It takes a bit o' trouble now an' then To help us learn the ways o' life, I guess; A spell o' cloudy weather teaches men To understand what brings 'em happiness. No person ever yet has seen it rain Without the sunshine comin' later on; But some folks get the notion grief an' pain

Seems like there's plenty more o' cheer than care For them that keep their spirits brave an' true; Seems like the days 're mostly bright an' fair, An' clouds don't often cover all the blue! An' so, a bit o' trouble now an' then

Are here t' stay, an' every joy is gone.
