FAMOUS MUSICIAN'S BIRTHDAY

What is Bach other than a name to most people?
Johann Sebastian Bach, one of the world's most famous musicians, was born March 21, 1685. He was the son of Johann Ambrosia who died when Johann Sebastian was only ten years old. Johann then went to live with his brother who taught him the clavier, which is the keyboard of the piano, or a similar instrument.

Bach was later elected cantor of the St. Thomas School at Leipzig. He was known as an organist but not as a composer, altho he had already written some of his greatest organ works and some cantatas.

Bach was the inventor of a lute-clavier, a five stringed instrument held like a violin, which ranged between the violin and the cello.

Bach's eyesight, which he had always abused was failing, rapidly and he submitted to an operation in January, 1750. This operation left him blind.

His eyesight returned for a short time and at last he was able to see his wife, Anna Wilcken. Ten days after regaining his eyesight he died. This was July 28, 1750.

Bach was buried in the Johanness-hucke yard with no memorial to mark the spot. In 1894, the old church was demolished and Bach's skeleton was identified, and was placed beneath the altar of the reconstructed church.

Bach ended an epoch and in his day was neither understood or his accomplishments appreciated. Even his sons regarded his works as old-fashioned and belonging to the past.

Robert Schumann became a Bach disciple and in his music journal urged the publication of Bach's works to mark the centenary of his birth. The first volume was published in 1831.

Thru the indefatigable efforts of a few, the greatest music genius the world has known has been immortalized.—Ida Claire

ACROSS THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

I am expressing a hope that all of the good readers of this column and others too, will support the St. Patrick's Day card party, the proceeds of which will start a fund for the establishment of a dental clinic in Andover. I hope too, that there will be a considerable number of citizens interested enough in this project so that the fund may be continued and a dental clinic held yearly for pupils who could not receive treatment otherwise.

Our medical examination showed many pupils in need of dental care whose parents cannot afford the full cost of dental treatment. Such cases should not be left until extractions are necessary. A small amount of timely dental work will save much suffering and expense later. Here is an opportunity for a real community service to our young people.

Before closing, may I say a word about the Father and Son banquet which is held tonight. Such an event is worthy of high praise in any community and is an important factor in the building of good character.

I hope every high school boy can be there with his father, and if some of these boys' fathers can't go, why doesn't each of us men who don't have sons, adopt one of them for the occasion?

BRAIN BUSTER

This week's Brain Buster was submitted by Donald Joyce.

A certain man wrote his name and address as follows:
WOOD
NEW YORK

What is the man's name and his address?
Answer to last week's Brain Buster:

The big darkey was the little darkey's mother.
Correct answers were submitted by Betty Greene, Coretha Mead and Donald Hardy.

Our national forest preserve in the continental United States is over 140,000,000 acres.

ANDOVER ENDS SEASON WITH 46-18 VICTORY OVER BELMONT

Andover High School ended their basketball season for the year 1936-37 in the A. H. S. gym Tuesday evening by trouncing Belmont 46-18. The game marks the last scheduled game of the season and probably the last that some of the boys will play for Andover High School.

Andover got away to a slow beginning as the game started, to give Belmont its only lead of the evening.

Andover did not trail for long as Leo Fulkerson, the high man of the evening, and Bruce McGill, the other high scoring threat, dropped continuous points to roll the local five in front. Despite many scoring opportunities Andover failed to be in front of the visiting purple and gold when the first quarter ended, as the score read Belmont 8, Andover 5.

The second quarter showed a decisive change in the scoring of the two teams, as Andover rang the bell for 16 points while Belmont was held to two tallies. McGill and Fulkerson were again keymen in the offensive drive, while Ray Briggs, Edwin Kemp, Donald Joyce and Cleon Pease deserve much credit in defensive status. The half ended with the purple and whites in the lead 21-10.

Andover's terrific offensive drive, which started the second quarter, was continued as the opening gun started the second half and the Andover boys tossed the cowhide thru the irons to run up a decisive lead. As the game progressed in the third quarter, R. Briggs and E. Kemp were dismissed by the four-foul rule. This blow did not hinder the local quintet, as Belmont was held to one field goal in the last quarter, while Andover swished the net for 15 points. These points told the score board to read 46-18 as the final whistle sounded.

For the visiting county eaters, George and Knapp showed themselves outstanding, making 6 points and 5 respectively, to lead their teammates in scoring.

In a preliminary contest, an undecided victory was established when the game ended in an 8-8 tie. An overtime period failed to better either Andover seconds or Belmont seconds.

PLAY DAY ENJOYED

Girls' Play Day, with girls from Alfred, Almond, Wellsville, Whitesville and Andover attending, was thoroughly enjoyed in the Andover High School gymnasium Saturday p. m., Feb. 27th.

As each group entered the gym, they were cordially made welcome by the Reception committee, Charlotte Cook, Josephine Butler, Laura Backus and Jean Millspaugh, and were given programs stating the afternoon events and containing a colored ribbon which signified the team on which they would participate.

At 1:30 p. m., the girls were called on the floor and were divided into four teams, the yellow (the winner), blue, green and red.

The Green team—Joyce Johnson, Bunny Webster, Wellsville; Minnie Mosher, Meredith Ewell, Almond; Gertrude Teater, Adeline Densmore, Whitesville; Edith Wilcox, Eloise Bassett, Alfred; Margaret Joyce, Mary Green, Andover.

