A FAIR WARNING

Can you believe that there are just four more weeks of school? It is hard to realize but, nevertheless, it is true. The fact that there is just a little more school makes me shudder for the most of us will have to get down to work. The few who have kept their work up all thru the school term will be glad to see the tests nearing so as to enjoy a nice vacation. But those who have not kept their work up will keep counting the days and dreading the tests as they come nearer. It is easy for a person to slide along thru the year, doing just as little studying as possible. In fact, it is so hard to avoid neglecting the studies, that there are very few who do. Most wait until the eleventh hour to learn the year's work, which usually causes a lot of stewing around and worrying. Every year about this time we resolve that things will be different next year—that we will start preparing for the tests at the first of the year. Getting down to my purpose, I want to warn you of the fact that there are only four weeks left and that a lot can be done in those four weeks if you keep up with your review lessons. Here's wishing you much success in your review lessons as well as your finals. —A.H.S.—

JUST ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY

Fellow students, we have just one more opportunity to obtain the needed work that we missed during the scholastic year. This opportunity is now, while we are reviewing for Regents. We no longer can afford to let days pass without preparing our lessons, if we expect to pass the final examinations in our subjects. We must not let anything stand in the way of studying, because after all, we have all summer for our pleasures. A very good system to follow is to make a definite place and time to study for each subject, and live up to this plan. Let's everyone take advantage of these last weeks of review and make our parents and the whole community proud of our school work this year. —A.H.S.—

There is also to be a grouped mass singing of all schools participating, conducted by one of the adjudicators. The required numbers are: "O, No, John," "Deep River," "Who Is Sylvia," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "The Voice of Praise," "God Ever Glorious." —A.H.S.—

GUESS WHO?

This person I'm about to describe can be found in the Senior home room. He has dark red hair, is tall and not very plump. He takes part in all the sports. He is well liked by both boys and girls. During opera rehearsal he was seen quite frequently with a Sophomore girl. He has a lot of pals including Red Alderson. Get your thinking caps on and guess who this is! Answer to last week's Guess Who—Oliver Kruger. —A.H.S.—

ANDOVER PLACES SECOND IN ALLEGANY COUNTY TRACK MEET

Andover High School, altho not deciding to have a track team until a week before the Allegany county track meet, placed second in the meet with 40 1/2 points while Wellsville was first with 70 1/2 points. Andover opened the day by taking the first three places in the broad jump when Don Lynch jumped 18 feet 2 inches. Bruce McGill 18 feet 1 1/2 inches and Red McAndrew 17 feet 7 inches. "Red" McAndrew won the high jump at 5 feet 4 inches and John Cannon was tied for fifth. In the afternoon Andover started off when Joe McAndrew won the 100 yard dash and was disqualified because he stepped out of his lane. Joe came back however to win the 220 yard dash. Don Lynch won the half mile, beating Dye of Wellsville by ten yards his time of 2 minutes 12 seconds. Donald Edwards took first place in the shot put with a heave of 34 feet 9 1/2 inches. He also took fourth place in the 440 yard dash. Farnham Pope took fifth in the mile and John Cannon took third place in the discus and Donald Lynch took fourth place. Andover took third place in the relay. Everyone who took first or second places will go to Rochester and there will be five from Andover. They are: Joe McAndrew, "Red" McAndrew, Donald Lynch, Bruce McGill and Donald Edwards. Only two county records were broken when Sutfin of Wellsville threw the javelin 157 feet. The other record was broken when Palmer of Belfast broke his own record when he went 10 feet 6 inches in the pole vault. —A.H.S.—

OPERETTA VERY SUCCESSFUL

The operetta, "And It Rained," which was presented last Wednesday and Thursday, May 8 and 9, at the Andover High School Auditorium, under direction of Miss Mary Jo Russ, was very successful. Due to unfavorable weather, the last evening of the operetta caused the attendance to be smaller than expected. From the five comments it proved that everyone liked this operetta very much. At the close of the operetta a bouquet of roses was presented to Miss Russ by Regina Lynch, in behalf of the principal characters, in appreciation for all the work Miss Russ has done to make the operetta a success. Approximately $30 was cleared on the production. —A.H.S.—

THE SPOTLIGHT !!!

