Motorists Are Cautioned Against Monoxide Gas

Christmas Tree.

Motor Vehicle Bureau Issues Suggestions on the Subject to Aid in Safer Winter Driving.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 20.-Urging motorists to take proper precaution against carbon monoxide gas, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Chas. A. Harnett today issued the following suggestions on the subject as an aid to safer winter driving: Drive with at least one window partially open for proper ven-

Be sure all apertures in the floor boards are closed. 4. Inspect the exhaust system of your car periodically. 5. If you suffer from drowsiness, headache, slight dizziness or nausea, leave your car immediately and walk in the fresh air. "The average motorist," Mr. Harnett declared, "when reminded the dangers of carbon monoxide gas is inclined to scoff and say that he never starts his car with the garage doors closed. It is true that a great occur in this manner, but many drivers fail to consider the numerous accidents taking place on the! open highway because of carbor monoxide poisoning."

The Commissioner then cited instances of automobile accidents directly traceable to split mufflers, leaky exhaust gaskets and loose floor boards which permitted the deadly' gas to seep into the interior of the car and cause the driver to loose

"At the first sign of drowsiness, headache, dizziness, smarting of the eyes, or nausea, the driver should stop his car and get into the fresh air and remain there until he has fully recovered. A sleepy or sick driver is never a safe driver."
