HOW, WHAT AND WHY?

Special to the Andover News The Andover News has arranged with the Office of Information of the New York State Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics to answer questions about problems of farm and home. If you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope and mention the name of this paper, you will receive a direct reply to your query from the colleges. Do not ask more than one question in one letter or on one postcard. Ask as many questions as you like, but make each one a separate communication. Burn Weeds? B. B. S. asks: "Is there any use in burning weeds that have gone to seed?" A. J. Pratt of the department of vegetable crops answers: "There is little use in burning weeds that have gone to seed. By the time the weeds are dry enough to burn, the seeds have mostly fallen to the ground and are not killed by the fire, which, however, does destroy the humus in the leaves and stems of the weeds. "A crop of weeds that has gone to seed may be mowed and removed to a compost pile of decay. The ground may then be harrowed to start germination of many seeds of weeds so they will be killed by further harrowings or by winter; or the weeds may be disced down and the tops allowed to decay on the field where the seeds start to germinate." What Kind of Light? P. L. asks: "What kind of light is satisfactory to use in the poultry house to produce more eggs at this season?" Professor L. M. Hurd of the poultry department replies: "Any source of light is satisfactory. Electricity, natural or artificial gas and kerosene or gasoline lanterns have been used, but electricity is the ideal kind of light since it requires little labor, the fire hazard is reduced, and it is easily controlled by automatic switches. "If electricity is used, the lamps should be six feet from the floor and have reflectors 16 inches in diameter, conical in shape, and four inches high. Arrangement of lamps will depend largely on the system of feeding."

LITTLE BITS OF HUMOR

Mother: "Now, Janey, be a nice girl and give your little brother part of your apple." Janey: "Not me, mother. That's what my Sunday school teacher said Eve did. And you know how she's been criticized ever since." The teacher had been giving a lesson on modern inventions to his class. "Can any of you boys," he said, "tell me of anything of importance which did not exist fifty years ago?" "Me!" exclaimed one of them. "I'm thru with that girl." "Why?" "Well, she asked me if I danced." "But what's the matter with that?" "Why, I was dancing with her at the time." Friend: "What do you consider the greatest poem ever written?" Poet: "It isn't written yet. I'm just putting the finishing touches on it." Butcher: "I can't extend you any further credit. Your bill now is twice as big as it should be." Customer: "I know it. Well just make it out for the amount it should be and I'll pay you." Dignity is what we all think we have until the boss says: "What's the meaning of this?"

Sentinels of Health Don't Neglect Them! Nature demands the kidneys to do a strenuous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of urinating is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, ringing up nights, swelling, painless urination under the eye—fret, tired, nervous, all wrong. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval.