Well, well, so Enola and Laura have finally "hooked" some Canisota fellows! Good luck, girls. Dottie C. and Gertie E. are visiting Hornell real often now. Tell us—what's the attraction? Hey, "Punk" isn't it about time you were ill? You know "Tish" is back in school. Kruger is getting friendly with Billy D. Can it really be serious? Oh, Carolyn, were you really thrilled Sunday night? I still can't see how Milton and Burrell survived. Now Mary McA., Enola won't stand this "stealing" stuff! Clyde, tsk, tsk! Leave the Alfred janes alone! You really can get someone very nice here. So Regina let you down Lloyd. Why, Fern, to whom were you writing the letter Tuesday? I bet it was to Everett, wasn't it? Hey, Tut, is New Hampshire south of Africa? If some of you don't understand, ask Tut. A new romance in bud! Is it Mead and Holroyd—I wonder! Well boys, Eddie A. and Howard McA. you really could have found a better night, don't you think? C. C. and B. K. really had a good time tho, so we hear. Did Mary McA. really lose her heart Sunday night? And did Wellsville claim it? By the looks of the tag on the package, Dick was found holding during the operetta, must be he is playing second fiddle to (??). Ask Dick. Maybe Jo B. can write poems, but she hasn't learned how to ride bicycles. And I heard Jean and Decatur were out Tuesday night—and with whom was Marilla? Not Wellsville, was it? Until next week. —THE SPOTLIGHT. —A.H.S.—

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

Eddie Brewster as a tight-rope walker. Eleanor Greene not going steady. Anna Dean not being able to dance. Don McNeil going out with June Babcock. "Doris Honegger getting low marks in school. Marion Swarts fat. Mary McAndrew staying home one night. Max Baker not drawing funny pictures. And everyone passing their final exams.

ANDOVER SUBDUES ANGELICA

Andover High School won its first league game in baseball Friday, May 10 at Andover, by defeating the Angelica High School team by the score of 9-4. Angelica scored the first run in the first inning and two more in the second inning. Andover didn't do any scoring until the third inning when she scored two runs. Angelica scored one in the fourth to make the score 4-2 at the end of the fourth.

Andover came to life in the last half of the fifth inning and with the help of a few hits and a few errors Andover was able to score six runs before being retired. "Red" McAndrew, Andover pitcher, bore down in the next two innings to hold the Angelica team scoreless. Andover added another run in the last half of the sixth and the game ended in Andover's favor 9 to 4. The Andover team looked much better in this game than they did against Canaseraga, which they lost Monday. They are now looking forward to a victory over Canaseraga Tuesday, a game which will mean a lot when it comes around to the time when the winner of the division in which Andover is, plays the winner of the other division in Allegany to decide which team goes to Rochester. —A.H.S.—

ANDOVER DEFEATS CANASERAGA 4 to 3

The fighting purple and white of Andover defeated Canaseraga at that place Tuesday, May 14th with a score of 4-3. The game was a very hard ball game and the last few innings were a pitched battle with Andover coming out on top. Andover went to bat in the first inning and didn't get any runs, but did with two men on base. Canaseraga then came to bat but Sicks, the leadoff man, drove out a nice clean home run. They were then retired. Andover came to bat in the second inning and got no runs while Canaseraga added another. It was the same for the third inning. In the fourth inning Briggs got a hit and stole second. He went to third on a grounder and finally scored the first run of the game for Andover. In the fifth inning Andover got three runs which brought the score to 3-3. Andover. Canaseraga didn't get anything again. The sixth inning was scoreless, while Canaseraga came close when Sicks again got a nice hit, but died on third, while the Andover team retired three men. The seventh inning was scoreless and Andover came home with a ball game. This is the first time Canaseraga has been defeated on the home diamond in three years. —A.H.S.—

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

From Selected Sources Cars entered in important speed-way races cost around $25,000. We have between 400,000 and 500,000 prisoners in the United States. At the present time there are more than 4,000 Kentucky colonels, including Mae West. The American flag is the third oldest of the national standards. The bill for $1,890.50 for the funeral expenses of President Garfield assassinated by Charles Guiteau has never been paid by the United States government. Nineteen American cities were windier in 1924 than Chicago, the "Windy City." The Postoffice Department profits something like $252,000 a year from money orders which are never cashed. There are supposed to be 24,550,570 radio sets in use in some 21,465,800 homes in this country. Eskimos pay the doctor as soon as he enters the house. The average man speaks in the course of a year 11,500,000 words.

