Local Happenings

Mrs. P. M. Swink had the misfortune to fall on the icy walk Monday evening, breaking her wrist.

Mrs. C. R. McGill is hostess for the card party to be held Tuesday, Jan. 31st, at the Catholic Club house.

The local A & P store has this week installed a modern refrigerator and cooling plant for their meats and perishables.

The L. L. Bridge Club met with Mrs. Wm. Woodruff Monday evening. Those receiving high honors were Mrs. C. R. McGill and Mrs. A. Bloss.

The M. E. Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday, Feb. 1st at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Ida Brewster at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Hynd on Rochambeau avenue.

Letchworth Park has just completed a new ski run of about one mile in length. This indicates that there will be extensive winter sports held in that vicinity when the proper amount of snowfall makes skiing possible.

Mrs. Louise Jobson received the announcement of the marriage of her daughter Kellie Heyd of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Carolyn Jeffrey Moore, which took place Friday, January 13, 1939 at the Washington Memorial chapel, Valley Forge, Pa.

William Cartwright, who resides in the village of Richford and owns an untenanted farm nearby, was much surprised last week upon a visit to the farm to find that a 30 x 60 foot barn had been removed. Several prints of truck tires were all that was found on the barn site.

As a result of the worst day for automobile drivers seen this year, several resulted but one accident in the county reported by the State Police. The accident occurred on the Bolivar-Wellsville road. Mrs. M. Covert of Smethport and Wm. Melow of Belmont are being cared for at Jones Memorial hospital in Wellsville, the result of a head on collision caused by icy roads. There were, however, a number of minor accidents caused by weather conditions.

Baker's Hardware News

Large shipment of Fiesta Ware received this week. Come in and look it over while the assortment is complete. Remember, the 10% discount still applies!

GRAY LAWN

Is a real house killer and a great one to every one who keeps livestock.

Many dairymen around Andover are using this house killer and they love and appreciate its value. However, we want every last stock owner in this whole section to try Gray Lawn, so for the remainder of January we offer the large can which regularly sells at $1.00 for 89¢ only one to a customer.

TILITY CABINETS

In two convenient sizes—neat looking—easy to clean—strong heavy steel, built to give long service. Just the thing to solve your storage problem economically. See them in our last window. The prices are $5.49 and $8.79.

RY-FED COWS

Need extra attention to keep them healthy and up to full production. Kow Mare should be a part of the winter diet in every dairy. It regulates digestion so that feed is not simply run thru but is perfectly assimilated with no waste.

Kow Kare is a concentrated product, just a little does the work and the large package is now selling at 60¢.

Mrs. Eda Sheppard of Alfred is reported very ill at this writing.

The management of the Friendship Hotel was taken over last week by Leroy Seeley and E. M. Potter of Bolivar.

The Friendly Class of the M. E. church will meet Tuesday, Jan. 31 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Burgett at 7:30 p. m.

Statistics show the sum of $32,000,000 a year expended by the farmers of the United States for telephone service.

Mrs. Wilma Krusen of Andover is listed among those admitted to the Jones Memorial hospital in Wellsville, Wednesday.

A coincident is running thru the papers of a theatre in Marvin, Ind., which burned to the ground, while showing the picture "Too Hot to Handle."

A gas well with a flow reported at 13,900,000 cubic feet, brought in last Friday on the Frank Boyd property near Cameron is seen as the possible start of extensive developments in a new gas field.

Little Miss Ruth Bly, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bly of Genesee, Pa., is suffering from a fractured skull, received when a truck hit her as she slid from the back on a milk truck on which she was riding.

A State road truck loaded with sand skidded on the ice and overturned near the site of the Alfred-Almond centralized school Monday. Charles Kittel of Hornell, while pinned under the truck was not seriously injured.

Announcement was made last Friday of the suspending of publication of the Pictorial Review magazine, one of the nine publications of Hearst Magazines, Inc. The pictorial has been a popular fashion magazine for many years.

The Women's Mission Circle of the Baptist church held their meeting with Mrs. Hattie Eggleston Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance. The study was on "Indian Schools and Missionary Work in the West." A very interesting letter from Miss Eva Sheppard was read and White Cross work done.

Mable Chandler of Wellsville, 10 years of age, was injured while riding down hill this week. She was riding down the driveway of her residence on N. Broad street when her sled ran into the car operated by Lawrence O'Connor. Taken to the Jones Memorial hospital she was found to be suffering from lacerations of the face and possible hip fracture.

