"OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS"

There is an opportunity for all who can to make their career a successful one. Opportunity may be "around the corner," but if we do not go around the corner to meet it, it will never come to us, unless someone does not wish to see us "down and out."

We can make the most of our opportunities by doing our work well. It may seem to some of us that we leave one task unfinished to take up another. Today it is difficult for everyone to find good positions and only those who make an effort to do their work well and "stick to it" will get the positions. If we gain our goal, we will have to grasp each opportunity to do our work with speed and accuracy.

Opportunity is knocking for those who are listening now, and for those who will do their best, once they have acquired a position to keep it.

CONTEST WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

The fourth grade won the attendance banner for the month of September in the lower six grades and the seventh grade won the banner in the upper six grades.

This is the result of a championship attendance contest started the first of September to see which high school home room or grade would get the highest percentage of attendance.

The reward for this is a brinner which is hung on the door so that all pupils will know who won.

The winners are decided by the use of the following table of demerits:

| | |
|--|----|
| Each continuous period of legal absence | 10 |
| Each legal tardiness | 10 |
| Each illegal half day absence | 20 |
| Each illegal tardiness | 20 |
| Each incomplete half day (pupil excused) | 10 |
| The sum of demerits is divided by the number of pupils in the room and the grade with the lowest number of demerits is the winner. | |

GRADE ASSEMBLY HELD

Mrs. Alice Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Archie Bloss, favored the grade pupils with several violin selections at the grade assembly held Friday afternoon, Sept. 20.

Miss Leona Marsh, the Andover school musical directress, had charge of the program. She presented a trio of fifth grade girls who sang the "Cobbler Song" and "Old Faithful." Donald Reisman sang two songs, the third and fourth grades also singing two group songs.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Tin cans for the preservation of foods were first made by hand by tinsmiths, one worker turning out only six cans a day.

The only farm on Manhattan Island (N.Y.) has but five acres, yet is valued at $400,000.

It costs the taxpayers of the United States approximately two billion dollars a year to provide public school facilities for their 30 million boys and girls.

Since 1920 there have been over 15,000 bank failures in this country. Ice cream is among the leaders as a heat producing food.

Since its completion in 1927 over 85,000,000 vehicles have passed thru the Holland Tunnel in New York. The north star is brighter than the sun.

The printed English Bible will be 400 years old on October 4.

Negroes of the South consider alligator tail one of the best foods.

According to League of Nations figures, the nations of the world spent over $4,900,000,000 in gold for armaments last year.

ACROSS THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

With the prevalence of diphtheria in some of our surrounding communities, it would seem most important to take steps that will prevent an outbreak of this disease in Andover, particularly among the school children.

At the present time doctors generally agree that cases of diphtheria among children need not occur if proper steps for producing immunity are taken. A treatment known as the toxoid treatment can be given which will produce immunity. This toxoid treatment is an improved method of the toxin-antitoxin treatment that was given to school children here a few years ago.

The treatment consists of two skin injections given one week apart. No serious results will occur and it may be the means of saving a life.

With the approval of the health officer these tests and treatments will be given upon written consent of the parents. The tests will be administered by Dr. S. B. Scott, assisted by school physician, Dr. H. J. Leahy.

Proper forms and further information will be distributed to parents before any definite action is begun. Pupils who previously received the toxin-antitoxin probably are still immune, but all others should receive the improved toxoid treatment, particularly the younger children in the first three or four grades should be tested, since these pupils entered school after the toxin-antitoxin treatments were given. However, the treatment will in no way be made compulsory.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

Coach William McGee announced that basketball practice would start this week. The home team is looking forward to the optimistic prospect of Andover High School winning first place in the league this year. The rival teams in the league will be from the Angelica, Fillmore, Friendship, Belmont and Cuba high schools.

Only two new men will be on the A. H. S. team, as eight of the men on last year's team have returned. Each man is capable of holding down his respective position with sufficient work. Altho Coach McGee made it clear that all positions were "wide open" for the best men.

John Cannon or Donald Lynch will be ready to fill the position of center, held last year by Howard McAndrew. The eight regular men are Edwin Kemp, Raymond Briggs, John Alderson, Bruce McGill, John Cannon, Donald Joyce, Donald Lynch and Leo Fulkerson.

The girls will probably not begin their basketball practice until next month. In spite of the fact they have lost a good point maker in Anna Dean, the return of several of the members of the regular team bids fair to make their season a successful one.

!! The Spotlight !!

Whats this I hear about the renewed Millsbaugh-Woodruff romance? It's nice to have a driver's license, isn't it, Billy?

And who did I see walking down the street with Eddie Alderson the other night but Ruth Farwell. It couldn't be another renewed romance!

So Enola has a new boy friend? This time it's from Bolivar. Well, you might as well try out all the towns, Enola!

Our new-comer, Ruth Ianson, is sure getting a rush. After all, boys, you can't all expect to get a break.

These Friday night dances are bad for you, Mary Spicer. You didn't by any chance fall for the sax player, did you?

And Rita Burns seems to have taken a sudden interest in baseball games. It couldn't be the pitcher! How do you like staying in Wellsville, Lee? After all, Wellsville isn't so far from Belmont.

And we see that Frankie Witter is now escorting a girl friend to and from school. Nice going, Frankie! I hear that a great time was had at the Freshman weiner roast—especially walking to and from it.

