Special News

The morning worship of Sunday, October 6th will be rich in memor- ies. Grandfather's family carried their dinners to church and ate with the rest of the congregation after the morning service. It was a real journey from home to church and back again. You are urged to bring the whole family to this service. Dinner arrangements will be an- nounced later. Special music, the old hymns, a lesson from the "good old Book," and fellowship will be the order of this old fashioned day. Mark the day on your calendar (October 6), plan to bring the fam- ily, sit in the old family pew, come—for "auld lang syne."

A study conducted by the Engin- eering Foundation and Personal Re- search Foundation shows that the morale of men in their thirties has been hardest hit among the unem- ployed.
