Local Happenings

Mrs. William Bines has been ill several days at her home in Railroad Valley. The W. C. T. U. will hold their picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thorne this Friday afternoon.

A. O. Kemp is displaying King evaporators at the Angelica fair this week. The Atwood block in Andover, formerly occupied by Harry Dreas is receiving a fresh coat of paint.

Arthur J. Peck, former vice principal of Addison High School, has been engaged as the new principal at the Almond High School. Work on the new county court house is progressing rapidly.

The evening division of the King's Daughters of the Presbyterian church was entertained by the Misses Helen and Emma Folsing at their home, Monday night.

Mrs. Leona Marsh Scott, music teacher in Andover High School for the past three years, has opened a private studio for voice and piano at Portville.

Mrs. Carrie Boyd entertained the Zipper Pinochle Club and the C.P.C. Club at her home Monday evening. The evening was passed with cards and a lunch following.

About 30 friends and neighbors gave Supervisor E. A. Mullen a surprise Tuesday night in honor of his birthday. Cards and a fine luncheon were enjoyed and a gift presented Mr. Mullen.

The village of Canisteo has purchased a boat to be used in future flood emergencies. The boat which is a 16-foot craft with a 52 inch beam, has been placed in the Canisteo fire hall.

Mrs. Albert Rogers entertained the Gay Luncheon Club at her home Tuesday afternoon with a delicious lunch followed by cards. Mrs. Edith Richmond won high score and Mrs. Hazel Jones low.

The proposal to provide free text books for the pupils of Almond High School was defeated 113 to 25, at a special school meeting held Monday. It is said the proposal would raise the tax rate 15 per cent.

Laurence Todd of Portville, A. C. Shaner and Eugene Richardson of Bolivar are suffering bad burns, caused by gas pocket explosions while drilling in the sand at Bolivar. The gas caught from the forge.

The surprise party and luncheon given Mrs. Rodney Robinson at their cabin by Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. George Robinson of Alfred was a very pleasant occasion. Fourteen was the number of ladies present who made a real "shower" of lovely gifts.

About 140 Florida winter visitors registered at the eighth annual picnic of the Florida-Sagamore Society held at Sagamore lodge last Thursday. Visitors were from Olean, Fillmore, Rossburg, Cananda, Angelica, Andover, Cuba, Hammondsport, Allentown, Bolivar, Richburg, Campbell, Belfast and Wellsville.

The Three Links Club met at the home of Mrs. Clara Hann Tuesday afternoon for their August meeting. At the business meeting they made plans for a fair and supper to be held in September. Work was given out to the members. The hostess served light refreshments. She was assisted by Mrs. Nora Higby and Mrs. Laura Witter. There was a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick and family have moved from the Horan house on Chestnut Street to Belmont. Andover I. O. O. F. Lodge conferred the second degree on a class of four candidates at their regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Pardon and the late William Pardon, formerly of East Valley, was born in Andover, April 29, 1898 and died at her home, 229 Lafayette Avenue, Buffalo, August 23, 1937, after several weeks illness. Her funeral took place Friday morning at the Church of the Annunciation, her pastor, Monsignor Richard O'Brien and his assistants celebrating requiem high mass, with the Rev. Joseph McDonald in the sanctuary. Surviving are her husband, William J. White; a son, William Pardon White; her mother, Mrs. Mary B. Pardon and three sisters, Mrs. Howard Payne and Miss Evelyn Pardon of Albany and Mrs. Joseph Ballanca of Rochester.

WASTINGS

from "Wandering Willie"

THE LEGION celebration certainly gained as it went along, from a very short parade last Tuesday to one of the biggest line-ups the boys have ever been able to collect rolled up the streets Friday.

WHILE we're talking about parades we think the Legion boys and others should send Wellsville's five fire departments a vote of thanks for the fine support they gave.

Out of the five departments there were just four (4) men in the Andover parade. And they had to come without apparatus of any kind. When Wellsville has a doings of any kind the first place they hit for to get support or help or solicitations is good old Andover, but they seem to forget their nearest neighbor when Andover asks a favor. We would like to have some Wellsville citizen explain why we are the proverbial "goat."

We think that the four Wellsville boys who did come up on "their own" in uniform, and marched in the parade should be thanked especially for their help.

AND—best "Goat" of the week!

THE ONLY Long Lake calamity to occur, happened this week when R. E. decided to come back to the home town—and at the same time Mrs. R. E. started out to bring him home from camp. Anyhow like ships in the night they passed somewhere on the road and at the present writing we don't know who is to blame.

IT WAS brought to our attention by a railroad man of long service that we were all wet about those lights that Johnny missed being green. The fellow said that the rear lights on a train are always red unless there is another section following, and that we must have been color-blind. We admit we never paid much attention to the tail lights of any train, Fred, as we were always more interested in the headlight—so we'll take your word for it—They're red.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

By R. C. Oertel, Manager, Aviation Division, Sales Department Colonial Esso Marketers

LIEUTENANT BENJAMIN S. KELSEY had special reason to allow his thoughts to wander back to his home at Wright Field, Dayton, during a busy mid-winter flight over Ohio in his twin-motored army bomber.

Safe delivery of a precious shipment—a shiny new electric train—meant happiness in the Kelsey home that night. His son had reached the "I-want-to-be-an-engineer" stage, and Dad was bringing home his boy's ideal in miniature railroading.

The plane was casting a shadow across the State Capitol at Columbus when Lieutenant Kelsey, still 70 miles from Dayton, discovered the left wing a flame. He had no time to think quickly, and he did.

A bit later an army bomber with a tail of smoke came to a stop at Wright Field Airport—attaches rushed across the field with fire extinguishers. The fire, which had been caused by the exhaust, was soon extinguished.

Officials gathered to question the pilot. Some wondered why he hadn't abandoned ship. Others asked why he hadn't headed for Columbus airport. They pointed out that he carried no mail nor important government messages. At this point Lieutenant Kelsey exhibited a 107 train road engineer that night.