Too bad a certain bunch of fellows didn't get anything to eat at the party Tuesday night. Maybe it will be a lesson to them.

Why did Charlotte Cook have to move her seat in the fifth period study hall. Learn not to whisper, Charlotte.

Did Ray Briggs take Laura B. home from the Sophomore party? Ray won't tell and Laura just blushes when asked.

Joe said he had a great time Friday night. From where I was it certainly looked good.

Eddie Kemp turned green when he saw D. F. cut walking with another young man Monday night. Take it cool, Eddie!

A. H. S. girls are certainly getting a break this year, thanks to Antan.

Wonder why McGill has that stary look in his eye when he gazes at June B.? Maybe it's love.

John Cannon pulled another fast one when he took Ida Mae H. home from the Sophomore party. You old flirt, John!

Joe McAndrew says that he is going to have a swell time tonight (Thursday). We certainly hope so.

Did Charlotte have a good time in the Plymouth Tuesday night. Probably, because she usually does.

Maybe Phil L. has found out by now not to throw sugar everywhere he sees some.

So long until next week.

THE SPOTLIGHT.

WISER SAYINGS BY FAMOUS PEOPLE

Joe McAndrew—"We're the boys who fear no noise."

John Cannon—"Me and Einstein."

Eddie Kemp—"Aw, now, Joe."

Don Lynch—"I sure would like to get something tonight."

Leo Fulkerson—"Baer's the best man."

Eddie Alderson—"Watch this."

Charlotte Cook—"Oh, yeah."

Bea Kruger—"Be seein' you Jimmy."

Marjorie Nevol—"I've got a date tonight."

FRENCH PHONETICS HELP WIN FIGHT

Friday the French I. Class held a French spell down. Mademoiselle Marie McAndrew and Monsieur Orville Mesler were the captains. Monsieur Mesler's side was victorious because his side misspelled the least words.

His score was four and one-half. Mademoiselle McAndrew's side scored eight.

KERNEL WHEAT HAS THRILLING ADVENTURES

As I remember when I first came into being, I was a kernel of wheat, which belonged to a man by the name of Edwin Kemp, who owned a wheat farm in North Dakota.

It was early in the spring when Eddie was planting wheat that I became embedded in a dark loam soil with many other kernels. Here I was left to grow into a stalk of wheat. It was a long season to wait for me to grow up large enough to be useful, as explained by an older brother who was in the field opposite me.

I enjoyed the long wait in the summer's heat, but much to my surprise when August came, also harvesting came. When I saw the large machines coming into the fields (which I had learned in my schooling would cut the stalks of wheat down) I was very much afraid because I thought it meant the end of my life. I was soon to learn that I had an eventful life before me. I was separated from the stalk by the act of threshing, then I was stored in a large grain elevator which was located near a railroad on Eddie's farm. With many other brothers and sisters I was taken to the flour mill of Franklin Witter, who ground us into white flour.

We were then sold to a local grocery store, owned by Beatrice Kruger. Beatrice, of course, declared a sale on flour and William Woodruff who was a stingy old bachelor bought a half sack in which I was living. I wanted to save every penny he could. The cost of the sack of flour in which I lived was 85 cents. Billy took me home and his housekeeper, Virginia Smith, who was deaf, made a batch of bread. Into this bread I was put. It was much warmer in the oven than out in the sun, and I was relieved to be removed from that terrible den.

Mr. Woodruff decided to entertain some friends and serve a luncheon. I was made into sandwiches with peanut butter filling and thus my life came to an end.

I was devoured by the very honorable guest, Mr. Host, who suffered with indigestion from eating peanut butter. He decided that eating out had bad effects on his digestive system and that "Home Sweet Home" would be his slogan, from then on there he would forever remain.

SUPPOSIN'

Marjorie Nevol didn't bump into James Lynch every time she saw him?

Fern didn't have a cud of gum in her mouth?

Charley Spicer wasn't the freshman pest?

Johnny Cannon learned how to use a comb.

Carolyn Dolan wasn't in a hurry?

Louis Fulkerson wasn't a woman hater?

Phil Lynch was a cartoonist?

Orpha Greene was noisy?

Louise Dodge was a giant?

Gerald Dolan grew up?

Donald Joyce didn't have to sit up front with the "Freshies" third period?

"Jo" Baker wasn't noisy?

Henry Antan could box like Joe Lewis?

Dorothy Nobles liked physical education?

Edna Joyce didn't giggle?

The Freshmen didn't look up words in the dictionary?

HUMOR

Teacher: "Give an animal in South America."
Pupil: "Anti Heater."

Sales Talk in English Class
"Bea" Kruger: "Why don't you use Pond's facial cream?"
"Don" Joyce: "It makes my whiskers too soft."

Back in the days when the Frosh were eighth graders, they were learning the poem "Old Ironsides." One pupil wrote the lines:
"And many an eye has danced to see
That banner in the sky."
Thus:
"And Minnie and I have danced to see,
That banner in the sky."

BOE ZECKELY COLUMN

Dear Boe Zeckely:
I am a Senior in high school and have fallen very hard for a Sophomore girl, but she doesn't recognize any of my attentions. Will you please tell me how to get her interested in me?
—D. E.

Dear D. E.:
I would suggest in your case staying away from this girl for a while, and pretend she doesn't exist. You will find that absence makes the heart grow fonder.