Relatives and friends gave Mrs. James McAndrew a variety shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Guinn, Thursday evening. The evening was passed with cards with high honors going to Mrs. Anna Harvey, Mrs. Edward Walsh and Mrs. John C. Baker. Mrs. McAndrew received many lovely gifts. Lunch was served by the sponsors, Mrs. James Guinn of Wellsville and Mrs. E. A. Mullen. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James McAndrew and Mrs. Anna Harvey. There were 40 present.

Wastings From WANDERING WILLIE

WE'RE about as lax in this column for the past number of weeks as Marshall is in his "Grief" which evidently died some time ago as we haven't seen a word in the Wells-ville Democrat of Carl's lurid lines since Hannah died.

WELL, first off, after watching the ladies and girls strut their stuff at the fire hall in rehearsing for the minstrel show, we have made up our mind that we will take the said show in (perhaps both nights). They are certainly "go in" to town with their dances and all the trimmings. And the end boys don't seem to be doing so bad either. We were talking to Freddie Potter about his angle of the whole show and he predicts that "it oughta be swell." So we'll take Fred's word for it and let the director put the finishing touches to it and then go find out what it's all about.

OH, yes, before we forget it, or rather before everybody else does, that "small boy" we were talking about some time ago to take down the Wellsville-Hornell sign showed up, and not only took down the sign in question but about half a dozen other ones that were in as bad shape as the one discussed. And now traffic going east is sure that it is not going west, or vice versa.

SOME time ago a resident inquired why this column didn't run sort of an autobiography of some of our real "old timers" now living, just to bring back the days of yore when Andover Main street was ten feet wide and paved with good gooey mud, and the boys stood on the edge of the mud and chewed real he-man tobacco and swapped horses, pigs, corn or whatever they had up their on the farm.

If we happen to run across some good ancient history in this line we are sure it would interest the rest of you folks as much as some of the yarns we've heard about our earlier residents, back in the 60's or thereabouts, when Andover was just a spot down between the hills. We know that it would make some of the older boys and girls feel rather spruce again just to roll back the years for a few lines.

WHILE we're on the subject of years, we print the following list of weather data copied from the wall of Ed Langworthy's garage, evidently put down on the spur of the moment by some of the "Langworthy boys" while toasting their toes by Ed's old round oak. The dates were not exactly in order, but just jotted down according to the writer's height or shortness, and if there was a space not occupied it was filled by someone several years later, making the entire list rather mixed up. But here is the whole thing as it goes down the wall in chalk. If there are any mistakes or omissions you folks who put it there will have to argue it out:

April 9, 1938—10 in. snow.
Feb. 8, 1934—23 below.
Feb. 9, 1934—36 to 43 below.
Oct. 15, 1933—first snow.

Alfred Interscholastic Meet Discontinued

Alfred University has discontinued its policy of holding invitation interscholastic track and field meets every spring, in line with a new policy of the New York State Department of Physical Education, it has been announced by Athletic Director James A. McLane.

The annual track and field tests, which have been held early in May for more than 25 years, were called off because the Alfred meet does not meet the approval of the new state athletic policy, which calls for "direct control and supervision of all high school athletics by the boards of education of the schools involved."

One of the oldest festivals of its kind in the state, the Alfred Interscholastic Meet "has always been run in a satisfactory manner," Ellis H. Champlin, chief of the Bureau of Physical Education, told Director McLane in a recent letter, but the new state ruling bans all such meets.

Annually some 300 athletes for 30 schools have been entered in the Alfred meet. Union-Endicott high school of Endicott won the last meet in 1938.

Daniel Sparler, senior from Harmon-on-Hudson, was slated to manage the 1939 interscholastics, and he will assist with varsity and freshman track managing to earn his varsity letter, Coach McLane said.

Nov. 16, 1933—20 below.
Oct. 17, 1931—snow.
Feb. 10, 1932—40 above, thunderstorm.
Aug. 30, 1934—26 degrees, some freeze.
Sept. 28, 1932—first snow.
Oct. 9, 1935—snow.
April 20, 1926—10 degrees above, 6 months, 10 days winter.
May 8, 1926—snow.
May 23, 1926—snow.
April 29, 1928—12 in. snow.
Sept. 24, 1928—first snow.
Oct. 4, 1929—16 degrees above.
Oct. 10, 1929—16 above.

WITH the ice on Main street as bad as it has been for the last week or so all the local boys operating cars on said street should remember that old saying that: "a cow on a curve on a calf." Keep your eye on curve isn't half so dangerous as a the road!