The Red team—Betty Jane Williams, Joanne Fitch, Wellsville; Mary Harding, Norma Reynolds, Almond; Ruth Cornell, Betty Wyant, Whitesville; Sarah Rice, Velma Cornes, Alfred; Bernice Cooper, Bernadine Briggs, Andover.

The Blue team—Marie Henry, Emma Reamer, Wellsville; Charlotte Perry, Viola Northrup, Almond; Evelyn Richmond, Delores Moore, Whitesville; Sophia Perry, Mildred Vars, Alfred; Josephine Baker, Jessie Burger, Andover.

The coaches who accompanied the girls were: Robert Howe, Alfred; William S. Todd, Almond; George Burdick and Prin. Forrest Pratt, Whitesville; Miss E. J. Fanning, Wellsville.

The program was as follows:
Basketball, 1:30—with Beatrice Kruger, Ida Mae Howland acting as referees and Marian Swartz, Mary Teresa Burns, scorekeepers.

Volleyball, 2:30—Ida Mae Howland and Beatrice Kruger, scorekeepers.

Shuffleboard—Fotney Karcanes presiding, with the scorecard, and table-tennis, Maxine Crandall keeping score, were played by those who were not playing basketball, volleyball, Hilda Clarke and Doris Honegger kept an accurate account of the scores of each team and game on a large score sheet.

Refreshments, 3:30, (and did they do justice to those refreshments!), Delores Farwell, Veronica Lynch, Coretha Mead, formed the refreshment committee.

Helen Dean, Mary Green and Regina Lynch were responsible for the general program.

Dancing, 4 o'clock.

Each of the participants may be heartily congratulated on the willing spirit with which she co-operated to help her team win. Each was as enthusiastic as the other, thus causing a friendly feeling thruout the afternoon.

At 3:30 all were ready for the plenty of good food which was passed, the coaches too! That "pinched" feeling around the belt was soon lost after having danced the floor twice to the tune of "Rhythm is Our Business." The girls danced from 4 p. m. until 5, and then "homeward plodded their weary ways," happy in the thought of having made new friends.

GENIUS IN EMBRYO

The English II pupils have written some very clever poems, that really deserve printing. As we are unable to print them all, we have chosen a few of the best "authors," poems, Charlotte Coryell wrote the following:

My Wish
I'd like to go sailing
Upon the ocean wave,
And come to some lone island
Where I could find a cave.
There I would a great life live
As all I'd do would be to fish
And pan for gold with the biggest sieve
Until I had my wish.

In the following poem, Don Oakes gives a picturesque scene of the study hall, but, of course, it is exaggerated.

The Study Hall
The study hall is the worst place
That I have ever seen;
Someone is always throwing stuff
To hit you on the "bean."

The teacher that is put in charge
Has eyes that are so keen,
But there are things that go on there
That she has never seen.

Kansas supplies more volcanic ash used for abrasives, scouring powder and soaps, than any other state—and never had a volcano.

A. H. S. PANTHERS OVERWHELM ALFRED

Andover High School won its 12th game of the season here Thursday night by overwhelming an outclassed Alfred team 39-20.

The home team took an early lead on baskets made by Briggs and Fulkerson and the result was never in doubt. Alfred made a game rally in the last quarter against the local reserves, as they counted eleven points to more than double their previous score.

R. Briggs and Fulkerson led the Andover scoring while Stillman was the visitors' star.

In an exciting preliminary game, the Andover second team scored six points in an overtime period to defeat the Alfred five 13-7. Dolan and Hardy played well for the purpose.

GRADE NEWS

The Second Grade has an addition of two pupils—Kenneth Shimwell and Eleanor Murray.

The Fourth Grade welcomes Walter Shimwell and Carlton Ordway into their room.

Argene Shimwell is a new pupil in the Fifth Grade.

The Sixth Grade pupils are working out some motifs in the form of all-over patterns to be submitted to the Women's Home Companion fabric contest.

Question: Who has patriotism?
Answer: The A. H. S. Eighth Grade.

There is no question about that answer. A very picturesque display of patriotism is found in many small fabric flags on exhibition in the eighth grade room. These flags are duplicate copies made by the pupils of all the flags that have been raised on some occasion in the United States.

This fine display certainly shows a true sense of patriotism. A. H. S. congratulates the Eighth Graders.

PRIZES OF $50 TO BE AWARDED—ALSO SCHOLARSHIPS

The scholastic contest prizes are indeed worth working for. The first prizes range from $25 to $35 and some as high as $50. There are several second prizes of $25, $15 and $10 and also a great many third prizes of $5 each to be awarded.

These prizes are awarded for biographical essays, short stories and poetry. There are also prizes for material in design and mechanical drawing, among them several scholarships to art schools and universities.

All entries for this contest must be presented to Miss Day by March 9th for correction and approval.

For further details see the Oct. 3, 1936 issue of the Scholastic.

Let's put A. H. S. on the map and win a little personal and school glory.

LIBRARY NEWS

Who Will Win?
The Library Council has been divided into two teams, with Marion Swartz as captain of one team and Charlotte Cook captain of the other.

At present Charlotte Cook's team has done the most work—mending the dates on the photoboard covers of the magazines. They were made by Regina Lynch.

For the benefit of those Seniors who are planning to attend college in the near future, and who wish to glance thru the college bulletins, the council members have carefully arranged these catalogues in alphabetical order. Any effort on the part of those who do use these bulletins, to keep them orderly, would be greatly appreciated.

Book reports are always coming due, and it would be advisable for high school students to take a look at the number of interesting books which can be found in the school library before definitely deciding which to read, and then read some of them ahead of time. There is a much better chance of getting the book one wants that way.
