The Andover Exchange over Pond.

Considerable interest manifested the past week in considering the erection of a building to take the place of that which went out of the "Lake Minerva" building. These later years as the pond. Even splashy events written and published in town newspapers, purporting to extol the glory of Andover Pond. There is no denying that this ideal spot has grown as a fine resort. It made a grand place for the summer cottages, a ground pleasure resort with bathing, skiing, could be enjoyed by our young and old. All of these are today unavailable for people unless they are able to get to a suitable number of our old friends tell you that they have been visiting their youth haunts and skating up at the "Lake Minerva". There is no reason except of energy and a small...

cash, why such a pleasure again come to Andover would be a place where could go and have a most time. But left as it is, place will soon become nuisance, breeding mosquito, smelling to heaven from water.

At the last regular meeting of the Andover Exchange matter was brought up discussed. It was then referred to a committee for reports and recommendations. The committee held a meeting and following report to the control of the regular meeting Thursday. This publish herewith: Report of Projects Co. To construct a concrete base six feet wide; arched two feet and nine inches dam four feet wide at the one foot wide at the top and one-half feet high approximately 55 cubic yards of concrete which would cost about $550; to this amount...

The Railroads Coming

Yes, the railroads are coming to life again; as a fact we call your attention to the display advertisement of Erie railroad in this issue. Must be they did not read, and are now putting reconstruction act. It's probably better late than never years ago, when the "the Fords go by," their hands in holy horror exclaimed: "We are dead people have killed us." They have acted their part perfectly. Immediately suspended all advertisements, took many trains off the road so people to buy automobiles wanted to go anywhere. Had the railroads a...
