What power! And yet, according to word trick ling into the Capital from various parts of the state, Chairman Eaton may have a bit of timble winning. another term of office. The "incip ient booms" are not quite "quash ed" There are a great many Republicans who believe that the state! chairmanchip should cease to be the plaything of millionaires and be. turned over to some member of the l party who realizes that the creed which killed G. O. P. chances in New York State must be changed if the party is to come back. Mr. Eaton has given no indication yet that Old Guard policies are a thing of the past in his mind and in the conduct of the campaign which he is leading. Those close to the situation are convinced that Chairman Eaton thru unless, by some miracle, the Republicans regain control of the next assembly. His most likely successor seems to be State Senator Joe R. Hanley, of Wyoming county. O course the senator is not a wealth; man, but the regimes of the very rich W. Kingsland Macy and Melvin . Eaton have not been crowned with major success. Another veteran Republican legislator, Assemblyman Fred L. Porter of Essex county has announced that he will not seek re-election. Mr.
