings and plastic knobs and buttons in the interior of the car. Wool goes into upholstery, floor-coverings, lubricant and anti-rust preparations. Cotton is used in tires, batting, cloth, battery boxes, timing gears, brake linings, and safety glass.
 Other products involving farm activities which will be used are 2,400,000 pounds of linseed oil, 341,000 pounds of castor oil, 2,500,000 gallons of molasses.
 "Ford already has gone far enough to prove that industry can be a good customer of the farmer," he said.