AROUND A. H. S.

The Seventh Grade pupils are making wall hangings and pillows for their drawing work this week. The Fifth Grade has a new pupil, Miss Isabelle Hill. She formerly lived in West Virginia. The First Grade is having a daily news paper on the blackboard. The following story was written by Anna Hardy of the Sixth Grade: Lochinvar In a far off land there was a great knight. He lived in a great kingdom. His name was Lochinvar and he had started out to seek one whom he had loved for many a month. It did not matter how rough or dangerous the way was, he even had to cross the great swift Esko river. When he arrived where she lived he heard music and laughter. "What is this I hear, can it be that my beloved Ellen has denied me?" He soon found out. He boldly entered the great Netherby Hall and low, there were bridegroom, kinsmen, brothers and all. Suddenly the bride's father demanded, while he clutched his sword, "Oh, come ye in peace here, or come ye in war, or to dance at our bridal, young Lord Lochinvar!" The poor craven bridegroom which had consented to marry Ellen when Lochinvar interrupted, stood bewildered and said nothing. Lochinvar spoke to the bride's father, took a sip of wine and then danced a measure with Ellen. When they neared the hall door and the horse stood near, Lochinvar swung the fair Ellen into the croop and Lochinvar jumped to the saddle. Away they went while Lochinvar shouted in a ryming way: "She is mine we are gone, over anything in our path; They have to have the fleet steeds to catch us." By that time nothing was left of them but a dim rumble of horsehoof and a thick cloud of dust. No one ever saw or heard of them after that, but we can imagine that they lived happily ever after.—Anna Hardy.

Lochinvar

One day, long, long ago, a boy named Lochinvar rode out of the west. His horse was the fleetest, most beautiful horse in the country. He had once wooed the fair Ellen Netherby who lived in Scotland. She had promised to marry him. He had decided to go back and get her. So, after a long, tedious journey he reached Netherby Hall. But the handsome youth came too late for Ellen had promised to marry another man, a cowardly fellow. He left his horse standing near the door and walked in. He stopped surprised for the wedding was being held. The bride's father said "Have you come here in peace or come here in war, or to dance at our bridal, young Lochinvar?" Lochinvar answered "I came to see your daughter and to marry her, sir, but as she has betrayed me, I'll drink one cup of wine and dance one measure, then will I leave never to return again." The bride kissed a goblet and filled it with wine. The knight drank it, and taking her hand danced away with her. When they reached the hall door, he whispered to her "Come my love." Racing outside with her he swung her to the saddle and springing on before her they galloped away. The people rushed from the castle and ran after them, but they never were caught. And, as most stories end, they lived happily ever after.—Regina Anne Richardson. —A.H.S.—

HUMOR

Joe McAndrew: "I say, Dad, we gave a wonderful show at school. Lots of parents came, and the some of them had seen it before, they all had a fine time." Father: "How do you know?" J. M.: "Why, they laughed all thru the play." Father: "And what was the play?" J. M.: "Hamlet."

Minister (at baptism of Johnny Cannon): "His name, please." Mrs. Cannon: "John Lawrence Amos Cannon."

Minister (to assistant): "A little more water, please." Kenneth Vars: "I hope you don't think I am conceited," as he told Dorothy Fosner all about himself. Dorothy Fosner: "Oh, no, but I'm just wondering how you can keep from giving three hearty cheers whenever you look at yourself in the glass."

M. Ianson: "I envy the man who sang the tenor solo." O. Greene: "Really? I thought he had a very poor voice." M. Ianson: "So did I, but just think of his nerve."
