HOW, WHAT AND WHY?

Special to the Andover News

The Andover News has arranged with the Office of Information of the New York State Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics to answer questions about problems of farm and home. If you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope and mention the name of this paper, you will receive a direct reply to your query from the colleges. Do not ask more than one question in one letter or on one postcard. Ask as many questions as you like, but make each one a separate communication.

Safe to Plant?

L. B. writes: "I have been growing snap beans and green peas for several years and have had quite a bit of the farm planted to peas and beans for two years.

"Do you think it is safe to plant beans or peas on the same ground again?"

Professor Charles Chupp of the plant pathology department answers: "It is, of course, dangerous to grow beans or peas year after year on the same ground. Alternating peas and beans will help, for most of the diseases that affect beans do not attack peas.

"If you can then plant corn in intervening years, it will help still more, for corn resists all diseases that attack peas and beans.

"It is also true that, if you have no diseases on these crops, you can grow them year after year on the same ground. But it is difficult to know whether disease was present in large enough amounts the year before to cause an epidemic the next year if weather conditions favor an outbreak. For this reason, a three-year rotation is recommended on a given piece of ground, one year for peas, one for beans, and the third for corn."

Using Phosphate

K. L. F. inquires about the best way to use phosphate, "under the seed or on top of the ground?"

Professor E. Van Alstine of the agronomy department replies: "Best results on the crop immediately following the use of fertilizer comes when the fertilizer is applied in narrow bands one on each side of the row at a distance of about two and one-half or three inches at the side and a little below the seed.

"For best results on an entire rotation of crops, broadcast the superphosphate; if that is being used over the entire area.

"More information is enclosed in extension leaflet 7."

County Garden Club Exhibits at Wellsville

Twenty-four classes of competition have been arranged for the June flower show of the Allegany County Garden Club, which will take place in the David A. Howe public library at Wellsville on June 15 and 16, it was announced this week.

The show is open to all amateurs, but exhibitors are limited to one entry in each class. Except in artistic arrangement classes, flowers must be grown by exhibitors.

Judges will make first, second and third awards. Exhibits will be received at the library between 9 and 11 a. m. of the opening day. The show opens to the public at 2 p. m., and runs until 10 p. m. The hours of the exhibit the second day are 2 to 5 p. m.

Not Driving

Bernard E. Sprague, Cuba, Kenneth Bailey, Wellsville and Albert M. Link of Angelica had their licenses revoked by the Commission this week, the first two for driving while intoxicated and the latter for leaving the scene of an accident.

Arthur L. Hardy of Bolivar, Leslie E. Gorton of Alma and Charles S. Allen of Wellsville had their licenses suspended for reckless driving. Frederick J. Knowlton, Wellsville, license suspended for leaving the scene of an accident.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove poisons that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be sagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder trouble may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. The Doan's Pills, Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
