A DISH FOR THE WEEK

Fresh corn suggests many appetizing dishes. Some of these sound modern, while others, such as corn and ham Indian Style, are reminders that this vegetable is a native American that dates back many generations.

Corn and Ham Indian Style
 1 cup of ground cooked ham
 2 1/2 cups of corn
 1/2 teaspoon of mustard
 1/2 teaspoon of pepper
 1/2 teaspoon of paprika
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup of milk

Mix the ham with the corn, seasoning, beaten eggs and milk. Pour this mixture into a greased shallow pan set in another pan containing water as high or higher than the contents of the first pan. Bake in the oven at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 45 minutes.

The New York State College of Home Economics suggests the following menu: Corn and ham, Indian style, sliced tomato salad with French dressing, bread and butter, pineapple cream sherbet and small wafers, milk at least for the children, and iced coffee or tea for grownups.

Uncle Ab says that with all its faults the auto isn't bothered by horse-fies.

AROUND OUR HOUSE

CLOTHING FOR YOUNGSTERS

Children who are from six months to two years of age are most satisfied with clothing that neither retards nor interferes with their growing activities, says the New York State College of Home Economics.

Dresses or suits of material and design that permit free play on the floor and out-of-doors should be provided. At about nine months of age, most children, if given the opportunity, begin to creep or to crawl on the floor.

If the floors are cold, the youngster may wear extra padded panties when he sits or begins to crawl. These may be made from several thicknesses of outing flannel or old underwear, or from the quilted muslin used for mattress pads. A French-pantie pattern may be used and the panties may be finished around the top with a wide elastic. The legs may be bound with bias tape, or finished with a blanket stitch.

Corduroy overalls also appeal to a child beginning to explore. His mother need not be concerned about what may happen to his clothes, if he is dressed in such an outfit.

At this period, also, children begin to discriminate between textures, to recognize colors, and often to prefer certain garments. "Kitty hoods" and angora bands on knitted sweaters or mittens may connote happy associations with toys or pets. Children also should be

LITTLE BITS OF HUMOR

The Conflagration
 Newly Wed Husband: "So we only have one course, cheese, dinner today. How does that happen?"
 Wife: "Yes, dear, when the chops caught fire the flames spread to the dessert. Then I had to use the soup to put it out."

Hard to Answer
 "Look at the homes that liquor has wrecked," shouted the temperance lecturer.
 "Yes, but jush look at the ships water hash wrecked," replied the drunk in the back of the hall.

Running Overtime
 "And now before I close, I shall quote from the immortal Webster," declared the political speaker.
 "Let's get out, he's now going to start on the dictionary," whispered one member in the back of the hall to a companion.

All or Nothing
 The suitor appeared before the grizzled mountaineer and asked, "Sir I've come to ask for your daughter's hand."
 "Can't allow sech a thing," was the old gent's reply. "You take the whole gal or nothin'."

Method in His Madness
 The story is told of a hard-boiled Irish boss and a gang of ditch diggers. Not satisfied with the progress they were making he yelled:
 "All of yez git out," then his gang clambered out of the ditch.
 "Now all of yez git back in," he ordered. When they were back in the ditch he ordered again: "All of yez git out."
 This was repeated several times before anyone got up enough courage to ask the reason for this unusual procedure.
 "Well," was his explanation, "it seems to me ye take more dirt out on your boots than ye do on yer shovels."

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of excess poisons. The job of the kidneys is to filter out the waste matter that may cause body-wide ailments. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is a possibility of serious trouble. One may suffer nagging headaches, persistent backache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder trouble.

The recognized and proper treatment is a drastic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. DOAN'S PILLS. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by thousands of doctors. Sold at all drug stores.
