Start The New Year Right!

WHEN bells are booming, strains shrieking, whistles tooting and general bedlam seems to have broken loose at midnight of December thirty-first, everyone will be wishing everyone else "A Happy New Year!" And there's one infallible way of making it at least start to come true, and that's by beginning the New Year right. The way is to give a New Year's party to as many guests as you want. We can't make any suggestions about the number, but we have some ideas about the foods to serve. Here's the menu for a delicious dinner for eight people.

Deviled Ham Eggs
Cream of Asparagus Soup
Toast Sticks
Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Baked Chicken and Mushrooms
Ice Cream
Banana Cake with Pineapple Filling
Mints
Liqueur
Deviled Ham Eggs: Hard cook eight eggs, peel them, cut them in halves and remove and wash yolks. Add to mashed yolks two tablespoons melted butter and one tablespoon lemon juice and season to taste with salt, pepper, paprika and a few grains mustard. Add two tablespoons mayonnaise and the contents of a 2 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, and mix thoroughly. Refill the whites with this mixture, then press the two halves together and wrap in waxed paper.

Cream of Asparagus Soup: Cut off the tips of the asparagus from one tall can, and set aside as a garnish. Turn the rest of the asparagus, cut fine, and the liquor from the can into a saucepan, add one quart soup stock, and boil ten minutes. Press through a sieve. Sauté two tablespoons chopped sweet red pepper in four tablespoons butter, add four tablespoons flour, and stir until thickened and smooth. Then add the asparagus and stock liquor, stirring constantly until smooth and creamy. Add one-half cup cream, season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg and serve.

Baked Chicken and Mushrooms: Make a white sauce of four table spoons butter, four tablespoons cream, salt, pepper and light cream, stir, and add one-half cup cream, season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg and serve.

A Cake to Croon Over
Banana Cake with Pineapple Filling: Cream two-thirds cup butter and two-thirds cup sugar, and add two well-beaten eggs. Add one and three-fourths cup mashed bananas. Sift together two cups pastry flour, three teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and add alternately with one-half cup milk. Add one teaspoon vanilla, and bake in two layers in a 375-degree oven for from twenty to twenty-five minutes. When cool, spread the following pineapple filling between the layers, and cover top and sides with white icing.

Pineapple Filling: Boil slowly together until thick, one cup of crushed pineapple, two tablespoons butter and two-thirds cup sugar. Cool.

Yeah, Why?

A young wife, wishing to impress a friend in a distant city of the coming of the first baby, sent a telegram more or less cryptic in character. It consisted of a single word and two numerals as follows:

"Isaiah 9:6."

The scripture reads like this:

"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given.

The friend, not being very conversant with the Bible, said to her husband: "Margaret evidently has a boy who weighs nine pounds and six ounces, but why on earth did they name him Isaiah?"

Set Her Right

City Girl: "And I suppose at dusk when the sun is stealing over the Rockies in purple splendor, you cowboys are huddled around the campfire broiling venison and listening to the weird, eerie, unnatural howlings of the coyotes."

Rattlesnake Gus: "Well, ma'am, not ezactly. Usually we go inside and listen to Amos and Andy."

A farmer, visiting his son at the university, took the boy downtown to have his photograph taken. The photographer suggested that the son stand with his hand on his father's shoulder.

"It would be more appropriate," remarked the father, "if he stood with his hand in my pocket."

Glory!

Son: "Mother, what's the idea of making me sleep up here every night?"

Mother: "Hush, Junior dear, you only have to sleep on the mantelpiece two more months and then your picture will be in a 'Believe-It-Or-Not' cartoon."

The Water Test

He (twice nicked by razor): "Hey barber, gimme a glass of water."

Barber: "Whassa matter, hair in your mouth?"

He: "Naw, just want to see if my neck leaks."

Wrong Again

Three shop girls were enjoying a selection by the orchestra.

"Isn't it divine! Wonder what they're playing?" said Madge.

"It's the sextette from 'Lucia,'" announced Tillie positively.

"No, it's 'Tales from Hoffman,'" persisted Annabelle.

"I think that you are both wrong; but there's a card up there—I'll go

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

DO you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, loss of energy, leg pains, swellings and puffiness under the eyes? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.
